BEDFORD COUNTY, SS.

The undersigned Auditors of said County, do here by certify that in pursuance of the Acts of Assembly in such case made and provided, they met at the Court House, in the borough of Bedford, and did audit and adjust the accounts of William Schafer, SAME CASE FOUR DAYS LATER! the Auditor General, January 6, 1862.

William Schaffer, Esq., Treasurer of Bedford County, in account with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

May 23, 1860.—I will now exhibit 10 you the patient for whom I prescribed Propylamine, and who was then laboring under an attack of acute rheumatism. She has steadily taken it in doses of three grains, every two hours, (intermitting it at night).

THE CORNER PROPERTY, formerly occupied by the late Samuel Brown, as a Dry Goods store, and now in the occupancy of James Farquhar, is for rent. It is the best stand for a mer cantile store in Bedford.

January 10, 1883.

The day after you saw her, I found a comfortable, better than she expected week or more, judging from her other attacpatient now walked into the room.) The important notice a marked change in the appearance of her since a marked change in the appearance of her joints, which are now nearly of their natural size. Thus far our experiment would have seemed very successful; but gentlemen, we must wait a little while before we can give a decided opinion as to what is to be the result. 59 what is to be the result.

Here is another patient who was placed on the use of the same medicine on Sunday last; she has long been suffering from chronic theumatism, and I found her at that time with an acute attack super-vening upon her chronic affection. The-wrists and knuckles were much swollen and tense. She took the chloride of propylamine in three grain doses every two hours, and you will perceive that the swelling of the joints has much diminished.

THREE DAYS LATER!!

May 26, 1860 .- This is the case of acute rheum-

MAY 26, 1860.—This is the case of acute rheumatism treated with propylamine, the first of those to which I called your attention at our last clinic. She is still very comfortable, and is now taking three grains thrice daily.

In this case it has seemed to be followed by very satisfactory results. The second case to which your attention was called at our last lecture, has also continued to do well. I will now bring before you a very characteristic case of acute rheumatism. you avery characteristic case of acute rheumatism, and if the result be satisfactory, I think, as good jurymen, we shall justly render our verdict in favor rf propylamine.

For propylamine.

He is a seaman, æt. 26, who was admitted a few dys ago. His had occasional rheumetic pains, but not so as to keep his bed, until eight days ago. The pains began in his right knee, subsequently affected the left knee, and later, the joints of the upper extremities. These joints are all swollen tense and tender. His tongue is furred; skin, at present, dry, though there has been much sweating. His pulse is full and strong, and rbout 90. He has now used propslamine for twenty-four hours.

This gentleman is what may be called a strictly typical case of acute rheumatism. There was ex-

$60 00 typical case of acute rheumatism. There was exposure to cold and wet, and this exposure is follow-$40 00 by a feeling of coldness, severe articular pain, beginning as it usually does, in the lower joints. There is fever and the profuse sweating, so generally attendant on acute rheumatism.

I did not bring this patient before you with the $10 00 intention of giving you a lecture on all the points connected with rheumatism, but to again give a trual to the new remedy we are testing, and to exhibit to you this typical case, as I have called it, than which there could not be a fairer opportunity for testing the medicine in question. We are, theretesting the medicine in question. We are, therefore, avoiding the use of all other medicines, even anodynes, that there may be no misgivings as to which was the efficient remedy. You shall see the case at a inture clinic. $30 00

THE RESULT. A FAVORABLE VERDICT.

June 9, 1860 .- The next of our convalencents is the case of acute rheumatism before you at our clinic of May 26th, which I then called a typical case, and which it was remarked was a fair opportunity for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was for testing the worth of our new remedy. It was therefore steadily given in three grain doses every two hours for four days. The patient has got along very nicely, and is now able to walk about, as you see. I do not he sitate to say that I have never som as severe a case of acute rheumatism so soon restored to health as this man has here, and without less restored. to health as this man has been, and without being pre-$10 00 pared to decide positively as to the value of the remedy we have used, I feel bound to state that in the cases in which we have tried the Ch'orude of Propylamine, the patients have regained their health much earlier than under the treatment ordinarily pursued. I wish, gentlemen, you would yourselves try it, and report For a full report of which the above is a condensed extract, see the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reporter. It is the report ifter a fair trial by the best medical authority in this country, and makes it unnecessary to give numerous certificates from astonished doctors and rejoicing patients.
