The Release of Mason and Slidell.

Our readers will be astounded to hear that the resell Commissioners, Mason and SLIDELL, recently arrested on board the British Steamer Trent, by Capt. Wilkes, of the U. S. ship San Jacinto, and lodged in Fort Warren, by direction of the Secretary of State, have been re eased on demand of the government of Great Britain. We must confess that we feel that our nation is humbled and disgraced by this slavish obedience to the insolent demand of our afficient enemy, the more so because the whele North responded in shouts of approbation to the act of Capt. Wilkes, and Congress and the Administration itself, had given it a quisi, if not a direct, approval, The recognition of the Southern Confederacy ammediately after the battle of Bull Run, would not have been a more stinging shame than this cowering before the British tion. But our country-sad is the tale to :ell-has been brought to such a condition that our great men at Washington seem to think that we are unable to "cope with so formidable an adversary." The surrender of Mason and Slidell may be for the best, so far as the present interests of the Government are concerned, but the great Future will look back and behold a dark stain upon the escutcheon of America, which the blood of millions may be ent to erase. It was the motto of our fathers, "Death before dishonor," and we are unworthy of the Liberty and the glorious names they bequeathed us, if we are unwilling cribe the same sentiment upon our ban-

CONTINENTAL MONTHLY .- We are in receipt of the January number of this new candidate for public favor, and find it full of interest for the general as well as the literary reader. We serve contributions to this number from the best writers in the country. The CONTINUNTAL is under the editorial management of Mr. Chas. G. LELAND, ("Mace Sloper") one of the finest cholars and most genial bumorists in America. We can recommend every thing contained in the pages of this book, except its political articles which are devoted to the inculcation of the "emancipation" idea. | Emancipate yourself of that one sin, Mr. Sloper, and we are with you. The price of the Continental is $3, 2 copies for $5, 3 copies for $6. Address J. R. Gilmore. 110 Tremont st., Boston, G. P. Putnam, 532 Broadway, New York, or T. B. Peterson and Bros., 306 Chestnut st., Philadelphia.

THE KNICKERBOCKER, - This well established and popular periodical enters upon the new year with brighter promise than ever before. Such writers as R. B. Kimball, author of "St. Leger," Charles G. Leland and F. W. Shelton, contrib ule to its pages regularly, and the Editor's Table, as usual, is laden with good things. We can recommend the Knickerbocker as a genial, interesting and inte R. Gilmore, New York city.

UNITED STATES HOTEL, PHILADELPHIA .-This excellent Hotel, now under the proprie torship and management of Cor. H. W. KANAas, formerly of Harrisburg, has reduced its fare to $1 25 cents per day, and is now the cheapest place of the kind in the city. The accom-modations afforded by this hotel, are just as good as those of the higher priced hotels, whilst its proximity to the passenger station of the Penn'a. R. R. and the business part of the city, renders it a favorable stopping place for visitors from this section of the country. Col. Kanaga is one of the cleverest of hosts, and leaves nothing undone to make his guests comfortable. We advise our triends visiting Philadelphia, to give bim a call.

THE CARRIER.

"The Devill"
Your eyes amazed, bewildered spy;
Tis I, the imp begrimed and sooty,
(Not horned Nick, or split hoofed Clootie,)
Who brings you weekly to your door,
The news sent by the printer noor.
Through me you've learned the past year's tale,
What bapp'd on mountain or in vale,
What came to pass in town and city,
To stiryour wrath, or move your pity,
How statesmen fools, and party hacks
At Freedom's tree laid slavey's axe,
How politicians planned and plotted,
Like knaves, or idiots besotted,
Each hopeful plan of compromise,
To break up, or to neutralise;
How bold sectssion stalked abroad,
Fearless of Governmental rod,
How smarter fell and Northmen rose,
And brothers named each other foes,
How rod-browed War his torms oulpoured,
With cannon-boom and clais of sword,
How heroes fell and fields were won,
From Lexington to sad Bull Run.
And from my visits you have learned,
How in some people's hearts there burned
Altreazed feelings, cruel, fierce,
As that the tigress' heart doth pierce;
Wild, vengeful, savage, pittless,
The pulse of mobs, the flendishness
Of favesich hankers who,
For want of useful work to do,
Nurse morbid fancies in their head,
Till nought else unswers them instead;
And how the wiretenes thus possessed,
For want of useful work to do,
Nurse morbid fancies in their head,
Till nought else unswers them instead;
And how the wiretenes thus possessed,
For hanging neighbors had a zest,
How well they wrote enonymous,
Your traitorous feelings to diacuss;
Bow friendly watned you to "keep quiet,"
Or 'round you there would be a riot;
And argued presses should be 'gutted,"
That Presidential pleas rebutted.
And further, I have kept you posted
On all things good, old Bedford boasted,
(Nor failed to tell you of some evil,
As fist-fights, thefts, the fly and weevil);
How Bedford marched to Cumberland
To ait with willing, loyal hand
The town beleaguered by "Sccesh,"

The Hon. A. B. Ely came down form Norfolk late this afternoon by a flag of truce, having been released in exchange for Mr. Faulkner. After a brief visit to headquarters, he government, on the present army and navy footing, for the year ending June 30, 1862, will be $543,406,422. This amount he thinks will be raised as follows, viz: From Customs, lands, &c., $ 36.809 731 Loans already realized, 197, 242,588 Loans authorized 75.449,675 Proceeds of direct tax, 20,000,000 this leaves a deficit of $213,904,428, to be provided for This deficit he proposes to raise in three ways. The direct taxes of the loyal States to furnish twenty millions, duties on liquors, tobacco and other luxuries, twenty millions more, and the tax on incomes.

In order to raise revenue he recommends the taxing of tobacco, bank notes, carriages, legacies, stills and distilled liquors; and a further increase of duties on sugars, tea and coffee.

He thinks the war will be ended by the midof next summer, but still be makes estimates for another year of warfare, after the 30th of June next. He estimates the amount of the national debt on the 1st of July, 1863, nine hundred millions of dollars.
