DEMOCRATIC MEETING!

Close Up the Ranks!

There will be a Democratic Jubilee, in the Court House, on MONDAY EVENING Nov. 19th, to celebrate the signal triumphs of the Democracy in Bedford County, the wresting of Maryland from the grasp of a tyrannical minority and the gains of Democratic Congressmen and increase of the Democratic vote throughout the North. The Democrats and Conservatives of the County are respectfully requested to turn out and attend. Several speeches will be made upon the occasion.

J. W. DICKENSON, Ch'n Dem. Co. Committee.

THE MACHINERY OF THE MONGRELS FOR CARRYING ELECTIONS.

It seems strange to some people that a minority of the voters of the Union should be able to hold the power of the government, despite the efforts of the majority to wrest it from them. We say that the minority has controlled the majority, because from the day on which Mr. Lincoln was first elected President, to the present hour, the so-called "Republican" party has not been able to poll a majority of the votes of the whole Union. In 1860 the vote for Douglas, Bell and Breckinridge combined, exceeded that given to Lincoln, by about one million! Nor have the lapse of six years and a bloody intestine war, changed the relative strength of political parties. To-day there are 3,500,000 voters who adhere to the great Conservative organization of the country, whilst there are scarcely 2,500,000 who vote with the so-called "Republican" party. True, in the Northern States the Conservatives poll but about 2,000,000; but in the Southern States, there are not, all told, 200,000 "Republican" voters. On the other hand, the South furnishes at least 1,500,000 voters to the Conservative column. Thus it will be seen that the party which now rules the country, and which has ruled it during the last six years, lacks one million of votes to make it equal in numbers to its opponents. How is it, then, that this minority governs the majority? The question is susceptible of an easy solution.

1. The people of ten States, a million of voters, are utterly excluded from all representation or participation in the government.
2. In the twenty-six States represented in the government, a large proportion of the Conservative voters is disfranchised by partisan legislation.
These are facts that no man, whatever may be his political predilections, will undertake to deny. By the exclusion of ten States from the Union, which shuts out one million of voters from all participation in the government, and by the disfranchisement of thousands of voters in the remaining twenty-six States, the so-called "Republican" party, though really in a minority, maintains itself in power. In Pennsylvania, the "Deserter" law disfranchises sixty thousand persons, for so many names are found upon the lists printed by the Adjutant General for the use of Election officers. One half of these, doubtless, are "Republicans," but they are permitted to vote, for Democratic election boards do not regard the law as binding, whilst "Republican" boards receive their votes, there being no objection by their own party and the Democrats abstaining from opposition, as a matter of principle. But the other half, the thirty thousand Democrats, what of these? Why, in every district in which the "Republicans" have control of the election boards, their votes are rejected. Thus, whilst 20,000 "Republican" deserters were allowed to vote, at least 20,000 Democrats were disfranchised at the late election. In New York city and Brooklyn, they have what is called a "Registration of voters," a scheme gotten up by the "Republicans" to prevent the full Democratic strength from being polled in those cities. Every citizen must go before the officers of Registration and swear himself through as a voter, or his vote will not be received on election-day. This law was passed only for these cities, and the officers which execute it, are appointed by the "Republican" State authorities. In the rural districts, where the "Republican" strength lies, there is no such restraint upon the rights of citizens.

Desides, the polls in these two cities are closed before six o'clock, in order to prevent laboring men, who are generally Democrats, from getting to the polls in time to vote. Then, the polling-places are purposely limited to so small a number that thousands fall, from want of time, to get near the ballot-box. Thus, tens of thousands of the immense Democratic vote of New York and Brooklyn remain unpolled from year to year. This year there were registered in these two Democratic strongholds, 775,000 voters, yet the whole vote polled is but 162,000, showing that 43,000 voters did not get to the polls, and that there is in these two cities, a Democratic majority of about 70,000, if every legal voter could exercise this right of suffrage. But the means used in Pennsylvania and New York, to maintain the ascendancy of the "Republican" party, are of a mild and innocent character, when compared with the outrageous and infernal despotism exercised by the minority in Missouri, Maryland and West Virginia. In these States there is also a system of Registration, but of a far more stringent and partizan character than that of New York. The Registrars are the judges of the voter's loyalty, and if he cannot answer upon oath that he never had any sympathy with the South, that he never spoke disrespectfully of Abraham Lincoln, or any other demi-god of abolitionists, and, in short, if he does not swear that he is heart and soul with the "Republican" party, he is not registered. In this way two-thirds of the people of Maryland, West Virginia and Missouri, have been disfranchised for the last six years. Happily, the stand taken by Governor Swann, of Maryland, has delivered that State from this miserable despotism, and she now stands before the world, as she always was at heart, a Conservative State, by an overwhelming majority. But West Virginia and Missouri are less favored in this respect. Their people are still under the yoke of this diabolical tyranny of a petty minority. There was no Gov. Swann in either of these States to stand up for popular rights. Such is the machinery by which the Mongrel "Republicans" carry elections. It cannot last long. Its wheels are rotten. For the time being the people are crushed beneath it, but ere many days they will rise under its weight, and, with the strength of an angry giant, hurl it from them. Let those who trust in it, beware!

