

"Short Settlements Make Long Friends."

We have so frequently reminded our friends who are in arrears of the propriety of settling their accounts, that we feel almost ashamed to call upon them again. But we cannot print a paper without money, and, therefore, we are compelled once more to ask delinquents to pay up.

A Little Singular.

Some very strange things are done by the officers of the conscription. We do not wish to make any factious complaints, and we refer to the case of which we are about to speak, because it affects our political opponents much more severely than the Democracy, and, therefore, our motive in bringing it before the public cannot be misconstrued.

Pennsylvania and the Cabinet.

Poor Pennsylvania! A hewer of wood and drawer of water for the New England round-heads, they have denied her all representation in the cabinet of Mr. Lincoln. The Yankee states and the Northwest rule the roast. They laugh Cameron to scorn, and as for Forney, they think he does well enough in the President's kitchen, licking the dirty dinner plates.

The Spring election, where there was any contest, and where it was possible for the people to get to the polls, resulted in gratifying success to the Democracy. In some of the districts, however, there was no contest on political grounds. In several townships but a small vote was polled, owing to the swollen condition of the streams, as in St. Clair and Londonderry.

H. Nicodemus, Esq., has been Justice of the Peace, in this borough, for ten years. During that time he has been a consistent Democrat, and the result is that he has been re-elected by an overwhelming majority. When elected five years ago, his colleague on the Democratic ticket, was J. W. Lingenfelter, Esq.

Our friend, O. E. Shannon, Esq., has purchased some oil territory in what is considered the heart of oil-dom. His terms being reasonable, the stakes are being taken rapidly. Mr. Shannon purchased this territory, after careful personal inspection, and we have no doubt, made judicious selections.

To THE PEOPLE.—A Government Intelligence office has been opened in Washington city, D. C., by R. M. Hall & Co., and any persons desiring information concerning any matter connected with the Government Departments, War Office, Ordnance Office, Treasury, Post Office, Pension Office, or concerning bounty, back pay, &c., can have the same furnished them promptly, by addressing these gentlemen and enclosing $2.00. This is a cheap way of getting desirable information of any kind, from Washington. They refer to Jay Cooke & Co., Bankers, and Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of House of Representatives.

EDITORIAL MELANGE.

Down—gold. Up—substitutes. Spring-like—the weather and the singing of birds. Plenty—eggs and counterfeit postal currency.

Stirred up—the animals of the Harrisburg Telegraph. A subject for the prayers of "loyal" preachers—Andy Johnson.

True blue—New Jersey; she's in favor of the old Constitution and has just elected a Democratic U. S. Senator. Eleven thousand one hundred soldiers who have died since December last, have been buried in the cemetery at Nashville, Tenn.

They have had eighty days of good sleighing in Maine. Their winter product there must be mainly snow. The sewing women have addressed a protest to President Lincoln against making shirts at one dollar per dozen.

A bare-faced act.—A Paris letter brings the important news that the Emperor has shaved off his imperial. Twenty thousand bales of the Savannah cotton have already been received at New York.

Over Mr. Herring's truck, in the New York procession, was the motto: "Our country's safe."—A little fishy, Mr. Herring. An unhappy petroleum speculator confesses to having "lored not wisely but too well."

A black man recently testified in a St. Louis court against a white person. Something new there. The world moves. A man in New London, Conn., is building a large church at his own expense.

A court in Dayton, O., has awarded a young lady $6,500 damages for breach of promise of marriage. Pays nearly as well as 'emil.' Miss Julia Cobb committed suicide a few days since, by hanging herself in her father's cellar. Her head must have been full of cobwebs!

An abolition lady has sent us our own photograph cut all to pieces. The lady in this case cut a prettier figure than she ever did before in her life.—Louisville Journal. Queen Victoria has two vacant garters, one of which, it is expected, she will bestow upon Lord Cowley.—Ex.

We presume because Lord Cowley is supposed to have a calf. Stand corrected.—The Carlisle Volunteer says that George Darsie never was Canal Commissioner, but was a defeated candidate for that office. Right, Mr. Bratton.

