THE BEDFORD GAZETTE

IS PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING BY B. F. MEYERS,

At the following terms, to wit :

$2 00 per annum, if paid within the year. $2.50 " " if not paid within the year. De No subscription taken for less than six mon ths

By No paper discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the publisher. It has been decided by the United States Coarts that the stoppage of a newspaper without the payment of arrearages, is prima facio evidence of fraud and as a criminal offence.

The courts have decided that persons are ac-countable for the subscription price of newspapers, if they take them from the post office, whether they subscribe for them, or not.

Professional Cards.

I. W. LINGENFELTER F.M. KIMMELL. KIMMELL & LINGENFELTER.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, BEDFORD, PA. Do Have formed a partnership in the practice of the Law. Office on Juliana street, two doors South of the "Mengel House."

G. H. SPANG. JOB MANN. MANN& SPANG.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, BEDFORD, PA. The undersigned have associated themselves in the Practice of the Law, and will attend promptly to all business entrusted to their care in Bedford and adjoining counties. DFOffice on Juliana Street, three doors south of the "Mengel House," opposite the residence of

Maj. Tate. Bedford, Aug. 1, 1861.

JOHN CESSNA. O. E. SH. CESSNA & SHANNON, O. E. SHANNON.

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, BEDFORD, PA. CT Have formed a Partnership in the Practice of the Law. Office nearly opposite the Gazette Office, where one or the other may at all times be found. Bedlord, Aug, 1, 1861.

JOHN P. REED, ATTORNEY A'T LAW, BEDFURD, PA., Respectfully tenders has services to the Public.

House. Bedford, Aug, 1, 1861.

W. M. HALL. JOHN PALMER. HALL & PALMER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, BEDFORD, PA CF Will promptly attend to all business entrus-ted to there care. Office on Julianna Street, (near. ly opposite the Mengel House.) Bedfard, Aug. 1, 1861.

A. H. COFFROTH, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Somerset, Pa. Will hereafter practice regularly in he several Courts of Redford county. Business entrasted to his care will be faithfully attended to. December 6, 1861.

SAMDEL KETTERMAN,

BEDFORD, PA., DF Would hereby notify the citizens of Bedford county, that he has moved to the Borough of Bed-ford, where he may at all times be found b" persons wishing to see him, unless absent upon business pertaining to his office. Bedford, Aug. 1,1861.

JACOB REED, AND SCHELL, J. J. SCHELL, BANKERS & DEALERS IN EXCHANGE,

BANKERS & DEALERS IN EXCHANGE, BEDFORD, PENN'A. DTDRAFTS bought and sold, collections made and money promptly remitted. Deposits solicited. EFFRENCES. Hon. Job Mann, Hon. John Cessna, and John Nower, Bedford Pa., R. Forward, Somerset, Bunn, Raiguel & Co., Phil. J. Watt & Co., J. W. Curley, & Co., Pittsburg.

ST. CHARLES HOTFL,

CORNER OF WOOD IND THIRD STREET T T S B U R G H, P HARRY SHIRLS PROPRIETOR. April 12 1861.

VOLUME 58. NEW SERIES.

Freedom of Thought and Opinion.

BEDFORD, PA., FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 17, 1863.

We are fighting for the restoration of the Union and the preservation of the Consti-tution, and all the liberties it guarantees to every citizen. And it makes me feel had when Liberties are feel had would go into it. Try him in the courts.

not thrust it in his face, for they have no rights under it save the right to be tried and hung for treason. [Continued applause.] In certain districts the military law is supreme. Gen. Grant is in command of an [A single voice on the stand, "That's just army in the State of Mississippi, which is in revolt. Will any one deny his right to make arrests, his right to suppress newspa-pers, and to level trees like those around I is your duty. you to-night, in order to get a range for his guns? No. And yet these are all arbitrary powers. But those exercises of it are not the troublesome cases. The great diffi-culty is in those districts where rightful just then Dr. John took it into his head to come not the troublesome cases. The great difficivil government is in operation, where the judicial tribunals are open and the laws re-spected-the laws which afford a remedy for every wrong. As a rule we must remember that the civil law is superior to the military law, and the cases are rare, very rare, where the rule can be reversed. It then resolves itself into the plain naked question whether the President and his generals, by the simple clicking of a telegraph instrument, can cause the imprisonment of A, B, or C. If one general can do it, another can do it, and where is the end? who will fix the limit? [Great Sensation and mururs.] Do you propose to interfere with the bal-lot-box? [Cries of 'No! No!' 'Never! Never!' from all parts of the meeting.] I am glad to hear you say that, and glad you are so unanimous. Did it ever occur to you that the next election may put an entirely different face upon affairs? The next election may bring great and deplorable chan-ges, when Vallandigham and men of his class may determine who are to be arrested. Cries of "No! that can never be." "Nev-

