ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1866, Messrs, TICKNOR & FIELDS began the pub-heation of a weekly journal entitled Much of the best literature of the day is found in the English and Continental mag utilities and pe-riodicals; and it is the design of the Publishers of this new journal to reproduce the choicest selections from these for American readers, in a form at once attractive and inexpensive. The publishers believe that such a journal, conducted upon the plan which they propose, will be not only emeritaining and in-structive in itself, but interesting and valuable as a reflex of foreign periodical literature of the bet-ter class.

a reflex of foreign periodical literature of the bet-ter class. EVERN SATURDAY is intended for town and coun-try. For the fireside, the seaside, the railway and the scemboat. Its plane enbraces Incidents of Travel and Adventure, Essays Critical and Descriptive, Serial Tales, Short Stories, Poems, Biographies, Literary Intelligence, etc., in connection with ju-dicious selections from the admirable popular pa-pers on seience which are constantly appearing in foreign periodicals. The value of these papers arises from the fact that scientific subjects, hower-er harsh and dry in themselves, are here treated in so graphic and picturesque a style as to charm the reader while instructing him. It will be, in short, the aim of its publishers that Evern's ATURDAY shall commend itself by its fresh-uess and variety to all classes of intelligent and cultivated readers.
