ON SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1866, Messrs, TICKNOR & FIELDS began the publication of a weekly journal entitled EVERY SATURDAY: A JOURNAL OF CHOICE READING.

Much of the best literature of the day is found in the English and Continental magazines and periodicals; and it is the design of the Publishers of this new journal to reproduce the choices selections from these for American readers, in a form at once attractive and inexpensive. The publishers believe that tuch a journal, conducted upon the plan which they propose, will be not only entertaining and instructive in itself, but interesting and valuable as a reflex of foreign periodical iterature of the better class.

a refex of foreign periodical afterature of the better class.

EVERY SATERDAY is intended for town and country, for the fireside, the seaside, the railway and the seamboat. Its plan embraces Incidents of Travel and Adventure, Essays Critical and Descriptive, Serial Tales, Short Stories, Poems, Biographies, Literary Intelligence, etc., in connection with judicious selections from the admirable popular papers on science which are constantly appearing in foreign periodicals. The value of these papers arises from the fact that scientific subjects, however harsh and dry in themselves, are here treated in so graphic and picturesque a style as to charm the reader while instructing him.

It will be, in short, the aim of its publishers that Everny Saturday shall commend itself by its freshness and variety to all classes of intelligent and cultivated readers.

Every Saturday will contain each week thirty two large octavo pages, handsomely printed in double columns, with an engraved title.
