AN ECONOMICAL CONGRESS.

The session of Congress which has just terminated, is remarkable as having inaugurated a new era in the history of our Federal legislation...

Another such session as that which has just closed and the lobby system in Congress is annihilated...

The causes of this wonderful and most desirable change were manifold...

The new hall of the House of Representatives was so devised as to shut out all outsiders from personal communication with the members...

Hon. J. G. Jones, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means.

The malicious assaults and studied misrepresentation in which the Press has indulged its spleen against the above named gentleman...

As an evidence of the recklessness with which Mr. Jones was assailed for want of capacity to fill his present position...

FROM WASHINGTON.

[Correspondence of the Bedford Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 16, 1858.

Upon a critical examination of the Crittenden-Montgomery bill for the admission of Kansas as a State into this Union...

"Whereas the people of the Territory of Kansas did, by a convention of delegates called and assembled at Leecompton on the 4th day of September, 1857, for that purpose, form for themselves a constitution and State government...

Now by turning to the President's message it will be seen, that after giving a truthful and unvarnished history of affairs in Kansas down to the formation of the Leecompton constitution...

"The people of Kansas have, then, in their own way," and in strict accordance with the organic act, framed a constitution and State government...

The President declares that the people of Kansas did "in their own way" form "for themselves" a constitution republican in form...

As I predicted in one of my letters the opposition have always opened up the campaign in Pennsylvania with the cry of "protection."

I hope I will be pardoned for referring to the disgusting subject of Kansas, and if it can be avoided I will not again do so.

I understand these old protectionists, held a grand meeting in Philadelphia on Tuesday night and had addresses from a number of broken down old opponents of the Democratic party.

Mr. Buchanan and the members of his Cabinet were at the Capitol during the last hours of the session.

The bill to establish a Territorial Government in Arizona was postponed till the next session of Congress.

The city has been full of rumors relative to a reconstruction of the Cabinet, but they are entirely without foundation.

Mr. Schell, as collector, and Mr. Saunders, as assayer, of New York, have been confirmed by the Senate.

The following confirmations have also been made by the Senate:

Joseph R. Chandler, of Pennsylvania, Minister to Naples, Charles R. Bucklew, of Pennsylvania, to Ecuador, John P. Stockton, of New Jersey, Minister to Rome, E. V. Fair, of Alabama, Minister to Belgium, B. C. Tawney, of Georgia, Minister to the Argentine Republic, Joseph A. Wright, of Indiana, Minister to Prussia.

The first session of the thirty-fifth Congress closed last Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The closing scene was remarkable for good order and friendly feeling.

In an article upon the close of the session the Washington Union truthfully says:

"The Thirty-fifth Congress has been one of the most eventful in our history. It opened in the midst of a fearful and long-standing domestic controversy in respect to the organization of a State government in Kansas...

The administration recommended the adoption of measures which it was believed would end in an early pacification of the actual troubles existing in Kansas...

The people of Utah combined, under the lead of mischievous men, to throw off their obligations to the constitution...

These are amongst the prominent events of the session which has just closed.

We are rejoiced to be able to announce that the adjournment yesterday was marked by an excellent temper on the part of members...

A New Bird and Game Law.

The Legislature of last winter passed a law for the better preservation of game and insectivorous birds.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person within this Commonwealth to shoot, kill, or in any way trap or destroy any blue-bird, swallow, martin, or other insectivorous bird...

Sec. 2. That from and after the passage of this act, no person shall shoot, kill, or otherwise destroy any pheasant between the first day of January and the first day of September...

Sec. 3. That no person shall buy or cause to be bought, or carry out of this State, for the purpose of supplying any private house or market, any pheasant, partridge, woodcock or rabbit...

Sec. 4. That no person shall, at any time, wilfully destroy the eggs or nests of any birds mentioned in the different sections of this act...

Sec. 5. That the possession of any person, in this Commonwealth, of any of the game and birds mentioned in the different sections of this act, shot, killed, or otherwise destroyed out of season as aforesaid...

Sec. 6. That any person offending against any of the provisions of this act, and being thereof convicted before any aid-man or justice of the peace aforesaid...

Sec. 7. That any act or acts conflicting with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

meation giving me the result, as it would appear to be, of the shooting scrape by which Lane has involved himself...

Lane's wound is not of a very serious nature, I judge, from the fact that he is walking about the city, nominally under arrest...

The Lane and Jenkins Affair. From the St. Louis Democrat of June 8.

The fact that Gains Jenkins, of Lawrence, was killed by James H. Lane, on Friday last, has already been reported by the telegraph...

There was a dispute between Lane and Jenkins concerning a valuable land claim, lying in close proximity to Lawrence...

As Jenkins fell, one of his friends fired three times at Gen. Lane, one ball missing him, another grazing his forehead...

It is proper to state, that Gen. Lane claims that he was fully justified in shooting down his Adjutant General—

The feeling against Lane was general throughout the Territory.

Last reports indicate that there was some talk of lynching Lane, but it is hardly probable that this will be done.

Can't swallow it. The new party manufacturers do not seem to meet with much success in their patriotic efforts to mould and shape all the heterogeneous issues into one harmonious whole...