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and New York elected the Mongrel Disunion ticket, as they have done for the last three years, some of them for fifteen years. Missouri was also carried against us by the forcible disfranchisement of at least one half its legal voters. In that State, however, we gain several members of Congress. New York elects the Mongrel ticket by from 8,000 to 12,000, but the Democrats gain two members of Congress and about 15,000 over last year, on the popular vote. New York city gives the unprecedented majority of 45,000 for the Democratic ticket. Horace Greeley is beaten 10,000 for Congress. In all the other States above mentioned, we hold our own as members of Congress. New Jersey did not elect a State ticket. The Democrats gained one Congressman and lost Rogers' district by running two candidates, and Wright's by the defection in Newark. In Maryland and Delaware the Democracy made a clean sweep. Maryland elects four Democrats and one Mongrel to Congress, and gives 20,000 Democratic majority. It would have been 40,000, had every legal voter been permitted to cast his ballot. Delaware gives 1,500 Democratic majority. The Democracy have stood up gallantly and are determined to "fight it out on this line if it takes"—the remainder of this century. Two millions of Democrats in the Northern States can neither be voted nor bullied into silence. We are bound to win in the end, just as sure as the right is bound to triumph!

In company with Col. J. H. Filler and District Attorney Palmer, of this place, we spent some pleasant days campaigning in our neighboring State of Maryland. A more hospitable and generous hearted people than those of Maryland do not exist anywhere. We spent some of our time in Cumberland, Md., where we were most hospitably and elegantly entertained. Our thanks are especially due to Col. J. Philip Roman, E. Fuller, Esq., and Mr. Knight, proprietor of the Barnum House, for their marked civilities during our stay in that place. Old Cumberland is sound to the core, and we shall always regard her people with feelings of admiration and affection.

WOULDN'T be plucked—the Maryland Swan.

"MARYLAND, BY MARYLAND."

The black tide of Northern Disunionism, has at last struck its fierce wave upon a rock it could not overtop. Glorious Maryland rolls back the turgid billows. Not only has Maryland redeemed her own people from the diabolism of a tyrannical minority, but she has opened the way for that triumph of popular liberty throughout the whole Union, which must soon come in the restoration of the equality of all the States.

"We hear the distant thunder hum, The Old Line bogle, life and drum. She breathes, she lives, she's come! she's come! Maryland! My Maryland!"

A LATE issue of the Bedford Inquirer has an article devoted to the "croakers" in its party, who have come to the conclusion that there is no use to try to elect a Mongrel ticket in this county. These gentlemen are tired of the deception practised upon them by the Inquirer, and because they complain of its delusive statements, it pronounces them "croakers." For the last five years it has been the practice of that sheet to assure its readers that its party would carry the county; "only let our friends work and turn out to the election," it would say, "and we will redeem Bedford county from Copperhead rule." In this way the "Republicans" of the county were made to sweat and bleed (at their pockets) from time to time, only to see their candidates handsomely beaten in the end. The Inquirer deceived them, knowingly and willfully deceived them, and now it refuses them the poor privilege of "croaking" over its deception. Hang up your fiddle, boys! Bedford county will increase her Democratic majority next year, as sure as the sun will rise on election day.

We believe the people of Somerset county have Common Schools and ordinary intelligence.—Bedford Inquirer.

Not in every district. Some of the blackest Abolition holes in that county are without free schools. They rule this Senatorial and Legislative district. The learned Lutz should go as a missionary to those benighted regions.