Well, gentlemen, there is no use in closround you on every side. I told you I came here to address myself to your reason, and not to your passions, and in view of that light I ask you who are being elected Governors of loyal States, who compose a ma-jority of the Legislature of the loyal State of Illinois, and who was recently elected Mayor of her principal and most loyal city, and in view of these facts what may the fufure not have in store? [Cries of "Jenni-son." "Music." "We don't want to hear "You sent a telegram to the Presiyon."

times, and extending to every citizen of the

with me. I have arranged it with Mrs. Myson. So get your bonnet and shawl, as I want to be off immediately.'

tution, and all the liberties it guarantees to every citizen. And it makes me feel bad when I hear some honest friend, brimming full with patriotism, say he does not care for the Constitution, and does not want to have it forced into his way or thrust in his face until the war is over. The rebels can-not thrust it in his face, for they have no previous, and the streets were dry and dusty as ever. Out here the drops still glittered in by-places, and a cool breeze swept up the road as Dr. John slightly drew rein at the entrance to what Wilber F. Storey does every day."]

WHOLENUMBER, 3066

VOL. 6. NO 50.

Dr. John signify drew rein it the enhance to a grove of pines. The eye was satiated with light and color, for the sun shone broadly, and the forest trees which lined the country road with their dark green frontage, lit up here and there with vivid thames, looked like the victims of an auto-da-fe going to their burning. The pines were a con trast, with their uniform color and dense shade 'Heaven's peace over all' said the Doctor, breaking silence. 'How tranquil the still screen-ity of these pines after the riotous bacchanal rgies of those walnuts and maples. It is like coming from some high carnival masquerade, coming from some high carnival masquerade, and sitting down to read godly John Fletcher in the brooding firelight of home.' It was a picture of peace. The road was seldom traveled but by laden farm-wagons; the seiton interveren but by nater intri-wagons, into silence of centuries dwelt in the tree tops, and moved down the endless opening and clo-sing vistas, a falling cone or nimble step of wood squirrel, making by contrast the silence ore still, the stillness more profound. The carriage rolled slowly over the where scant grasses grew; the trees clasped hands above our heads, and dropped the gloom of night about us. I was growing forgetful of surroundings, inhaling the eternal perfume disbalm of incense-breathing morns.' I grew in-toxicated—it always affects me so; I can not explain how, any more than I can why I should wake up crazed and almost gibbering should wake up crazed and almost gibbering when the moon shines full upon me slumbering. I thought it was having its effect upon the doctor, too; he lapsed into silence—looked dumb, and, lest we should both turn maniacs together, I ventured to waken him from his trance. The horse just then caught a glimpse of a sunshiny road discernible at the end of the grove, pricked up his ears and moved faster. 'Doctor,' said I, 'your patient will die before you get there !' He looked down at me and smiled, glance at the trees on either side, shook himself free from faucies, and replied-'No; he is better. I came out to minister to a mind diseased, but I recollected the old adage, 'Physician heal thyself!' and have been trying to get rid of a morbid growth of melancholy, which has weighed upon my spirit this 'year and many a day.' Retrospection is not in general good for heart complaints, but it has cured me, I think.'

