What is the cause?

A few months ago the prospect of a speedy restoration of the former financial prosperity of the' country, seemed fair indeed. An abundant harvest had just been gathered, manufactures again began to flourish, and every department of business once more resumed an aspect of activity and prosperity. The last ped out in front." faint trace of the great panic of 1857, had passed away, and we were about to emerge once more from the clouds and darkness of the much-bewildered "Hard Times." Commerce between the North and the South suddenly ceased, as if palsied by some unseen and supernatural power. As an inevitable consequence, thousands of mechanics, operatives and laboring men in the North, have been thrown out of employment, without any means of maintaining themselves and their families through the winter near at hand, whilst those who are in less dependent circumstances, are again reduced to the straits and difficulties undergone during the pressure of 1857 and 1858. From the Harrisburg State Sentinel of the 24th inst. The following letter signed James Redpath, Secretary, was recently received by Governor Packer, inviting him to participate in the proposed meeting at Tremont Temple, in Boston, on the anniversary of the execution of John Brown. Governor Packer promptly returned the invitation, with the subjoined reply, written on a blank page of Mr. Redpath's letter :

"Honest Old Abe !"

The only reply that our poor "Republican" brethren can make when it is charged upon them that the election of their candidate for the Presidency has caused the present financial panic, is that Mr. Lincoln is not yet in power. Very well, Messrs. Republicans, if be is not in power, his platform is. Mr. Lincoln was elected upon the principle of hostility to the "peculiar institutions" of the South, avowing himself "in favor of putting slavery in the course of ultimate extinction," saying that he "hated slavery almost as much as any Abolitionist," and declaring that "this Union cannot continue to endure permanently half free and half slave." This is the gist of the policy which the North has just endorsed, and by endorsing which, has well nigh driven the Slave States out of the Union and has certainly brought upon us severe commercial and pecuniary distress. The South takes this for granted as Lincoln's future policy. His partizans insisted during the campaign, that he was a peculiarly "honest" man, and the South takes them at their word, and believes that he was "honest" Anti-slavery doctrines ?
