

THE GREAT RADICAL PRINCIPLE.

It appears that Negro Suffrage is beyond doubt, a plank in the Radical platform. It is the "great principle" (to quote Greeley et al.) "which alone can lead the Republicans to victory." To be sure, there is another principle, that of retaining the spoils, which animates the minds of many of the Radical persuasion, but even some of these begin to think that the easiest way to continue their party in office, is to give the Negro the balance of power. Upon this point we quote the Philadelphia Morning Post, a Republican journal of

But the gentlemen who propose to take negro suffrage out of our platform, would leave the party without a mission. They would vainly seek to rally the people by loud denunciations of treason, Union. No thinking man now troubles himself about the crimes of Jeff. Davis, and the victories of the war, except so far as they are matters of history. negro suffrage, and the party cannot evade it, without ceasing to be a par-

This is, to say the least of it, straightforward and ingenuous. Here we have a leading "Republican" journal confessing, in so many words, that "the issue before the country is negro suffrage," and that "the party cannot evade it, without ceasing to be a party." Let, then, this issue be as squarely met as it is boldly made. Let the line be drawn between those who would prostitute the ballot-box to the base uses of ignorance and degradation, and those who would keep it pure and undefiled in the hands of the whi 'e man. Neighbors! Friends! You must be on one side of this line or the other. Will you, rather than give up your adherence to your party, see the fate of your country placed in the hands of an ignorant, debased and semi-barbarous race, or will you say, with us, in answer to the Philadelphia Post, If the Republican party cannot exist without Negro Suffrage, in God's name, let it "cease to be a party."
