prepared a table, showing the average yield per acre, during 1868, of the principal crops in the country, and the average price per bushel on Jan. 1, 1869. According to this table, in Pennsylvania the yield per acre are as follows :--Wheat, 12.8 bushels; rye, 13.2 bushels; barley, 21.4 bushels; oats, 27.8 bushels; corn, 35 bushels; buck wheat, 16.5 bushels; white potatoes, 88 bushels; sweet potatoes, 90 bushels, and hay, 1.35 tons. The average price per bushel on January 1st, 1869, were: Wheat $1.89; rye, $1.32; barley, 1.65; oats, 64 cts; corn, $1; buckwheat, $1.90; white potatoes, 93 cts; sweet potatoes, $1.66, and hay, $16 per ton. The several crops of Pennsylvania therefore yield the following money value per acre : Wneat, $25.84; rye, $17.42; barley 35.09; oats, 17.79; corn, $35; buckwheat, $17.99; white potatoes, $81.84; sweet potatoes, $149.40, and hay, $21.60. Due regard must be paid to the fact that some of these crops, such as barley and sweet potatoes, are only produced within narrow limits, and cannot therefore be taken as a fair specimen of their yield Disease among Turkeys .- Farmers and housekeepers have had a plethora of various species of cholera among their cattle, poultry, &c. Horse cholera, cow cholera, sheep cholera, hog cholera and chicken cholera, have all had their day and their numerous victims. Cholera is generally incurable. hence whatever attacks an animal and carries it off, no matter what the nature of the ailment, is pronounced a cholera. The latest is the turkey choldifferent parts of the country, and is rapidly reducing their ranks. It first appears in the drooping appearance of the fowl, soon followed by the swelling of the head and throat and an incapacity to eat and drink. Examination shows that the tongue is thickly coated with a white gummy substance which fills the lower bill and chokes the fow l. A remedy which if applied in time, effects a cure, is to remove the gummy substance with a stick, and fill the mouth with lard and pepper. Housekeepers who note with alarm the destruction of a flock which cost so much labor and care last summer, will do well to note the remedy. Sowing clover will no doubt be the most expeditious and cheap method of restoring worn out lands, or to continthree or four times as much as that barnyard. The roots of clover furnish as much fertilizing material as the top growth. They are strong and home," said he. That's a likely story, farmers turn under the crop when Defend the Weak Cattle .- Some farmers are not as careful as their true interests require them to be in separating weak stock from the strong and aggressive when the season of storms and feeding comes round. In most herds embracing any considerable number, will be found some animals diminutive in size and timid in proportion to their physical weakness, which the more vigorous attack whenever a modest effort is made to share in the food supplied. They are hooked here and chased there by the strong, and should enlist the care and sympathy of their owner. It will pay well to provide a separate inclosure for such animals till sufficiently developed to hold their own at feeding time, or, till they are fit to too hasty in judging ill of a person be disposed of in some other way to advantage. If left to shirk for themselves they will be likely to go under before spring, or should they winter through they will be in a condition so exhansted as to render them next to valuless for that season.

> Potatoes should always be kept in the dark. Rural housekeepers do not need to be told this, but many others who live in towns and cities should known that potatoes exposed to the light, for a day only, have their flavor injured, and the longer exposed the worse they are. Never use a greenish potato.

There was a lucky farmer near Dubuque, Iowa. On Monday night of last week two of his sheep became the mothers of seven lambs; one producing three and the other four. One of his seventeen pigs ; and his wife presented him with two bouncing boys.
