THE WESTERN FEVER.—We have months. All subscription accounts MUST be settled annually. No paper will be sent out of the State unless paid for IN ADVANCE, and all such way of cautioning those who are dis- subscriptions will invariably be discontinued at satisfied with their comfortable homes | the expiration of the time for which they are in old Pennsylvania and are moved to paid. emigrate to the West. We find an article on the same subject in last week's Inquirer, and as we are glad to find something in that paper which we can endorse, we transfer the article to our columns with our special commendation. The Inquirer has the floor: "Every few days, some one of our subscribers drops into our office to or-der a lot of sale bills for himself or his neighbor preparatory to moving west. When questioned as to his motives for er, opportunities are greater, the people are more enterprising. These people looking west ward are always of one or the other of two classes. Young persons who, to use their own language, want to go where the people are wide awake; or older persons, who lacking awake; or older persons, who lacking enterprise themselves, hope by getting into live communities to be wafted on to fortune on the current of other peo-ple's energies. To both classes we would say, look before you leap, think before you move. Besure that the same labor expended, the same energies put forth and the same hardships endured here would not yield you the same re-turn as there. Thousands yearly leave good farms, comfortable homes and kind friends, in this and other parts of the State, to seek their fortunes in the far west. Many, dissatisfied with their western experience, return in a few OFFICE OF THE CONNELLS-far western experience, return in a few Philadelphia, Feb. 19, 1867. western experience, return in a few years to find their former homes occupied by more prudent and thrifty men, while they themselves are poorer than when they first left the old homestead. Others succeed in their new homes and write glowing letters to old friends and acquaintances of the tempting prospects of the great west, but if they, wondering at the stolidity that keeps people among the hills of old Pennsylvania. conclude to visit their old home and see what is wrong, they generally find the friends they left behind them, quite as well off as themselves and some-times a little better. Distance lends enchantment to the view in going west as well as in many other things. We would not deter any one from go ing where he is convinced he can succeed best in his calling whatever it may be. But Pennsylvania has not yet reached the maximum density of population consistent with the highest prosperity. This is the case not only in agricultural and mining pursuits but in the numberless other attending trades and professions. Even Bedford county is capable of sustaining double her present population and giving to all advantages of every kind superior what the present population now enjoys. We are called slow and old fogy. So we will continue to be while the young and enterprising portion of our population yearly emigrates west. It is to the young we must look for enterprise and not to the old. It is the greater preponderance of young men in our Western States that give them their character for thrift and energy. There is not a farm in Bedford county on which twice as much labor and capital could not be expended with a two or threefold increase of profits. There is not a factory of any kind in the county possessing the requisite power where the machinery and hands employed might not be doubled with profit to the manufacturer, his employes and the community around about him. Energy in one branch of business begets energy in another, so thrift begets thrift. If our young men will stay at home and devote their time, talents energies and capital to the development of our own rescources we soon cease to be called old fogy."

Episcopal Church.—Rev. Barrow resumed his duties at the Court House, last Sabbath, and in the evening commenced a series of discourses on the "Life Labors and Journeyings of St. Paul." The subject for next Sunday evening will be "The persecutor converted." Next Wednesday being Ash Wednesday and the first day of Lent, there will be Services morning and evening. MADAME H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catasrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those separated, gives information concerning absent triends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives your name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and yher almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmanent—the maleful stand the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Constitution for settlement.

last tracts there is an aimost untinted quantity of excellent timber. The whole is well watered.

The above described real estate is pleasantly situated in a fine agricultural district, at the very head of railroad market, where all produce raised can be sold at the highest prices; and as the saw mill is one of the finest in the county, and there is a large quantity of valuable yellow pine and oak on the same, and the transportation to railroad is quite convenient, it is considered a valuable point for the manufacturing of lumber; besides there is an immense quantity of rock oak bark on the premises. It is believed that the lumber and bark capacity of the premises, alone, is worth all the money the property will sell for. The particular attention of farmers and lumbermen is invited; as the water-power is of great strength, the mill site is very valuable, and quite a profitable chopping business can now be done in addition to the manufacturing of lumber. The property is likely to sell at a very moderate price.

Terms:—One half cash at the confirmation of the sale and the remainder in one year from that time.

Sale to commence at 10 o'clock, A. M., of said day. GEORGE HOOVER. GEORGE HOOVER.