JOHN MORRISSEY has been elected to Congress from New York city. He was elected because it was thought that his record is in keeping with that of the Mongrel majority in that body. A good joke on the Disunion Congress.

HENRY WARD BEECHER "went back" on the Conservatives, and Kings county, his home, gave over 9,000 Democratic majority, a gain of 6,000 since last year. They know Beecher down there.

BEN. BUTLER undertook to make a speech in New York, the other night, but the crowd were so anxious to learn the whereabouts of "them spoons" that they wouldn't hear from Ben. on any other subject.

POOR GREELY! After striving to enlighten the people of New York city for thirty years, he is repudiated by 10,000 majority in his own Congressional district!

THE Junata Democrat says that at the recent election forty votes were cast by the Radicals of that county for a negro for the office of coroner. That's practicing what they preach.

THE New York Herald supported the Mongrel candidate for Governor of New York, and the Democrats gained 23,000 votes over their majority of last year. Influential paper, that Herald.

OUR political opponents are so badly mixed at present on the question of Negro Suffrage, Miscegenation and Disunion, that we must call them Mongrels.

The Copperheads have undertaken the Inquirer task, &c.—Bedford Inquirer.

Now, Lutz, do go to Southampton and learn to spell.

KILKENNY is about being eclipsed by the cat-fight of the Mongrels over the U. S. Senatorship in this State. By the time the Legislature meets next even their tails will be left.

SENATOR SUMNER has been married to Mrs. Hooper.—Boston paper.

We are glad of it. If he hadn't been hooped he would have burst during the next session of Congress.

THE hog cholera is raging terribly in Tennessee.—Ee.

Brownlow had better get his life insured.

MAD—the Mongrels, because the White Swan of Maryland didn't turn out to be a black goose.

The election returns from New York show that the most stupendous frauds were perpetrated by the Radicals in the counties along the Hudson and joining or adjacent to the States of Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut. For weeks past thousands of Yankees have been trooping over the border to vote the Radical ticket. Our own advices from the northern tier of Radical counties of this State, state that that region has been almost depopulated of Disunionists for several weeks, on account of the number of "colonists" sent into western New York.—Patriot & Union.

LETTER FROM UNCLE TOBY.

MR. EDITOR—"Uncle Toby" is in a bad humor and well he may be. A fellow who signs himself "Pilgrim," has been writing for the "Bedford Inquirer," slandering the people of Southampton and Cumberland Valley, and what is worse, he is said to claim to be the identical personage who formerly wrote for the GAZETTE under the nom de plume of "Uncle Toby." Why the very idea is enough to make my blood boil! "Uncle Toby," in the Shadow of the Mountain, communing with Nature and with Nature's God; "Uncle Toby," preaching the Gospel of "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men;" "Uncle Toby," the mild, gentle, generous minister of the meek and lowly Nazarene, finding fault with the bare feet of the Southampton children and sitting like a snaking eaves-dropper in a country store to jot down for a black-guard newspaper, the innocent sayings of his own neighbors; why, the very thought of such a thing is enough to drive a saint into a passion. People ought to know, it appears to me, that "Uncle Toby" couldn't be guilty of so vile conduct as that. Besides, "Uncle Toby" never meddles in politics. The editors of the "Inquirer" refused to publish his articles last year, because they did not savor enough of politics. They treated him so outrageously bad, that he could never so degrade himself as to write for that sheet again. No, no, people mustn't think for a moment that "Uncle Toby" is "Pilgrim" I don't see how it is possible to confound them. "Uncle Toby" wrote tolerable grammar, his orthography was not bad, and last, but not least, there was some sense and a good deal of decency in his articles. But a fellow who can fly into print with a hot-pot of abuse of homely women and bare-footed children, simply because they are homely and bare-footed, and can sit, like a sneak, in a store, or post office, to gather up the crumbs of his neighbors' gossip to spread them before the readers of a newspaper, and that too in a style that is absolutely disgusting, has nothing in common with "Uncle Toby." Now, my dear Editor, don't let your readers remain under the impression that seems to have got abroad that I am this cowardly, miserable, sneaking "Pilgrim." I want to retain the respect of the people of this country and, therefore, I do hope you will assist me in removing this false impression. I have great esteem for you, Mr. Editor, and I often said I would vote for you and I did as sure as I am not "Pilgrim." We send you greeting from the Shadow of the Mountain.