New Hampshire has again elected the Abolition ticket, by about the usual majority. Ephraim is joined to his idols. Misplaced, by the typos, an obituary notice handed us by Rev. B. H. Hunt, of Schellsburg. Will Mr. H. be kind enough, to send us another copy?

What General in the Federal army ought to have the same advantage in battle that was given to Joshua, when, at his command, the sun stood still? Doubtless, to be sure! Mr. Wm. Dibert, of the Washington Hotel, in this place, is about to remove to the house recently occupied by O. E. Shannon, Esq. Mr. Grove, of Bloody Run, takes his place at the Washington.

Maj. John H. Miller, 55th P. V., for a long time a prisoner in the South, returned to his home, in this place, on Monday last. He was welcomed by a serenade. He has been mercifully promoted to Lieut. Colonel.

The report that Andy Johnson passed through Bourbon County, Kentucky, on his way to Washington, is denied; but it is admitted that a great deal of Bourbon county passed through him.—World. Mean. The Harrisburg Telegraph is in the habit of attacking us without sending us a copy of the paper containing the attack.

Our young friends, Wm. Jamison, M. D., and J. Ross Anderson, M. D., have just returned from Philadelphia, having recently graduated from that celebrated institution, the University of Pennsylvania. They are both clever fellows and we wish them abundant success.

We call the attention of our readers to the announcement of A. B. Cramer & Co., that they will sell their goods at greatly reduced prices. A word to the wise is sufficient. J. B. Farquhar announces that he will sell his excellent stock of goods at a great reduction in prices. Give him a call, if you want cheap, as well as good, articles.

Col. Robert Ryan, of Missouri, is at present on a visit to his old home in this place. Col. Ryan has served with distinguished gallantry in the U. S. Army, since the beginning of the war, having participated in many of the severest battles, among them the bloody fight at Pea Ridge.

J. M. Shoemaker has just returned from the east with a stock of new goods which he is selling at reduced prices. All in search of bargains, will give him a call before purchasing elsewhere. A rattling among the dry bones. The Democrats have carried Harrisburg by 174 majority, and York by 237, both largely increased majorities.

The soldiers in the service from this borough, voted as follows: Democratic 13, Abolition 9. Good for the proxy law! Twenty-eight Democratic voters (citizens) did not get to the polls.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

HARPER'S MONTHLY.—The March number of "Harper" is before us. It contains the usual amount of pleasant and instructive reading. "A tour through Arizona," (illustrated) is an entertaining paper. "Sugar making in Cuba," is full of interest. "Armada," by Wilkie Collins, and "Our Mutual Friend," by Charles Dickens, are continued. The editor's table is racy as ever.

GAZETTE'S PACIFIC.—The March number of this magazine is on our table. There is a fine frontispiece—"View of San Francisco, Cal." This periodical is especially devoted to the interests of the Pacific countries. It is well gotten up. The mining department is particularly interesting. See advertisement.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—"Godey," for March, is a fine issue. The illustrations are superb. "The Shadow on the wall," a splendid line engraving, and the colored fashion plate, are in the best style of art. "Godey" deservedly maintains its long established reputation as the magazine of art and fashion.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.—This favorite of the ladies is especially brilliant this month. A beautiful engraving, entitled "Forest Leaves," embellishes the first page of the number, and Les Modes Parisiennes is an excellent representation of the styles for the month. Peterson's stories are always good, especially those of Mrs. Stephens, who is one of the few female authors whose writings received the praise of that great critic, Edgar A. Poe.

AMERICAN MONTHLY.—A work which every American gentleman should take and read. It is worth a half a dozen "Atlantic Monthlies." Its literary contents are of a very high order and entirely free from the taint of New England asceticism and the namby-pamby-ism of the day. It is beautifully printed and well gotten up in every particular. Published in New York, by J. Holmes Agnew.

Bedford Borough Election.

The following is the result of the election held in this borough, on Friday last. It will be seen that the Democratic ticket, with two exceptions, was successful.

Table with 3 columns: Name, Position, and Party. Includes names like H. Nicodemus, John H. Rush, J. A. Mowry, Hiram Lentz, S. J. McCauslin, J. M. Gephart, Job Mann, O. E. Shannon, V. Steckman, John Miller, A. W. Mower, J. Boor, J. Corboy, J. H. Hutson, R. R. Sill, Augustus Carver.

