This looks very well, on paper, and, of course, the radical journals pretend to be in transports over the "great reduction of the State debt," as they triumphantly style it. But the receipts into the ting controversies. Or were the demands of the late political campaign so urgent that a "secret service fund" had to be levied out of the State Treasury? Stop your blowing, Mr. Radical, and explain this matter.

The present Sinking Fund law was passed by a Democratic legislature and approved by a Democratic governor. that it shall provide, 1st. Congress has adjourned to January 5th. A number of important political measures have been introduced, but none have yet been acted upon. On last Friday eulogies of the late Thad. Stevens were pronounced, when Sumner took occasion to belittle himself by flinging the dirt of the grave in the faces of the living.

A bill to provide for a new Executive Mansion was introduced by Morton. Georgia is to be legislated out of the Union, so that Congress can again reconstruct it. The indications are that additional reconstruction acts will be passed bearing upon the status of that State. The object is plainly to overthrow the present legislature so that the new one may send Gov. Bullock to the Senate, in place of Hill or Miller. Mr. Edmunds introduced a bill to repeal the act admitting Georgia to representation, and restoring the expelled negroes to their seats in the Legislature of that state. Bullock, the carpet-bag Governor is at the, bettom of this mischief, and opposed to him is Ex-Gov. Brown who says that Georgia has enough of reconstruction.

give satisfaction to all other foreign nations. I am aware that upon the questions of further extending our possessions, it is apprehended by some, that our political system cannot be suc-cessfully applied to an area more extended than our continent, but the con viction is rapidly gaining ground in the American mind, that with the inreased facilities for intercommunica tion between all portions of the earth, the principles of free government a embraced in our constitution, if faithfully maintained and carried out, would prove of sufficient strength and breadth o comprehend within their sphere and influence the civilized nations of the world.

Domingo and the entire West Indies, except the Spanish Islands of Cuba and Porto Rico, has been followed by a prefound popular conviction of the rightfulness of republican institutions, and an intense desire to secure them.

The attempt, however, to establish republics there encounters many obsta-colonial supineness and dependence upon European monarchial powers.

done by us, on the other hand, to attach the communities by which we are surrounded o our own country, or to lend even a moral support to the ef-forts they are so resolutely and so con-stantly making to secure republican institutions for themselves. It is, in-deed, a question of grave considera-tion whether our recent and present example is not calculated to check the growth and expansion of free princi-ples, and make those communities dis-trust, if not dread, a Government which at will consigns to military with the express consent of the peopl of those islands. This treaty still re

Foreign possession or control of those communities has hitherto hindered the growth and impaired the influence of the United States. Chronic revolu-tions and anarchy there would be e-qually injurious. Each one of them, when firmly established as an indepen-dant morphila and indepen-the solution of the political and social problems which are continually kept

The attention of the Senate and of Congress is again respectfully invited to the treaty for the establishment of commercial reciprocity with the Ha-waiian Kingdom, entered into last year and already ratified by that government. The attitude of the United States towards these islands is not very different from that in which they stand towards the West Indies. It is known and felt by the Hawaiian government and people that their government and institutions are feeble and precarious, and that the United States, being so near a neighbor, would be unwilling to see the island pass under foreign control. Their prosperity is continually disturbed by expectations and alarms of unfriendly political proceedings, as well from the United States as from other foreign powers. A reciprocity treaty, while it could not materially diminish the revenue of the United States, would be a guaranty of the good will and forbearance of all nations, un til the people of the islands shall of themselves, at no distant day voluntarily apply for admission into the U-

I have invited his atten-tion to the importance of establishing now while it is easy and practicable, a fair and equal regulation of the vast fisheries belonging to the two nations in the waters of the North Pacific Ocean. The two treaties between the United States and Italy in the regulation of consular power, and the extradition of criminals, negotiated and ratified here during the last session of Congress, have been accepted and confirmed by the Italian government. A liberal consular convention, which has been negociated with Belgium, will be submitted to the Senate.

The very important treaties which were negotiated between the United States and Germany and Bavaria, for the regulation of the rights of hatural, ion ized citizens, have been duly ratified and exchanged, and similar treaties have been entered into with the King of Belgium and Wurtemburg, and with the Grand Dutchies of Baden and Hes se Darmstadt. I hope soon to be able to submit equally satisfactory conventions of the same character now in the course of negociation with the respective governments of Spain, Italy and of the Ottoman Empire.

THE GREAT MUSIC HALL ORGAN. -Since the introduction of this noble instrument, a higher standard of Organ music has been presented to the public and every Wednesday and Saturday noon, the people from different portions of the country, who happen to be journeying through the city, gather to listen to the tones of the grand King of instruments, and thus the taste for a purer style of Organ music, has, in a degree, been created. Even those who have long studied the Piano, are beginning to desire a class of music with sustained chords and suspended harmonies, and many are introducing into their homes the AMERICAN ORGANS, manufactured by S. D. & H. W. Smith, of Boston, with which the excellent Organ pieces may be so finely rendered and enjoyed in the parlor. These instruments have also greatly assisted in elevating the taste toward a better class of music, and have been very efficient assumed by some of the more reckless in developing the latent talent in the home circle.--Boston Post.
