FOR GOVERNOR

HENRY D. FOSTER,

OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVEN-TION.

Want of space precludes us from referring at ceedings of the Convention, we refer our readers to another column.

Our visit to Reading.

For once in our life, we have been in the we must say something about it. Reading is a city of about 25,000 inhabitants. Its streets sual happy and pleasing manner. are wide, clean and regular, being sloped gradually from Penn's Mount, to the river Schuyl- cumstances, and the prospects bid fair to meet kill, so as to secure a good drainage; its buil- even the most sanguine expectations of its wardings are handsome and imposing, its citizens, mostly of German origin, plain, honest and of our county, and allow Bedford township, warm-hearted; its landlords liberal in their Middle and South Woodberry, East Providence, charges, whilst at the same time, their fare is St. Clair and some other townships to lead. excellent; its lager and ale unsurpassed; and Though most of the schools of the county, have its damsels-heaven smile on them !- fair, plump, amiable, and, to single men, no doubt, make its school a model for the whole counvery enticing. We were so taken up with the ty. proceedings of the Convention, that we did not see as much of Reading as we desired. We, however, did see some things. We saw the wild woman and other women not so wildwe saw Lauer's Artesian Well, now 2000 feet deep-we paid a visit to the white house situated on a high hill South East of the city, and from its balcony thousands of feet above the Schuylkill, beheld the capital of Berks stretching before us, with its steeples and furnacestacks, its rolling-mills and cotton mills, while the smoke curling upward from its factories, showed that the prosperity of the city was fast reviving, owing to that prudence and economy which need no protective tariffs to make them thrive. The Mineral Springs, lying in a vale fore, surrounded by high hills and towering forests, also received us, and we have a grateful recollection of the ham and waffles, the chickens sausages and wine, dispensed by the pleasant landlady. We would fain say more, but we feel that no man who has not seen more of Reading than we, can do the subject justice. One peculiarity of the people of Reading, however, we must not fail to mention, viz: their entire freedom from dyspepsia, attributable, we bonestly believe, to the goodness of their beer and the cleverness of the landlords who deal it out. For instance, at Columbia Hall, one of the "peculiar institutions" of Reading, you sip your beer to the tune of a band of excellent musicians who nightly discourse most delightful music, being hired for that purpose by the proprietor. We also had the pleasure of making the ac- IMMENSE GATHERING OF THE PEOPLE! quaintance of the "Adler" a most gallant Democratic bird-long and high may be soar !-but were disappointed in not meeting our brother of the "Gazette and Democrat," on whom we called twice. This much for Reading-may she long remain, as she now is, the reigning belle among the inland cities of Pennsylvania.

False Reports.

Some of the Opposition newspapers publish telegraphic accounts of the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention, in which Messrs. Cessna and Schell, of this county, are represented as assailing the National Administration. We know these accounts to be false, having been present at the sittings of the Convention and having heard every word uttered there by our delegates. Messrs. Cessna and Schell have always been friends of the Administration, and in the late Convention they labored side by side for the unity and harmony of the party. Bedford county was ably and truly represented in the Convention and she will sustain the Democratic majority in October.

Let us guard against their tricks. We have seats. 100 clear majority in Bedford township, and therefore are entitled to the offices. Come out, then, one and all of you, and vote the ticket, the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket.

OUR COMMON SCHOOLS.

THE UNION SCHOOL-HOUSE OF BEDFORD .-The school is now open for the short term of wo months. , This is by permission of a special act of Assembly. The house itself is a model one. In its construction and adaptation, there appears to be a union of several of the latest and more approved plans, which are admirably adapted to the purposes at a graded school. Both in its external and internal structure, these plans appear to be so happily united as to produce a pleasing effect upon the eye, and be satisfying to the taste of the stranger. No pains have been spared by the Directors, to have every thing in and about the house, adapted to the length to the proceedings of the Democratic health, convenience, comfort and improvement of the pupils. The school opened on the 6th State Convention, which assembled at Reading of last month, under the superintendendency of on the 29th ultimo. We can only say to our a gentleman lately from Lancaster county, a readers that it was the largest, as it was the graduate of the Millerstown Normal school, most harmonious, Convention ever held in who came well recommended as a teacher of the Pennsylvania, and that the platform adopted first class. He is assisted by three young ladies of our town known as teachers in our schools and the nomination made, will be endorsed by for several years past. It may be possible that an overwhelming majority of the voters of the the Directors will be obliged to add one or two state in October next. We are now, thank more teachers to the number already employed, God! a united Democracy, and the "clouds that in order to give the proper time and attention lowered upon our house are in the deep bosom to the large number of classes that will necesof the ocean buried."