UNCLE TOBY. C. Valley, Nov. 7, 1866.

THE New York World of a recent date gets off the following excellent hit on the electioneering stories of the Mongrels: We were about to say that the following New Orleans despatch is copied from the New York Tribune. That may be a mistake, but there is no internal evidence of it. Armed organizations of ex-rebel soldiers are drilling nightly upon Canal street. It is reported that Jeff. Davis has escaped from prison and is in command. No Union man dare show himself on the streets after sunset. A violent rebel threatened to pull down the Custom House, and for the timely arrival of the Eighteenth Corps, would have executed his threat. Mayor Monroe hung himself and then killed his family, in order, as he afterwards stated, to avoid the just indignation of Union citizens. The commanding general takes his meals regularly in spite of rebel threats. It is stated on authority that the Mississippi river is undermined. Several rebel cruisers came up the river yesterday to see whether the reported rebel surrender to the confederate authorities was correct. Being told that it was, they cursed the United States government, and after taking food and provisions went down to Barataria. Manufactured iron vessels in port were unable to get up steam in time to overhaul them. People here do not hesitate to speak openly in favor of President Johnson and the Constitution. One man went so far as to say "D—n the Radicals." The ex-rebels are in destitute condition, and in some portions of the city are eating their children.

Election Frauds by the St. Louis Radicals. The St. Louis Times says of the election in that city on Tuesday: "The judges of election at the various precincts in several instances manifested the most barefaced favoritism in their attempts to disfranchise the conservative voters." It was a noticeable fact that in strong Radical wards there was very little difficulty experienced in putting voters through. But not so was the case at Biddlemarket. St. Louis is Hall or Justice Walther's room, for these were Conservative strongholds. The judges at Biddle market were Patrick Cahill, Henry Canale and Michael Higgins. There were times when several hundred voters were in line awaiting their opportunity to vote, and when sunset arrived no less than five hundred were then in line. Several voters were rejected on the ground that their names could not be found on the lists, at the same time several citizens offering to make affidavit that they had seen these men registered and qualified. The lists here were not arranged alphabetically as the law provides, and it required several minutes to examine the entire list as each name was called. When sunset arrived only 300 voters had been taken, the books showing 2,241 qualified voters.

"MY MARYLAND."—The "Dead Duck" is inconsolable over the loss of Maryland to the Radical cause. Before the election, he said that she must, by all means, be carried over the heads of those hatered "unreconstructed Rebels," or otherwise the pathway to the National Capitol would be blockaded against Union men. Now that she is lost, will he venture to pass through her territory, or will he make a flank movement in order to reach Washington? Or, with a Scotch cloak and cap, a la Lincoln, will he try to "run the blockade?" We are anxious to know, for we really feel for poor Forney!—Sunday Mercury.

—Miss Julia A. It is alleged that these children, as they were on their way to their homes from school, were guilty of the heinous and unparalleled crime of throwing acorns at a negro boy! For this, it is said, the amiable, merciful and tender-hearted Julia administered upon their backs fifty-four lashes!

—The Knoxville (Tenn.) Commercial of Sunday states that, during the week two negroes were put on trial for horse stealing. They were found guilty, and were sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary. Their counsel applied for a new trial. Judge Hall granted it. Attorney General Thornburg remarked that he would not take the trouble to again go over the evidence, and at once discharged the negroes.

SCHEENK'S SEAWED TONIC.—This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyle, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested. Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonary Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWED TONIC, and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia. Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption, for his days of visitation. A HUMBURG.—How often we hear this expression from persons reading advertisements of patent medicines, and in nine cases out of ten they may be right. It is over 19 years since I introduced my medicine, the VENETIAN LINIMENT, to the public. I had no money to advertise it, so I left it for sale with a few druggists and storekeepers through a small section of the country, many taking it with great reluctance; but I told them to let any one have it, and if it did not do all stated on my pamphlet, to have no need pay for it. In some stores two or three bottles were taken on trial by persons present. I was, by my thought crazy, and that would be the last they would see of me. But I knew my medicine was no humbug. In about two months I began to receive orders for more Liniment, some calling it my valuable Liniment, who had refused to sign a receipt when I left it at their store. Now my sales are millions of bottles yearly, and all for cash. I warrant it superior to any other medicine for the cure of Croup, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Colic, Vomiting, Spasms, and Sea-sickness, as an internal remedy.