He smiled down on me again, cracked the whip at the horse's sense of hearing rather than at his hide, and we were whirled at our old pace out of the forest.

listened to your weary footsteps day after day, and pitied you without seeing how I could help —at least, in any way that you would consent to." Unmistakable commiseration of my desolate condition rested in the glance of his kind eyes on me. Soft pity smoothed out the lines in his face. The kind true man! How I had which awaited me there. There was no help for it, but out of the very depths of despair seemed born a sort of courage which nerved me to take my fate into my own hands-to turn a destiny of quiet suffering by the alchemy of the will into the strength of hopeful endurance. But I would try first if there was a chance for daylight, down here in the shadows. "Deeds are born of resistance," thought I; "passivity corrodes nerve like canker." So I spoke-'Dr. John, two years ago you obtruded your advice, I thought. I resented the interference. But I see my error now. I wish I had followed a part of your counsels. If you have a plan into an incomprehensible knot, and then set him-self slowly and deliberately to undo it. And for me, will you tell it me ?' 'But you scorned my advice then, and called me a perfect tyrant! What guarantee have I of And when this manoeuver was executed, he looked better treatment now ?' at his watch and compared it with the gossiping 'If I have hewed out cisterns, broken cisterns After all, I don't know,' he said, looking up, 'but it might be as well for yon to hang up the clothes. It isn't as late as I thought—only that have held no water, do not mock me, nor withhold a draught if you have it. Don't you see I am dying with the thirst of expectancy;' see I am dying with the thirst of expectancy, I clasped my hands nervously. 'Oh! Dr. John you do not know how much I need sympathy! 'Poor child!' he said. 'Jennie, I am going to do what I have always said no man with half-past eight. You have been expeditious in spite of your weariness.' I took up the basket sadly, and went out No, I said, energetically, it is impossible to suggest anything that will alleviate my forlorn condition.' Poor child!' he said. 'Jennie, I am going to do what I have always said no man with a proper self respect would do. Nothing except the torture of sceing the women I have a go such treatment as you do would ever have opened my lips again. Have your changed cir-My hopes, excited for an instant, fell into cumstances made you repent the decision of two vears ago?'

Rates of Advertising. One Square, three weeks or less.... One Square, each additional insertion less than three months..... .$1 25 25

23 3 MONTHE. 6 WORTHE. 1 FEAR $3.00 $4.00 $6.00 4.00 $5.00 9 5.00 7.00 12 6.00 9.00 15.00 8.00 12.00 20 0 12.00 12.00 20 0

'Respect for you, Dr. John! That is too cold a word. There is no earthly friend whom I reverence and value so highly; but not even my trust in you could make me love Everit: Ward.'

'Everitt Ward! What has he to do with us ?' 'I am sure I don't know,' I replied. 'When you advised me to marry him, two years ago. I told you it would be impossible for me to think of marrying such a perfect tyrant. I called him so, not you—and now this return to the charge is Ossa on Pelion piled.' 'You are the most difficult case I have found yet to manage,' the doctor said, subduing some strong emotion. 'You are laboring under a strange hallucination.'

'I think the same might be said of you,' I retorted.

'Perhaps so: And it is that which prompts me to undertake your restoration. Like cure like, you know.'

'But,' persisted I, 'I will hear nothing of Everitt Ward.'

'You shall not from me. I am delegate for eritt Ward.' You shall not from me. I am delegate for no man. What can you mean, Jennie ?' 'That I rejected him two years ago. That I still more decidedly resent such interference now. If I could only have got away. How hateful they all appeared to me ?' 'I don't understand yet, Jennie,' the doctor said. 'When your father died, and left you penniless, every one admired the strength of mind with which you threw scraples aside, and set earnestly and resolutely to work. I don't know which was the strongest feeling with me, admiration, love or pity; for I saw the motive, dear, and felt how useless your labor would be, for I knew Eb's extravagant habits pretty thor-oughly. When he married, and I heard from his own lips that you thought of selling out and going to live with him, I could no longer keep silent. You know how I tried to dissuade you from it. It was then I asked you to come and live by my fireside—to be my cherished darling, as you had been my hope, my star. I remem-ber I was a little exalted—rhapsodical, perhaps —but it seems you totally misunderstood me, and thought I was proposing for Everit Ward.' 'Then you were ignorant that he had worried me for a year with his suit; that Eb had tor-mented me with entreaties and expostulations; that morning, noon and night, I was subjected mented me with entreaties and expostulations; that morning, noon and night, I was subjected to the same persecutions, if not in words, in contemptuous silence. Then you joined with them, as I thought; for when you offered me a place, at some one's fireside, my thoughts went in the accustomed channel.' 'Very ambiguous I must have been,' said the doctor, leaning back and drawing a long breath. I will be explicit for once. Dear Jennie, if you had then understood me, would your an-swer have been different? Is it different now?' He decourd the rins, took both my hands. He dropped the reins, took both my hands, and looked at me with eyes which would not be denied. I had prayed for sunlight. Here was heaven I had prayed for sunlight. Here was neaven come down to earth again in a broad sweep of glory. It lit up the darkness, and opened the doors on the hidden secret of my heart. For since when had I not loved Dr. John: He read the secret, I am sure before I gave back read the secret, I am sure before I gave back glance for glance, heart answering to heart. 'I love you, Dr. John! I always have loved you! will that do?' How he answered I shall not tell you. The interest subsides when the battle is over, the victory complete. Besides, there was no room for he interest. The mention of the Matter Sud victory complete. Besides, there was no room for heroics. The main street in Merton sud-denly opened before us, and we were lost in the whirl and sweep of other vehicles. One little explanation I attempted.

