Changeable-the weather.

Very tight-the money market. The place to get bargains is at Berkstresser's. The poultry punished during the Holidays was immense. For full proceedings of the Legislature, see Morning Patriot.

Go to the Bedford Clothing Emporium for gents' furnishing goods.

For the latest telegraphic news read the great central daily, the Morning Patriot.

Riots or rows caused by drunkenness, are now called benzine explosions.

Buy your ready-made clothing of R. W. Berkstresser.

Folks talk of the bad effects of hoarding gold. We should like to make the experiment.

If Carl Schurtz is elected Senator from Missouri, he will be the dirtiest Schurtz in the Senate.

R. W. Berkstresser is selling off all his fall and winter clothing at greatly reduced prices.

For the latest and fullest cattle, produce, oil and money markets, read the Morning Patriot.

Getting desperate-the fight for the Post Office. "The combat deepens, on, ye brave !'

The corn crop of 1869 promises an immense yield. Cause-the high heeled boots worn at present.

There are some pavements not far distant that need the attention of the borough authorities. The owners thereof seem very indifferent as to their condition.

A. B. Cramer & Co. are determined to reduce their large stock of goods, and offer great inducements to buyers. See their advertisement in another column.

THE Morning Patriot is delivered to subscribers in Bedford, on the same day on which it is printed, twenty four hours in advance of other city dailies.

CARRIER'S ADDRESS to the patrons 1869: Dear friends, you'll not expect me, In my very juvenile verse, Much of the past year's doings

At this time to rehearse. For to your doors I've weekly Brought all the current news, And if you didn't read it 'Twas that you didn't choose.

You certainly do remember Events within a year That did befall the tenants Of this sublunar sphere. I'll only jog your memory Concerning a very few; 'Tis well to think on the Old Year

As we begin the New. I've read in Peter Parley, Of many cruel wars, Of fire and blood and carnage That mark'd the world with scars.

These things in times barbaric The human race befel, Turning God's beautiful foot-stool Into a raging hell.

Since then the christian era, Has dawn'd the storm to still, With Peace the ruling principle, And toward men Good Will. Now, look you through the year that's gone. And tell me, does the age Fulfil the Christian doctrine, Or repeat old Pariey's page?

From where the bright LaPlata His silver billows rolls, To where the waning Crescent Gleams o'er the Cretan knolls; From Erin's emerald headlands, To faction-rent Japan; How much of man's humanity Is there toward his fellow man? Alas! the same old story Of battle, spoil and rage, Of Lust and Fraud and Tyranny,

Mar the historic page. In the Old World king-craft struggle To hold its blood stain'd thrones,

The Eastern gales are laden With the suffering people's groans. The bayonet props the power Of monarchies effete And the people toil and perish To support the bayonet. But Spain has burst the shackles That bound her far too long,

And the Castilian valleys Now ring with freedom's song. Old Ireland, too, is giving Her enemies hot work, And Crete is springing from the wave

To free her from the Turk. And in this Great Republic, This proud land of the free, The vampire Reconstruction Kills the bird of Liberty. Beneath the once broad ægis

Of the fundamental law, Whereat the nations wondered As its perfectness they saw, Millions of people languish, In civil slav'ry bound ; So that their shameful bondage

May to party ends redound. Five hundred thousand white men, American citizens born, Of every right they hold most dear

By usurpation shorn! Americans as we,

HUNTINGDON, Dec. 30, 1868. EDITORS GAZETTE :- We notice in the Inquirer, some lying remarks made by its editor in reference to one of our agents who is now canvassing your county, not in the interest of the Democratic Party, but of humanity. He says first this agent is a New Englander, which would benocrime, (although it is not true) except that he was a member of the Radical Party. We are astonished at the impudence of this editor to cast reflections upon a section of country from which emanate all the ideas of Radicalism and from which he and all such silly mongrel editors receive their political instructions He says further that "the agent, though an entire stranger in the community, is thoroughly posted as to the whereabouts of every disciple of the lost cause" and can readily distinguish the object of his search from a Radicai Republican, and this editor seems astonished at this fact. We would just say here that we would not employ a man to work for us, who we thought could not readily distinguish an honest man and Democrat from the editor of the mongrel sheet of Bedford. This dirty mongrel, whose patriotism was first strong enough to give him rheumatism of the hip joint, which prevented his shouldering a musket and marching to the front, as he no doubt was anxious to do, seems to be greatly disturbed for fear too many of the honest people of Bedford, who are anxious to read truth, may patronize our agent, and, therefore, sounds the alarm, by calling their attention to the conduct of an eastern gent, who some time since, it is represented, swindled the good people of your county, and who (as we are informed on good authoriity) was a full blooded Black Republican, and, therefore, had just honor enough to take advantage of the people. He further calls our agent "the Negro Supremacy book man," forgetting the fact that Radicals like himself alone advocate the supremacy of the Black Race, whilst Democrats believe in the superiority of the Caucasian over all other races and especially over the Negro Race; and for this reason, advocate just what our book advocates, white supremacy and Negro subordination. Of course, we do not contend that some niggers are not just as intelligent, and many of them more honorable, than this Radical editor. He says further that our agent was defrauding the government by "doing business without license." Our agent supposed that he was not liable to take out license, and telegraphed us on this point. We are quite sure he is honest, even if he does not fully understand all the requirements of the Abolition revenue swindle. We presume that the $10.00 paid by our man, goes towards paying off the $2,200,000 given to our Radical Representatives in congress for their votes and influence in making the Alaska appropriation, and toward hundreds of other items, equally villainous, perpetrated by our Rad-

But even if our agent did try to swindle the government, he did no more than this same Radical editor, who cheated the government out of his loyal services, which were needed in the front, during the war, by limping

Quite a number of prominent Radicals, from this place, have gone to Harrisburg to "assist" the Legislature which | Half-barbarous negroes sit and rule convened on Tuesday. THE POOR HOUSE QUESTION .- At the late term of court a petition from a number of citizens was presented, asking the court to issue a preliminary injunction to restrain the County Commissioners from incurring any further expense in the erection of the proposed new Alms House. This the court refused to do because complainants had not filed the necessary bond of $10,000 to indemnify the contractor, &c. Bills in Equity were duly filed, and upon these the court-Judge Rowe on the bench-ordered the injunction to issue. This, of course, stops all efforts to erect a new alms house. The case may be taken to the Supreme Court, and if the opinion of the court below be reversed, the work will go on, otherwise not.

CEMETERY CONCERT .- The concert and festival for the benefit of the Bedford Cemetery Association, which was held last week, was a successful affair. Those who were fortunate enough to be present aver that it was decidedly the best entertainment ever given to the good people of Bedford. About $230 were realized for beautifying the Bedford Cemetery.
