CAMPAIGN SONG.

[TUNE.—That's What's the Matter.]

We're on the road our fathers trod, No more the spy, with treacherous nod, Can steal a Deeper's cranial rod, And that's what's the matter.

The man whose slanders run and flow, Who staid, and lied, and muddled us so, Can't do just as they used to do, And that's what's the matter.

Chorus:—That's what's the matter, As their mode have had to scatter, When Andy shot, quacks went to pot, And that's what's the matter.

As the Provost's soldiers, And thieves, who stole our money bags, Don't want us now, to "list our flags," And that's what's the matter.

But always the Union true, We'll not desert, because they do, Here goes the old flag, White and Blue, And that's what's the matter.

Chorus:—That's what's the matter, As "Sustain the President," they said, "Unfold the Union's drooping head," But now they wish that he were dead, And that's what's the matter.

The "President" shall be sustained, By faith and loyalty, undimmed, And shall be the "Nigger's" cranial rod, And that's what's the matter.

Chorus:—That's what's the matter, As we're for the Union, as before, The Constitution, and no more, We swear the oath old Jackson swore, And that's what's the matter.

The traitorous "Rump," if need must feel, The people's wrath, the People's will, They shall not burn the Public Well, And that's what's the matter.

Chorus:—That's what's the matter, As we've heard that a whip in Congress crack, We've seen the "Nigger's" at his back, He beats the White, and loves the Black, And that's what's the matter.

But don't you hear the White Men shout? Old Tom and Charles, are now played out, And the great Fifteen have got the goat! And that's what's the matter!

Chorus:—That's what's the matter, As an eloquent lawyer touches his own client,—The Baton Rouge Advocate tells the following:—

Last week a case came up before the jury, and the District Attorney had exhausted all his eloquence in the attempt to convict a darkey for stealing a goose. The Judge was tired, the jury weary, and the bar officials and spectators, all hoped the case would be speedily closed, but they were doomed to disappointment. Up rose the old Major, the hero of a thousand contests at the bar, and for two hours a flow of eloquence poured forth upon the ears of the jury, evidently convincing them of the prisoner's innocence. Shrugs and gestures denoted that all they wanted was a chance to get out of the jury room, and the goose, darkey, prosecutor and all concerned might go to Guinea if they could be released. The Major piled it on thick; he showed them law after law, read Supreme Court condensed decisions, referred to everything relative to geese, from the Roman time down to the present, and closed his brilliant appeal by calling their attention to the honest countenance of his client: "could such a man steal—the Heavens forbid; look at his face, you perceive sterling honesty in every movement—could you steal, prisoner at the bar, could you steal a goose?—cut him, 'twould steal, and the gallant Major, thunderstruck and exhausted, caved.

Rev. W. F. Boykin, a "burnin'" and "shinin'" light in the "Union party," in Yamhill county, Oregon, recently dragged and outraged the persons of two daughters of a minister in whose house he was staying, while delivering a series of lectures on Revelations.

In San Francisco the police have discovered a gang of thieves, the oldest of whom is not over sixteen or seventeen years of age, with a regular organization, who have constructed caverns underneath sidewalks in unfrequented localities, in which they burrow, and from which they construct tunnels to adjacent stores conveying their stolen goods thence to the upper air.

A despatch from Charleston, dated yesterday, states that on Thursday evening a mutiny broke out among the negro troops on Folly Island which was not suppressed until one of the mutineers was killed and two wounded. The rest of the mutineers were taken to Charleston under guard.

Judge Jeffreys, of notorious memory, pointing with his cane to a man who was about to be tried, said: "There is a great rogue at the end of my cane." The man to whom he pointed, looking at him, said: "At which end, my lord?"

No two human beings were ever alike either in body or mind. In other words, nature has been engaged in making men and women for six thousand years without making one that she thought it worth while to repeat.

A gentleman writes that he has found that immersing hens in cold water a few times will cure them of setting.—Hens will not return to their nest until dry which will give the eggs time to get cold. It is seldom necessary to repeat the immersion more than once.

A Cincinnati company, with a capital of $100,000, proposes to establish a mammoth garden and furnish vegetables at one half the present prices.

A man who had deserted from the Confederate army and hidden in the Titus swamp, Florida, recently came out, having "heard the war was over, and he wanted to get paroled."

T. J. Warren, a bankrupt merchant of Cincinnati committed suicide on Friday last week, by jumping into the Ohio river.

The Cincinnati people did not take kindly to Pike's proposition, and so Pike wouldn't build them an Opera House. So the Cincinnatians, like miners sometimes, suffer from Pike's pique.

The Bedford Gazette.

A RADICAL REBELLION.