Brumbaugh, Samuel Working, Supervisors, John Henry, D. S. Eversole, Assessor, J. S. Brumbaugh; Auditor, J. L. Replege and three others a tie.

[From the Pittsburg Gazette, Republican.] Vice President Johnson.

We have hitherto refrained from commenting upon the fact that the Vice President disgraced himself and the nation by appearing in a state of intoxication at the time of his induction into office and inflicting upon his hearers a nauseated, drunken speech, not because we hoped thereby to hide the unpleasant fact upon our readers, or shrink from condemning the grievous fault committed, but because we hoped that a little delay would bring us some mitigation of the report, and render the transaction less disgraceful than was at first stated. We have waited, however, in vain; and now that the facts are beyond dispute, we join with the Republican press of the country in telling the Vice President that having utterly disgraced himself, subjected his party to the keenest mortification and made his country a laughing stock in the eyes of the world, the least reparation he can make is to resign. After the exhibition of himself, he cannot expect that place any longer with honor or credit. His good name is lost, and he cannot regain it by holding on to a place he has disgraced. If he attempts to hold on to it he will thereby show himself insensible to shame, and therefore all the more unfit for that high position.

But what if he does not resign? Then let him be impeached, or reached in some other way by the action of the Senate.

Sherman Retaliating for the Murder of his Foragers.

HEADQUARTERS MILITARY DIVISION OF THE MISSISSIPPI, IN THE FIELD, Feb. 24, 1865.—Lieut. Gen. Wade Hampton, Commanding Cavalry Forces of S. A. General.—It is officially reported to me that our foraging parties are murdered after capture, and labeled "Deaths to all foragers." One instance of a lieutenant and seven men, near Chesterfield and another of twenty, "near a ravine, eighty rods from the main road," about three miles from Fayetteville. I have ordered a similar number of prisoners in our hands to be disposed of in like manner.

I hold about a thousand prisoners captured in various ways, and can stand it as long as you; but I hardly think these murders are committed with your knowledge, and would suggest that you give notice to the people at large that every life taken by them simply results in the death of one of your confederates.

Of course you cannot question my right to forage on the country. It is a war-right as old as history. The manner of exercising it varies with circumstances; and if the civil authorities will supply my requisitions, I will forbid all foraging. But I find no civil authorities who can respond to calls for forage or provisions, and therefore must collect directly of the people. I have no doubt this is the occasion of much mischief on the part of our men, but I cannot permit an enemy to judge or punish with wholesale murder.

Personally, I regret the bitter feelings engendered by this war but they were to be expected; and I simply allege that those who struck the first blow and made war inevitable ought not in fairness to reproach us for the natural consequences. I merely assert our war-right to forage, and my resolve to protect my foragers to the extent of life for life.

I am, with respect, your obt. servant. W. T. SHERMAN, Maj. Gen. U. S. A. GENERAL HAMPTON'S REPLY. HEADQUARTERS, IN THE FIELD, Feb. 27, '65.—Maj. General W. T. Sherman, U. States Army: General.—Your communication of the 24 inst., reached me to-day. In it you state that it has been officially reported that your foraging parties were "murdered" after capture, and you go on to say that you had "ordered a similar number of prisoners in your hands to be disposed of in like manner." That is to say you have ordered a number of Confederate soldiers to be "murdered."

You characterize your order in proper terms, for the public view, even in your own country, where it seldom dares to express itself in contradiction of truth, honor or justice, will surely agree with you in pronouncing you guilty of murder, if your order is carried out. Before dismissing this portion of your letter, I beg to assure you for every soldier of mine "murdered" by you I shall have executed at once two of yours, giving in all cases, preference to any officers who may be in my hands.

In reference to the statement you make regarding the death of your foragers, I have only to say I know nothing of it—that no orders given by me authorize the killing of prisoners after capture; and I do not believe that my men killed any of yours, except under circumstances in which it was perfectly legitimate and proper they should kill them.

It is a part of the system of the thieves whom you designate as your foragers to fire the dwellings of those citizens whom they have robbed. To check this inhuman system, which is justly execrated by every civilized nation, I have directed my men to shoot down all of your men who are caught burning houses. This order shall remain in force as long as you disgrace the profession of arms by allowing your men to destroy private dwellings.

