Attacks by Abolitionists upon a Procession.

Three weeks ago the Abolitionists had a procession which passed along Chestnut and other streets in this city, and was not molested. The Democrats did nothing to break the peace.

At a little after nine the procession began to move past the League House. At the very commencement it was greeted with hoots and howls. The police made no effort to stop their hisses.

At the Commonwealth building a bloody drama was enacted. There is a saloon in the cellar, with two broad staircases leading down to it from the street.

The police, who kept away so long as their Abolition friends were victorious, came to reinforce them when defeated, and now appeared upon the ground.

But reinforcements of rioters and policemen came up. The wounded were carried off and fresh squads were brought forward.

Thieves in the Bonded Warehouses.

Attention has been repeatedly called in the Express to the gross frauds perpetrated in the Custom House.

The latest developments, however, show that wherever practicable, there was a general conspiracy among the attaches who had charge of bonded goods, to rob the merchants of this city.

The frauds were perpetrated in this wise:—Half the quantities of silk stored in the warehouses were abstracted; barrels of sugar were robbed of a portion of their contents.

These were not by any means all the outrages. A boat was thrown overboard in the night. Two men were severely injured.

THE STATE OF NEVADA. Nevada, now made a State, by proclamation of Mr. Lincoln, under an act of the present Congress.

THE SCHOON HOUSE.—Teachers and parents should make it a duty to see that the circumstances under which children study are such as shall leave a happy impression upon their minds.

No matter how old or unrefashionable your school house—keep it clean. Hide its dirt walls with pictures, and cover it with flowers.

TERRORISM IN INDIANA. Events Before the late Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Mr. Lincoln intends to carry Indiana at all hazards. So his friends say, and so appearances indicate.

The people here are pushed to the verge of desperation. The draft is going on, and the conscripts instead of being allowed ten days, as is usual in other States, are hurried away at once.

An immense mass meeting was held at Vincennes. Vallandigham was invited to be present, and accepted the invitation. It was openly declared that if he came he would be arrested.

I never lived before under military despotism. I can understand the feeling of the French during the Reign of Terror, when no man who laid his head on a pillow at night had any guarantee that it would not roll into a basket before morning.

What a lamentable condition of things is furnished to the world, to the humans and civilized of every land, in the brief sentences of Gen. Phil. Sheridan's despatch to the Secretary of War, dated the 7th. He says:—

Probably for the same extent of country there was not a more productive, fertile and beautiful region than the one here mentioned, which the General has so thoroughly ravaged, wasted and destroyed.

BE CONTENT.—There was a boy who only wanted a marble. When he had a marble he only wanted a ball; when he had a ball he only wanted a top; when he had a top he only wanted a kite.

The man without understanding desires a woman of wealth. He who has a bad wife has purgatory for a neighbor. A smile is to beauty what dew is to the rose.

Hints for Hard Times.

Credit never permits a man to know the real value of money, nor to have full control over its affairs.

Now, if you have these things in your pocket, you see them, as you make your purchases, habitually diminishing under your eye.
