The water of the brook was so intensely cold that it almost made one scream. Yet immediately out of and through it grew a flower so purely beautiful that we all cried out with admiration on discovering it. Out of a ring of broadly ovate leaves (under the water) rose a straight stem, twelve to fifteen inches in height crowned at the top with a cluster of dark crimson velvet flowers, about the size and with the rich mealy bloom of the polyanthus. White had crossed the range last week, with a drove of twenty-two Government horses; but he had gone considerably to the northward of the Pass, in order to avoid the snows. It was a question whether we should re-open the old trail, or follow his example and climb the frightful looking steep on our right to a point beyond the timber. Being a green hand, I said nothing but felt relieved when the Pass was selected, for the snows had been melting very rapidly, and I was convinced that we could fal

JOKE ON BOB.

Stephen C---- was a jovial soul, and hesitated not to play a trick on any one. Among his acquaintances was a young man and a young lady, both of whom stammered very badly. They were unacquainted with each other.

Bob F----, the young man alluded to, was quite sensitive, and to think that any one was making fun of his defect made him frequently fly into a passion. It was Stephen's fortune to meet them at a party, and he soon determined on a joke.

"Miss Sue," said he, approaching his lady friend, "may I have the pleasure of introducing to you one of my acquaintances, a worthy young man?" "Cer-cer-cer-tainly, sir."

A WOMAN'S FIGHT WITH INDIANS. -The following is from the Tehama California, Observer: "L. Hessick, who runs a pack train between Red Bluff and Hay-fork of Trinity, gives the particulars of a daring exploit of a lady. Mrs. Sarah Donelson, formerly a resident of Red Bluff, is living in a log house on the trail, with her children and her father. A few days ago her father went out hunting stock, and Mrs. Donelson was looking after her poultry a short distance from the house. Suddenly five Indians made their appearance. Mrs. Donelson started for the house, and was intercepted by two Indians. Throwing them from her, a third caughther by the shoulder. She knocked him down, and reaching the house in safety, barred the door. The Indians rested one or more rifles on the window levelled at the woman, who of the log house. On attempting to cock her gun Mrs. Donelson found that the thumb of her right hand had been shot away by an Indian bullet, but using her left hand she soon had the pleasure of knowing that her would-be murderers had, retreated, whether with whole hides or not she could not tell. Muscle, courage and self-possession won a victory-one against five, and that one a woman. We challenge the State to exhibit an instance in Indian fighting wherein a woman has acquitted herself more creditably."

An absent minded professor, in going out of the gateway of his college, ran against a cow. In the confusion of the moment, he raised his hat and exclaimed, "I beg your pardon madame." Soon ical partisans now that the the strife is after he stumbled against a lady in the street; in sudden recollection of his former mishap, he called out, "Is that you again, you brute?"