fishness, which, not content with absorbing my property, had made me-if not a hewer of wood-a drawer of water, would have had me proceed immediately to a clergyman's house, and be married thence. But he yielded to my and be married thence. But he yielded to my plea for having all things done decently and in order. In the evening, the marriage ceremony was performed in the front parlor, Eb sitting bolstered up to witness it, and his wife looking on with what feelings it is impossible to judge. They gave us good wishes and kind hopes for the future, which were reiterated by the whole of Merton, when they came to see us, next day, in our own house in our own house 'And now,' said Mrs. Dr. John, rising, 'you wished to know how I came to marry the tor, and I have told my story. You asked too, if I had ever repented the step. You must look to the doctor himself for answer to that question. There he comes, through the trees. Ask him.'

Or silence high and holy Than "Christian" such as he. Who dares to counsel bloodshe And knows not charity. Speech of Senator Trumbull.

The following speech, growing out of Burnside's order for the suppression of the Chi-cago Times was delivered at an Abolition meeting in that city on Thursday evening, June 4th. Senator Trumbull has long stood at the head of that party in Illinois, and ranks among the ablest men now in the Senate-but it appears that he is too conservative and truthful for the times, and is no longer appreciated by his brother woolly heads. The ignorance and animus of the administration party may be inferred from the manner in which Senator Trumbull's remarks were received by the audience to whom they were addressed: Mr. Trumbull said :--- It was rather embarrassing to attempt to speak to an audience which insisted on hearing some one else;

Select Poetrn. The War-Christian.

Dedicated, without permission, to the Rev. Henr Ward Beecher, the Rev. Dr. Cheever, and th Rev. Dr. Bellows.

What say the aisles and chancels Of old cathedrals dim? What say the pealing organs In chant and solemn hymn? Fervor of adoration And love in sweet accord, Love for the meanest mortal, And glory to the Lord!

What saith the great "War-Christian," High perched above the crowd, With his hands so white and dainty, And his heart so black and proud? He draws a little circle, As narrow as his mind, And shouts for all beyond it, God's mercy to mankind

He rants, he raves, he blusters, And from his sensual jaws Pours vulgar slang, mistaking Men's laughter for applause And when the land is deluged With blood and widows' tears, Incites redoubled slaughter And prates of GUNS and spears.

Forgetful or defiant

That He whose cause he shames. Whose teaching he dishonors, Whose Gospel he disclaims, Was full of loving kindness, And taught that war should cease, That swords should turn to ploughshares,

And nations live in peace. I'd rather for my preachers Have wild winds on the shore, Or breeze amid the branches, Or birds that sing and soar, er, never," from all parts of the crowd.]

son." "You sent a telegram to the Presi-dent."] You are wrong—it is your greatest and gravest mistake—in allowing your adversa-ries to place you in the position of being op posed to the Constitution. [Cries for "Jen-nison," and "Give us somebody else."] it, and will not detain you long. Who is there among you who does not believe in adhering strictly to the Constitution in these loyal States its guarantee? Who among you is prepared to acknowledge our government a failure? Who among w the matter ?" 'No,' I answered, shortly: 'Why do you 'I thought I saw a new wrinkle in your face, e replied, smiling. "Oh ! it isn't new troubles that bring them, into the kitchen, although he had been to the house for five consecutive days to see his patient, tion, and darkened the frown on my brow.

MRS. DR. JOHN'S STORY.

