Our Grand Ticket!

The Democratic National Convention assembled at New York on the 4th inst., and remained in session until the 9th. Its labors were entirely harmonious, and the result reached is one of which the Democracy may well be proud. A platform of principles in which there is no evasion, no equivocation, but which goes straight to the mark, was unanimously adopted. Upon this platform are placed the greatest statesman in the Union, and the most dashing soldier of the war. Horatio Seymour, of New York, is a name which is a household word with every man who loves civil liberty, re-he appears as Hyperion to a satyr. Chickamauga, who marched with Sherman to the sea, this dashing hero represents the soldier element of the country upon the ticket. GEN. W. S. HANCOCK has openly declared that he is gratified with the nomination of Mr. Seymour, as in the country.

BRAINS VS. BUTTONS.

The Democracy of the Union present the name of the greatest Statesman of the age, HORATIO SEYMOUR, as their Standard-bearer during the coming struggle. The Radicals ask the people to vote for Grant, a man who knows nothing about civil affairs and whose private character is assailed even by his own partizans. The Democrats say for their candidate, that he understands the workings of our government, that he has been a close student of the Federal Constitution, that he is a friend of civil and religious liberty, that he has always stood up against intolerance and tyranny, that he is an educated and talented christian gentleman, and that from his administration the people can expect relong and so heavily oppressed them. The Radicals can say for their candidate only this, that he stepped into the Lieutenant-Generalship over the dead ship. Now, can it be possible, that any man can mistake in making his choice between these two men? Can it be that any sensible, patriotic man should desire to place the destiny of this country in the hands of an ignorant blunderer, controlled by the corrupt Washburne, rather than in the hands of an accomplished statesman and honest patriot like Horatio Seymour? It is Brains against Buttons, Statesmanship making the choice.

But the West, not being able to nominate Mr. Pendleton, desired to nominate one of their own gallant generals for Vice the Southern States, the very men who for President, and that Gen. Hancock will then be placed at the head of the War Department.

Horatio Seymour, when Governor of New York, in 1863, sent his troops to the relief of Harrisburg, when the rebels threatened it, before Gov. Curtin had got a single militia man in the field. By this timely action he assisted in checking the rebs., and they were compelled to fall back upon Gettysburg where they were defeated .-

CLOSING SCENE IN THE NEW YORK animous vote New York for Horatio AMNESTY PROCLAMATION BY PRESI-

By the President of the United States--/ Proclamation.

Whereas, In the month of July, Anno Domini 1861, in accepting the conditions of civil war, which was brought about by insurrection and rebellion in several of the States which constitute the United States, the two Houses af Congress did solemnly declare that that war was not waged on the part of the Government in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation; nor for any purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but only to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as those objects should be accomplished, the war on the part of the Government should cease; and,

Whereas, The President of the United States has, heretofore, in the spirit of that declaration, and with the view of securing for it ultimate and com plete effect, set forth several proclamations offering amnesty and pardon to persons who had been or were concerned in the afore-named rebellion, which proclamations, however, were attended with prudential reservations and exceptions then deemed necessary and proper, and which proclamations were respectively issued on the 8th day of December, 1863, on the 29th day of March, 1864, on the 29th day of May, 1865, and on the 7th day of September, 1867: and.

Whereas, The said lamentable civil war has long since altogether ceased with an acknowledgement by all the States of the supremacy of the Federal Constitution, and of the Government thereunder; and there no longer exists any reasonable ground to apprehend a renewal of the said civil war, or any foreign interference, or any unlawful resistance by any portion of the people of any of the States to the Constitution and laws of the United States

Whereas, It is desirable to reduce the standing army, and to bring to a speedy termination military occupa-tion, martial law, military tribunals, abridgement of the freedom of speech and of the press, and suspension of the privilege of habeas corpus, and of the right of trial by jury, such encroach-ments upon our free institutions in time of peace being dangerous to lic liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizen, contrary to the genious and spirit of our Republican form of government and exhaustive of the National resources, and,

Whereas, It is believed that amnesty and pardon will tend to secure a complete and universal establishment and prevalence of municipal law and order. in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, and to remove all appearances and presumptions of a retaliatory or vindictive policy on the part of the Government, attended by unnecessary disqualifications, pains, penalties, confiscations and disfranchisements, and on the contrary to promote and procure complete fraternal reconciliation among the whole people, with due submission to the Constitution and laws; now, Therefore, Be it known that I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do, by virtue of the Constitution, and in the name of the people of the United States, hereby proclaim and declare unconditionally, and without reservation, to all and every person who directly or indirectly participated in by the authority of the executive, who the late insurrection or rebellion, excepting such person or persons as may be under presentment or indictment in competent jurisdiction upon a charge of which are in palpable violation of its fundamental principle.

Not only should every Democrat have his county newspaper, during the coming campaign, but he should likewise make it a point to furnish his Republican neighbor a copy. This is the plan upon which our opponents have acted for years, and it is about years I have been urged by kind freinds, who time that Democrats do something of the same sort. NOW, GO TO WORK large expense, now that the country is flooded and put your Democratic newspaper into the hands of every Republican who will read. If you will do this you will accomplish more good in six months than you will by any other means in six years. Democratic politicians, throughout the county, are enabled, by the above low terms, to circulate Democratic newspapers at a very small cost.