You say that I cannot, of course, question your right to forage on the country. "It is in your right as old as history." I do not, sir, question this right. But there is a right older even than this, and one more indelible—the right that every man has to defend his home and to protect those who are dependent upon him, and from my heart I wish that every old man and boy in my country who can fire a gun, would shoot down, as he would a wild beast, the men who are despoiling their land, burning their houses and insulting their women.

You are particular in defining and claiming "war rights." May I ask if you enumerate among them the right to fire upon a defenseless city without notice to bury that city to the ground after it had been surrendered by the authorities, who claimed, though in vain, that protection which is always accorded in civilized warfare to non-combatants; to fire the dwelling-houses of citizens, after robbing them, and to perpetrate such heinous crimes as these—crimes too black to be mentioned?

You have permitted, if you have not ordered, the commission of these offenses against humanity and the rules of war. You fired into the city of Columbia without a word of warning. After its surrender by the Mayor, who demanded protection to private property, you laid the whole city in ashes, leaving amid its ruins thousands of old men and helpless women and children, who are likely to perish of starvation and exposure. Your line of march can be traced by the lurid light of burning houses, and in more than one house that there is an agony far more bitter than that of death.

The Indian scalped his victim regardless of sex or age, but with all his barbarity he always respected the persons of his female captives. Your soldiers, more savage than the Indian, insult those whose natural protectors are absent.

In conclusion, I have only to request that whenever you have any of my men "disposed of" or "murdered," for the terms appear to be synonymous with you, you will let me hear of it, in order that I may know what action to take in the matter. In the meantime I shall hold fifty-six of your men as hostages for those whom you have ordered to be executed. I am yours, &c.

WADE HAMPTON, Lieut. General.

THE WAR.

Several Federal gunboats have been sent up the Cape Fear river from Wilmington towards Fayetteville to open communication with Gen. Sherman. The Confederate steamer Chickamauga is sunk in the channel, forty miles above Wilmington, and she will have to be removed before the gunboats can ascend above. The Cape Fear river is navigable all the way to Fayetteville for vessels of light draft. The distance by the river from Wilmington is one hundred and twenty miles. The distance by road to Fayetteville is one hundred miles. Gen. Sherman writes from Fayetteville, on March 12, to General Grant. He states that at Columbia, Cheraw and Fayetteville he captured eighty-eight cannon, and destroyed the Confederate arsenals and the railroad depots.—He says nothing officially of Gen. Kelpatrick's defeat.

Extensive preparations are being made in Grant's camp for the contemplated advance of the Federal army. General Longstreet is in command of the Confederates at Petersburg, and it is reported that Gen. Lee has gone to Goldsboro, to superintend the operation against Sherman.

It is announced that the reason Sheridan turned back from Lynchburg in his recent raid, was that he found Lynchburg strongly fortified and garrisoned. He has not yet been heard from.

The roads in the neighborhood of Richmond have become thoroughly dried, and can bear artillery and trains. We may therefore expect to hear very soon of a movement by Gen. Grant. The Confederates are very active—troops are constantly moving to and fro, and it is reported that a detachment of Lee's army has gone South to oppose Sherman. There are also rumors that the Confederates at Petersburg are preparing to attack Grant. All the sick, wounded, and non-combatants in the Federal camp have been sent to City Point.

General Sheridan has passed to the east of Richmond. On the 15th he was on the line of the Richmond and Fredericksburg railroad, twenty miles due north of Richmond. He has destroyed a great deal of railroad and other property. It is expected that he will soon communicate with Grant's right.—Ags.

A CARD.

The undersigned, with full and most grateful hearts, take this method of tendering their long to be cherished thanks to their fellow citizens of Bedford, male and female, for their Herculean efforts to save their valuable property from entire destruction by fire on the 14th inst. Stout hearts and strong arms performed all they could for the old soldier and his family, in their old age. Sympathy is not, and was not wanting in this our great temporal trial and loss, but God will provide. Mrs. E. D. TALLAFERRO, LAW, TALLAFERRO, Major U. S. A.