I dropped the sheet I was wringing out of e hot suds, and set him a chair. 'Good morning,' he said, pleasantly ;'anything

I was tired, worried and overheated .-- Cross,

"Oh! it isn't new troubles that bring them, so much as it is the old worries over and often repeated. Besides, I'm growing old !" I then went back to my washing. In spite of the sigh which unconscionsly accompanied my last remark, my tones repelled sympathy, and so the doctor understood it, for, taking a daily paper from his poeket, he leaned back in his chair and read, or pretended to. back in his chair and read, or pretended to. After watching him a little from the corners of my eyes, I was satisfied it was mere pretence; and, as I finished the last article, I said, with

'About the millinery interest?' he asked, without raising his eyes, for he was a man of infinite tact, or rather discretion. 'Yes,' I said, wearily ; 'I'm a perfect slave

"It is best for any one, a woman especially It is best for any one, a woman especially, to consider candidly before she gives up one sit-uation for another, whether she is really about to benefit herself. You made as great a sacri-fice of your freedom, selling out your millinery stock and coming to five here, as you would have done had you married a perfect tyrant.

A sunset flush passed over his face. I busied myself about the basket. I wondered if I had been right—if he really did know of the offer I had rejected when I made the dispo-sal and sacrifice, as he termed it. Ah! he

Will attend punctually and carefully to all opera-tions entrusted to his care. NATURAL TERTH filed, regulated, polished, &c., in the best manner, and ARTIFICIAL TERTU inserted from one to an entire sett. Office in the Bank Building, on Juliana street, edford. CASH TERMS will be strictly adhered to.

In addition to recent improvements in the mount-ing of ARTIFICIAL TEETH on Gold and Silver Plate, m now using, as a base for Artificial work, a new and beautiful article, (Volcantic or Volcanized In-dia Rubber) stronger, closer fitting, more comfort-able and more natural than either Gold or Silver, and 20 per cent. cheaper than silver. Call and see C. N. HICKOK.

Bedford, January 16, 1863.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The advertiser having been restored to bealth up a few weeks, by a very simple remedy, after hav-ing suffered several years with a severe long after-tion, and that dread disease, Consumption-is anx-ious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the ions to make known to bis fellow-sufferers the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used (free of charge,) with the direc-tions for preparing and using the same, which they will find a SURE CURE for CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, &c. The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he conceives to be invaluable, and hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing. Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON, ap24-3m Williamsburgh, Kings Co., N. Y.

JUNIATA MILLS.

JUNIATA MILLS. The subscribers are now prepared, at their old tand, to do Carding and Folling in the best style. They are also manufacturing and keep constantly a hand for sale or traide, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, tASINETTS, BLANKETS, FLANNELS, &c. By dre and attention to business they hope to merit a shre of the public patronage. Carding will be done from May 15th to September 15th, and Folling from September 15th to December 15th. Wool and goods will be taken from and returned to the following place, viz: will be taken from and reflected to the place, viz: Pace, viz: A. (James', '' Rainsburg, J. M Barndollar & Sou's Bloody Run, W. Sites & Co., '' '' Termyor Carding and Fulling, strictly cash. Do Th highest cash price will be paid for good clean tub-ashed wool. J. & S. S. LUTZ.

J. & S. S. LUTZ.

May 8, 183-16

but solemn convictions of duty compelled him to speak, when, under ordinary circumstances, he would have remained silent.

He did not come to inflame their passions already too much aroused. Their country was in danger, and they must look the peril in the face. No adjectives he could pile up, no vile names he could apply to those who do not agree with him, calling them copperheads and traitors, would assist in arresting the rebellion, or asserting the supremacy of the Constitution and the laws.

I have lived long enough to know that I am not infallible, perhaps you are; I have some respect for the opinion of others. One of our mistakes is that we have allowed our opponents to make false issues. But this is not the worst. The great charge, the charge that has damaged the adminis tration above all others, is that we are in favor of the exercise of arbitrary power, that we are opposed to the freedom of speech and opinion, to the freedom of the press, in favor of curtailing personal hiberty, and in favor of a despotism. Now we should not allow these things.

