Gov. Curtin's Speech at Pittsburg. We learn from the Pittsburg papers that his Excellency, Gov. Curtin, was present at and the destinies of the nation, has gone out in death. delivered an address before a war meeting held in that city on the 24th ult. During the course of his remarks, we are informed, the governor made use of the following language:

"The President has at last learned that we are actually engaged in a war. Without charg-ing that mistakes have been made, it is enough to say that after long months of schooling war is now to be prosecuted with vigor. War means violence, and in time of war man relapses into barbarism. The property, nay, even the life of an enemy, and everything that he has, we must take to use against him. In the absurdity of civilization our arms have left a guard at every house, and left our arms have here a guard at every house, and left our ene-mies behind them to hunt and destroy. This is not war! The crops in the valley of the Shenandoah belong to us. That horse, that man, be he white or black, if claimed by our energy belongs to us " enemy, belongs to us.'

So it seems that the President did not know antil lately that "we are actually engaged in a war!" Thousands of millions of money spent, eds of thousands of soldiers raised, equipped and marched against the enemy, our cour try for nearly eighteen mongths deluged in orphan, the wail of the bereaved and the broen-hearted saddening the land, and the President all this while ignorant of the fact that "we are actually engaged in a war !" And yet we were assured, from time to time, by the organs of the federal administration, that the meas ures taken for the suppression of the rebellion were most ample and effectual and could not possibly prove unsuccessful. We were told that the "grand army of the Potomac" eclipsed anything of the kind the world had ever seen that before it the secession hordes would melt sustained during the war as the Iron City Colaway like wax before a furnace; that the reb- lege, of this city, and certainly none more deel capital would inevitably fall into its possession whenever it would take up its line of ken the lead in imparting to young men a thormarch and that before its victorious tread the ough practical business education, was never, banners of secession would go down like grain all things considered, in a more prosperous conbefore the reaper. We were told, too, of vic-dition than at present. The perfection of is fories bought with the blood of thousands—of drill is truly wonderful, as may be seen in the victories at Somerset, Henry, Donelson, Pea workmanship of its graduates which challenge Ridge, Shiloh, Yorktown, Williamsburg, Fair- | comparison with that of any other similar instiaks, and the brilliant series in the ensanguined tution in the world. Catalogues can be obtainswamps of the Chickahominy. And notwith- ed on application to the principals, Jenkins & standing all this lesson printed indelibly upon Smith .- Pitts. Mor. & Eve. Gaz. the hearts of the American people, written in blood upon every hearthstone in the land, the President had yet to learn that "we are actual-ly engaged in a war." Strange, passing strange, the Court House on Saturday evening, July this slowness of comprehension on the part of the President! Wonderful, singularly won-derful, that Governor Curtin should have fur-nished over one hundred thousand soldiers for the service of an executive who did not know the service of an executive who did not know that they were intended to be employed by him in the prosecution of war! What may we not be told next year, next month, next week or to-morrow? Nous verrons? The Governor, in the remarks above quoted. takes occasion (although drawing but a general outline) to give a picture of the times from which the pen of the historian may draw inspiration when it comes to the mournful task of cording the story of our national troubles. "In time of war," says His Excellency, "man relapses into barbarism!" Farther on he speaks of the "absurdities of civilization." We had thought that this war, on the part of the loy-al states, was, professelly, to maintain and pre-serve that form of Government under which man emerges from the darkness of barbarism into the sunlight of civilized life, by which the world is to be regenerated, civilly speaking, and through whices influence the last vestige of the complexities and thus insure a speedy termination of the war. Resolved. That we entrestly recommend to the through whose influence the last vestige of the barbasic ages shall be wiped from the face of the earth We had thought that there was such a thing as civilized warfare, that invaaions in which booty, rapine and nurder play-ed their part, had passed away with the recod-ing footstep of the painted savage, that even men essential ingredient in the character of the

Heaven forbid that this should be so, that we should "relapse into barbarism" to carry on any war, that we should become Goths and Vandals instead of Christian soldiers, that we should barter away our glorious name as a civilized and enlightened nation, in exchange for the fading wreath and perishing glory of the victor in battle! Governor Cartin was then introduced to the meeting, and, although laboring under severe hoarseness, delivered an address upon the pres-ent condition of the country and the war, markent condition of the country and the war, mark-ed by the loftiest patriotism, and abounding in the most fervid and stirring eloquence. He was followed by the H. a. J. K. Moorehead, of Pitts-burg, in a short out very eloquent, and appro-priate speech, replete with practical suggestions. These speeches were greeted with great applause, indicating that the hearts of the multitude re-concident with warfleted former to the sublaces sponded with unaffected fervor to the whole sen timents proclaimed by the speakers. Mr. Cess-na then submitted the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted : Resolved, That the officers of this meeting ap point a committee of twelve persons in this bon ough, to act as a Central Committee for th county, and to adopt such ways and measures

