The new Poor House, that is so great ly needed .- Bedford Inquirer.

Yes, "the new Poor House that is so greatly needed !" Why didn't your scurvy Radical legislature pass the bill to enable the Poor Directors to build a new Poor House?

An effort was made to get a bill passed by the late Legislature to enable the Poor Directors to sell the Poor House property and purchase another, or if they concluded not to sell, to erect a new building for the accommodation of the paupers. By some means or other this bill was defeated. This is all wrong, as a new Poor House is badly needed and must be erected soon.

If such blundering has been going on in the management of the county affairs, is it not high time the present incumbents of that department be relieved from their duties, and men competent and willing to conduct the county affairs, placed in their stead.-Inquirer.

Yes, by all means! Let us have the old Know Nothing Board of Poor Directors, Geo. D. Shuck and G. D. Trout, Esqs., re-elected. The "deficits and mistakes" in their time, though heavy, can be overlooked. And, also, let us Collector for the county, He might fork over without being sued.

The Savannah Republican says the "wildest days of St. Domingo" have been reproduced in Southern Georgia, by bad negroes. Murders and other atrocities are of constant occurrence.

Yes, John Brown's soul is marching on! The Gospel of Murder taught by the Abolition Saint when yet in the fle h is being practically fulfilled by his followers. Congress has bound the white people of the South hand and foot, and the "bad negroes" have a nice time of it in the way of hanging women and cutting the throats of infants

BEECHER ON RADICALISM.

The following objurgation upon the misdeeds of his party, is from the lips of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher :

"The men at Washington and Albany sold their country; they sold their humanity and their honor, and the trusts that were put upon them by their constituents. They were debauchers of the young; they were the traitors; they that lifted the sword were not half so much traitors; they that despoiled the old bauner and trod it under foot; they that fired upon the government of the United States were not so much traitors as were those vermin who were crawling under the foundations and destroying by corruption the vital power of the government."

When Mr. Beecher "went back upon" the Conservatives, last fall, the Radicals took great delight in twitting the Democrats as to the defection of the reverend gentleman. What have they to say, now, in regard to his position? What do they think of the testimony of this "great man" touching the treason of their own representatives in Congress? We would especially call the attention of the Bedford Inquirer to this latest political sermon of "the eminent divine." Do you remember, O ye fellows around the corner, how you wanted to know, last fall, whether we had seen Beecher's last letter? Now, we have our revenge upon you. Have you seen Beecher's latest, and if so, will you publish it?

WHERE THE COUNTY DEBT CAME FROM.

Let the Responsibility Rest Where It Belongs.

The quidnuncs of the Inquirer are seized with periodical spasms at the thought that the clique to which they belong cannot get into their clutches the management of the finances of this county. Their palms itch most intolerably for the handling of the people's have J. R. Durborrow for General Tax taxes and the very idea of the Democrats controlling the affairs of the county, operates upon them, at times, like an attack of hydrophobia. Then it is > that they fume and fret about the 'county's indebtedness" and subjects of a kindred nature. As we understand the pathology of their disease pretty thoroughly, we hardly ever fail in trying to check it. Just now they appear to be threatened with a rather violent seizure, but their friends need not be alarmed, as we have a few pills which we will administer in due time, the effect of which will be most charming. The Bedford Inquirer, of last week contains an article under the caption of "Where the Taxes Have Gone," in which occurs the following language: "Compelled at last to investigate the matter or have others investigate it two or three of the party magnates, with the officials of the Poor House establishment, set themselves to work last week, and after a couple days arduous labor, succeeded in discovering deficits and mistakes to the amount of about Ten Thousand Dollars." The above is false in several particulars. 1. There was no compulsory "investigation." A settlement was had between the Poor Directors and Mr. Blymyer, late Treasurer of the Poor House, to which both parties assented. Nobody acted in the capacity of a "party magnate," but Mr. Blymyer had his attorney and the Poor Directors had theirs. The settlement covered the whole of Mr. Blymyer's time as Treasurer, (which commenced in 1856) and was made in the most thorough and careful manner. 2. Mr. Blymyer's indebtedness to the county, as ascertained by this settlement. does not amount to Inquirer. The sum which Mr. Blymyer owes the county is $7,000, just $3,000 less than the Inquirer's figures. So much for this subject. The Inquirer asks: "Will not the keepers of the Democ-