He did not desire to inspire them with hurrahs ; but he wished to talk to their judgments, and inspire them through appeals to their reasons. The times, he said, are grave! A major ity of the people of our State are taking ground against the administration, and why? In the name of heaven, why is this? I will tell you why; I will point out to you some of our mistakes that they may be corrected in the future. The reason is we have not adhered to David Crockett's motto, "Be re you're RIGHT, and then go ahead!" by the military power and sent beyond the voice—"We are always right!" by the military power and sent beyond the lines. You will be much stronger with the law on your side. Show that Mr. Storey sure you're RIGHT, and then go ahead !"

has advocated the gag to usurp our place. 1 offences. Then arrest him and take him 'You are to go to see a patient of minute misjudged him! Constitution is a fine thing for peace-good

'I will consent to anything you can prop enough-but when war comes it must be anything you think fit and proper,' said I, with a sudden return to the old time trust in Dr. rolled up and laid away? Or in other words -for it means the same-who among you is ready to substitute the will and opinion of ohn, 'if you will wait till I hang up these clothes.

one man, who may be another Vallandigham, 'Let Mrs. Myson hang up her own clothes,' he said, indignantly. 'You were up all night watching, weren't you ? Wasn't that enough in place of the Constitution as the supreme law of the land? [Cries of "We don't want any more of that." "What's that band without putting you to washing this morning Sit down and listen to me.' for ?"] Well, hear me through, for I will I wiped my hands and sat down, waiting pa-tiently one, two, three minutes; but still the doctor was silent. He twisted his watch chain not be long, and the questions before you are of so much importance and gravity that you should listen patiently, and not only that, decide dispassionately. The Consti-tution is broad. It grants all powers necessary, even for the suppression of treason in the North. [Applause.] ittle clock on the mantle.

Yes, gentlemen, it is just as legal and binding upon the general in the field, and the civil officers of the nation, as it is upon the humblest citizen in the land. Has it come to this, that you will deny in the free city of Chicago the right of a citizen to discuss the acts of the President? [Cries of "We won't allow it," and "none but copperheads do that, and we will stop them. Is there a man in this audience who has not expressed to-day his dissatisfaction with some act of the President? [Cries of "Yes, Yes." "We have none of us expressed any dissatisfaction."]

Ah, do all of you, then, think the President's revocation of Gen. Burnside's order, suppressing the Chicago Times was right? [Cries of "No!" "No!" "It was wrong!" "He ought to have enforced the order!"] my project consists in your leaving this place immediately, and I knew every thing would have to be arranged in perfect order before you Then you all deserve to be taken in hand

We have been the advocates of free speech for the last forty years, and should not al¹ has counseled resistance to the draft, or en-low the party which during the whole time coursed describes the draft, or en-My amazed look asked and obtained a partial ing my establshment ? Yes.' 'That was not what I meant,' he said.

'As for the other part,' I replied, 'rather pov-erty, starvation and suffering of any kind than a marriage with one whom I cannot love, nor swer to my surprised exclamation .- 'Part of even esteem !'

He looked as if I had said enough, and I did speak strongly, for I was grieved and hurt.----Did he not intimate in one breath that he loved Did he not intimate in one oreant that he loved me, and the next offer me that man as a relief from my self imposed servitude? 'Jennie,' he returned, in a subdued voice, 'I wish you could find some one you considered worthy of your love. I was rash to arrogate so much to myself; but I hardly thought I had fallen so entirely from your respect.'

What is Free Government?

William H. Seward, Secretary of State, in the Lincoln Cabinet, speaking of our Government, said to Lord Lyons :

"My Lord I can touch a bell on my right hand, and order the arrest of a citizen of Ohio; I can touch the bell again, and order the impris-onment of a citizen of New York, and no power on earth, except that of the President, can release them. Can the Queen of England do s much ?"

Lord Chatham, speaking of the British Gov-

Lord Chatham, speaking of the british Gov-ernment, said: "The poorest man in his cottage may bid de-fiance to all the forces of the Crown. It may be frail; its roof may shake: the wind may blow through it; the storm may enter; the rain may enter, but the King of England cannot en-ter it. All his power dare not cross the thresh-old of that ruined tenement."

er A Down East editor says that he has seen the contrivance that lawyers use to "warm up with the subject." He says it is a glass concern, and holds about a pint.

step.' 'Leave this place !'

would consent to this necessary and initiatory

My hopes, excited for an instant, fell into Arctic water, and froze immediately. I could not work very fast, I was so utterly wretched, so it was some time before I returned to the house. There I found the doctor had set all the chairs in order, stiff and angular against the wall, and was just commencing operations with 'I thought I would help you,' he said, in