Hon. Henry J. Raymond, member of Congress from New York city, and editor in chief of the N. Y. Times, has written a letter announcing the startling fact that the Radical Disunionists are preparing to inaugurate another rebellion. They mean to impeach the President, and if possible, by force of arms, usurp the government of the country. Coming from a leading "Republican," as is Mr. Raymond, who has been able to obtain an inside view of the Radical plot, this announcement is of the most startling and alarming character. Mr. Raymond declares that it is the purpose of the Radical rebels to get up a war of neighborhoods, such another as the English people fought out under the distinctions of the White and Red Roses. If they should succeed in electing a majority of the next Congress, this step will certainly be taken by them as they are determined to get rid of the President. Let the people, therefore, rally to the support of the Executive; let every man and every woman who desire to avert the calamity of another civil war, take the field against the Radicals and help to put them down at the ballot-box. Shall the history of the past four years be repeated? Nay, shall neighborhood be arrayed against neighborhood, family against family, son against father, in bloody and deadly conflict? Oh! men of Pennsylvania, will you not throw yourselves between this Radical Conspiracy and the friends of law and order, and swear that there shall be peace in the land, even unto its utmost borders!

They trampled the laws under foot. They elected tyrants and cowards to office. They turned a war of patriotism into a crusade of plunder. They put innocent men into prison and guilty men in office. They sacrificed thousands of brave men on the altar of diabolism and military incompetency. They took men and money from the people under false pretences. They killed our men, destroyed our property, and squandered the money we furnished them. They mobbed people for opinion's sake. They murdered people in cold blood here in the North for speaking their honest belief. They have stolen of the poor. They have protected the rich. They have lied to the nation, and in drunken glee danced on the coffin lid of their country until the corpse has been awakened to a new life, and a life that will deal in vengeance most terrible if the murderous dance be not stopped at once.

They have draped the land in mourning, populated deep grave yards, made prostitutes, piled billions of taxes upon the workmen, and now flaunt the shame of their cowardly insolence in the face of a people that fought while our rulers rotted in drunkenness; that died on the battle field while our rulers wrestled ballot boxes in the North! Let these crimes, and others, we have not room to mention, be charged home upon the element now at war upon the President, and upon the honest industry of the country North and South.

Democrats have not broken laws, ignored oaths of office, and made a sieve of the Constitution, through which to thrust negroes, political Generals, army contracts and dishonest legislation! Let these things be charged home to those who rode into power shouting—

Free Speech! Free Press! Free Kansas! A Free People! RETRENCHMENT AND REFORM! How about Free Speech? And a Free Press? And a Free People?

And how do you like the arithmetical illustrations of the Black Republican retrenchment and reform? The country is worse off to-day than it ever was before.

Our debts are a thousand times greater than ever before. Our ability to pay is less than ever before. There is more starvation than ever before.

How do you like the working of Abolitionism? Answer, and tell us, ye once happy and prosperous workmen, to whom we are now talking through the pen.

Tell us, farmers, mechanics, sons of the forest, men of toil, and brother victims of this "great" God and morality party, which did so much good in theory, so much evil in practice! Charge these truths home. We have charged them home for the last four years.

We have defied their mobs, sneered at their proscription, walked unharmed through attempts at assassination, held aloft the banner of Democracy, and gathered javelins to hurl in the face of our common enemies till the last tyrant or apologist for tyranny and wrong shall be driven from power.

God hates cowardice! We have the right on our side—we have law, justice, equal rights and the record of honest acts. What more incentives do we need?

If these are not sufficient, look ahead to the millions who will bless us for wresting the sword from the hands of those who murder innocents. Open wide the gates of the Republic—open the doors of Democracy. Hang out your glorious old banner of Democracy. Appeal to the people. Defy our enemies.

Stand like men of nerve in defense of our liberty, and charge upon those who will not forsake the errors of their way, the truths of the history they have written in blood and pinned up with bayonets! This is no time for abject crawling to cross the foot of usurped power. The future is to be bright, united and happy, or dark, bloody and terrible, as we choose.

If Democracy, in the great struggle now upon us, is successful, the country is saved.—Lærtæus (W.), Democrat.

The other day a member of Congress wishing to say, in fine English, that a friend of his had died, told the House of Representatives, that "his gentlemanly spirit had winged its way to its maker."

The Treasury Department estimates that one-half the fractional currency in the South is counterfeit. The whole of that at the North is a sham, a cheat and a disgrace.

All Democrats desire to participate in the grand victory on the second Tuesday of October. Hence all will put their "shoulders to the wheel."

Political triumphs always did go by turns. This is the Democrats' turn as sure as the sun will rise on the second Tuesday of October.

A Troy negro recently fell from a third story window to the pavement and saved his life by striking head first.

These men sought to—Break up the Union. To make the South and North hate each other. They warred upon the Constitution. They ignored laws. They perjured themselves before God and man. They meddled with that which concerned them not.

They trampled the laws under foot. They elected tyrants and cowards to office. They turned a war of patriotism into a crusade of plunder. They put innocent men into prison and guilty men in office. They sacrificed thousands of brave men on the altar of diabolism and military incompetency. They took men and money from the people under false pretences.
