Democratic County Ticket.

FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY, E. F. KERR, of Bedford Borough. FOR TREASURER ISAAC MENGEL, of Bedford Bor. R COMMISSIONER.

FOR AUDITOR SAMUEL WHIP, of Cumb. Valley.

RADICAL B. H. CONVENTION.

The Fourth of July was desecrated by a meeting of Greely's "Blockheads," in the Court House, in this place, to nominate a "ticket," and to let the B. H. brethren of this Congressional district know that the firm of J. B. C. & Bro. are running the Radical machine in this county,-especially the latter. The "Ticket" is composed as follows: District Attorney, M. A. Points; Treasurer, John R. Jordan; Commissioner, Wm. Karns, Poor Director, Adam Ullery, Auditor, ---- Swartz. These are respectable gentlemen, but not a whit more so than the candidates on the Democratic ticket. Mr. Karns and Mr. Ullery have not had the experience in business possessed by Mr. Barton and Mr. Noble, their Democratic opponents, and are not, in any particular, so well qualified for the offices for which they are named, as the latter. The head of the ticket, Mr. Points, is a Copperhead, of 1863-4, and the tail end, Mr. Swartz, is an estimable young gentleman who voted for Hiester Clymer last year. The nomination of Mr. Swartz was intended to buy him back into the Radical organization. We don't think he can be bought so cheap. But, of course, the "ticket" was put up only to be knocked down, and we suppose the candidates on it can stand that operation about as well as any body else. The election of the Democratic county ticket is a foregone conclusion. The fight in this neck of the woods, will be for the members of the Legislature. Let Democrats organize for the election of reform candidates, and the district will be redeemed.

WOODEN NUTMEGS ON THE BENCH.

The Radical State Convention metat Williamsport, on the 26th inst., and nominated H. W. Williams, of Pittsburg, formerly of Connecticut, as their candidate for Supreme Judge. Judge Linn, Judge Pearson, Judge Taylor, and other native Pennsylvanians, better jurists, all of them, than Williams, were thrust aside in order to toady to New England. The people of Pennsylvania are presented by the Democrats, with a candidate who is the pride and boast of the legal profession of the State, whilst, on the other hand, the Radicals ask them to support a wooden nutmeg Yankee, whose obscurity is his only recommendation as a candi-

ANOTHER STATE OUT OF THE UNION.

The State of Kentucky is refused representation in Congress. The whole delegation is Democratic; hence its exclusion by the Radicals. RUMP B. H. CONGRESS.

We are afflicted, during the heated meet to revise their work. What do right, of course. the people think of such legislative butchery, anyhow?

THE Bedford Inquirer remarks that the Democratic Convention "must have had the public funds in view," when they appointed Mr. Mardorff ion of the State Government. Chairman of the County Committee. Mr. Mardorff says that one of the editors of the Inquirer "must have had the public funds in view," some time ago, when he asked him (Mardorff) to lend him some of the County's money to pay off his (the editor's) Tax Duplicate.

He "mentions the thing" to "Dad," and the latter likes it first rate. So J. B. elects "Dad" for Fulton county, and this legislative district is represented at Williamsport, by J. B. Cessna & Bro. The day of the Convention arrives and with it a peck of troubles to J. B. He had resolutions to fix up, Judge Taylor's interests were entrusted exclusively to his championship, and he had to take care of the verdant delegate from Fulton. Everything, however, passed off swimmingly, until the Convention assembled, when J. B. found it impossible to keep his fidgetty brother quiet. "Dad" was the first man on the floor and the last one to leave it. But, owing to the prudence of J. B., sundry resolutions and a cut-and-dry speech covering twenty-four sheets of fools-cap, did not get out of the coat-pockets of the irrepressible "Dad." Nevertheless, toward the close of the Convention, the latter found himself in an ugly snarl, he having offered a resolution that the Convention proceed to the election of a Chairman of the State Committee, expecting, of course, that, as the mover of the resolution, he would be selected to fill the position. The friends of Mr. Jordan saw the "drift of the thing," and at once took "Dad" by the neck. It was in this awful emergency that his guardian angel, the prudent and sapient J.