trict in the county, consisting of such number as they may deem advisable; and that such as they may deem advisable; and that such committee be requested to meet and organize forthwith, and add to their number and appoint such sub-committees as they may think best cal-culated to promote the objects in view. Resolved, That this meeting and the central committee will at once proceed to receive sub-scriptions of monut to be availed to the subscriptions of money to be applied to the pay-ment of bounties. Said subscriptions to be ab-solute, in case no provision should hereafter be made by law for their payment; to be refunded, however, in case such order should be hereafter made by the proper authorities. Resolved, That the several committees of the county be earnestly recommended to adopt the same plan, and that we appeal to the liberal and patriotic people of Bedford county, to come for ward promptly, and subscribe at least ten thou sand dollars, so as to secure to each of the two hundred volunteers required from Bedford coun-ty, a bounty of fifty dollars, in addition to the pay and bounties of the Government, for the mefit of himself and family. The following gentlemen were appointed mem bers of the central committee, viz: John Cessna, Geo. D. Shuck, Henry Nicode mus, Valentine Steckman, W. C. Keiser, J. W. Lingenfelter, R. D. Barclay, John Mower, S. H. Tate, John H. Rush, John Taylor, N. J.

In support of these resolutions Mr. Cessn made an able speech, in which he presented the great danger now menacing the very existence of the Government, and urged upon all loya and patriotic citizens the absolute necessity for prompt and energet action. In the course of pair tenars, he work occasion to make some pointed thrusts at Northern sympathizers, that will not soon be forgotten. The applause that followed showed how cordially his speech was approved by the audience. A subscription was then started to raise mon ey in anticipation of the action of the Commis-sioners, and one thousand dollars was obtained in a few minutes.

It was then ordered that the proceedings sho be published, and the meeting adjourned.

ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP NEAR HARRISON'S LANDING, Saturday, July 12th, '62. Dear Mother :

I have received your letter of the sixth. We are here near Harrison's Landing, on the James River. Everything has been quiet since we have been here. We have been work-ing hard on the front. We were the rear guard, coming, and, of course, when we halted it left us in the front again. We have thrown up large fortifications and rifle pits, and cut down a large amount of timber to give the ardown a large amount of timber to give the ar-tillery a fair sweep. The Rebel army that fol-lowed us so close up to here, have fallen back some, but keep their pickets near ours. The two contending armies, it appears, are just ly-ing here, waiting to see which will strike the first blow. There was a flag of truce sent in the other day, to our General, to come and take his sick away as they had enough to do to attend to their own. These were the sick that could not be got along and were left behind when this move was made. On last Wednes-day (July 9th) President Lincoln reviewed the troops here in person, I don't know what bro't him here unless he could not understand why that we had to "skedatdde," great and glorious are the results of these days which try men's souls on the peninsula of Virginia. As things look a little dark and are a little hard sometimes, we, as Americans, should by no means forget the heroic deeds, sacrifices and trials of our forefathers in battling for this great Darables

Republic. We have lost many gallant men, but they are now freed from their clayey fetters, and are roaming far away among the starry spheres. They are happier than we, for their journey is over, ours is still before us. This ought not to discourage young men, let every one of them come out a soldier for the Union and the Com-

Let them answer the call for troops and not stay at home talking of the war not stay at home taking of the war and its consequences or concerning politics. Let the politicians come here if they want popularity and make it by helping put down the war. If the days of '76 were those which taught Great Britain to respect the thirteen States, it is time that the people would turn out and make the South respect the Union and the Constitution. It is level land, but so much higher than the It is level land, but so much higher than the river that it enables you to have a full view of it. There has not been much harvesting done here. There were splendid crops, but they were all destroyed. The two armies marching through the country destroyed everything. I don't know when we will make a move from here to Richmond, but I think it won't be for some time. Our picket's lines are two miles and a half from camp. We moved the last day our company was on picket, and we had to go through the woods. I had good luck in that, for I found a blackberry patch and picked about these quarks. They make a schedid about three quarts. They make a splendid pot-pie, with crackers for dumplings. Gen. Peck is our division General, instead of Gen. Casey. He is a good General and always ready for a pitch-in with the Rebels. Direct your letters as before, except put on Peck's Di-vision, instead of Casey's.

This compound will be found a great promo-ter of health, when taken in the spring, to ex-pel the foul humors which fester in the blocd atthat season of the year. By the timely ex-pulsion of them-many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the and of this ready smarthum seles from the area nipped in the bud. Attnittudes can, by the and of this remedy, spare themselves from the en-durance of foul cruptions and ulcerous sores, chrough which the eventum will arrive to rid to self of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse ont the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores, cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, geople en-joy better health, and live longer, cleansing the blood. Kep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with the pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later some-thing must go wrong, and the great machin-ery of life is disordered or overthrown.

ery of life is disordered or overthrown. During late years the public have been mis-led by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sursaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sar-ementile, which doed the market with the saparilia which flood the market, until the sapar has which hold the market, until the mane itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and interd to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for are neving it has virtues which are irresistible by dinary run of the disease
