

A REGISTRY LAW. More Expense and More Trouble to the People.

In keeping with the purpose of the radical party to fetter the people and concentrate power in the hands of the tricksters who now control public affairs, a Registry Law was passed by the late legislature, which requires the Assessors of the several election districts, on the first Monday in June, to revise the list of taxables furnished them by the commissioners, and then to visit every dwelling-house in the district to make further assessments.

The "rights of man!" Exactly. That is precisely what we contend for, when we resist the adoption of the XVth Amendment. That Amendment is intended to swindle the people out of one of their dearest rights, by depriving them of the control of the elective franchise, and, therefore, confers no right, but works a flagrant and outrageous wrong.

A LITTLE HISTORY.

Some of the radical journals assert that prior to the adoption of the present State Constitution, persons of the African race exercised the right of suffrage in Pennsylvania. They lay great stress upon the fact that in Penn's charter and in the Constitution of 1790, every "freeman" was made an elector. They carefully avoid stating that negroes were slaves in Pennsylvania from the time of their introduction into the state until the year 1780. They were slaves when the Declaration of Independence was adopted and remained so for four years afterward, when they were liberated by what is known as the Emancipation Act. In an act passed in 1726, negroes were denominated "an idle and slothful people," and magistrates were directed to "bind out free negroes for laziness or vagrancy." The penalty of reduction to slavery was added, in the same act, to the crime of a negro intermarrying with a white person. Hence, as negroes were slaves until 1780, and especially under the ban of the law, it follows that they could not have been voters prior to that date. Penn's charter, therefore, did not enfranchise them, for under it and its amendments they were held in slavery.

As to the meaning of the word "freeman" in the Constitution of 1790, we have the unanimous decision of the Supreme Court, in an opinion delivered by the greatest jurist that ever sat upon the bench of Pennsylvania, John Banister Gibson. In 6 Watts, page 553, is reported the case of Hobbs against Fogg, in which a negro of Luzerne county brought suit against an election board for refusing his vote. The case was carried to the Supreme Court, which unanimously decided that the word "freeman" in the Constitution of 1790, did not apply to negroes or persons of color.

EXACTLY.

There is a great ado in the Radical journals about the rights of man. That is, the rights of the black man. Under the General principle of extension of suffrage these hypocritical sheets cloak their base purpose of destroying altogether the power and value of the elective franchise.

The XVth Amendment proposes that the people shall give up the right to control and regulate the exercise of the right of suffrage and permit Congress hereafter to control and regulate it for them. This right was reserved by the people to themselves when the federal government was formed. Now here is one of "the rights of man" about to be taken from the people. It is true the elective franchise is to be extended to a race which has not hitherto enjoyed it, but it is not the elective franchise heretofore possessed by the white voters of the United States. It is to be something similar to the Universal suffrage in vogue in France, where every body votes, but where the votes are given according to the Imperial pleasure of Napoleon III, Congress, being the supreme power in this country, is substituted as the Napoleonic despot under this XVth Amend-

PHILADELPHIA, April 29, 1869. THE OLD FELLOWS' PARADE. On the 26th inst., was a grand affair. The day was all any one could desire; clear and a pleasant air. We went on Broad at 12 m., where the line formed, and saw the whole procession, march and counter-march. To say the sight was grand and imposing would convey a poor idea of this civic demonstration. For three miles on Broad there was a surging mass of humanity packing that great thoroughfare, and crowding the pave and street so densely as sometimes to impede the march. Every available foot, where you could gain a good view, was occupied long before the line formed. Windows, balconies, roofs, everything, were crowded. Flags and bunting were flung from almost every dwelling; and the city all over partook of the pride and excitement of the day. Such a sight is not often beheld.

We have seen no estimate of the number in line, but a friend at my side timed them by the minute averaging one hundred and twenty-five, and the whole column was two hours in passing. This, however, does not include the whole number in the city; for ten thousand at least did not march in procession. We counted fifty-two bands besides half as many drum corps. The banners and flags were rich and elegant, and taken altogether the demonstration eclipsed any civic parade ever seen in this city. We enjoyed a short ride in the procession with our friend Dr. Hickok, of your place, who is one of the Grand Officers. We are sorry our brief space prevents a more extended account. Other exercises connected with this Anniversary were equally interesting. The Odd Fellows (what a pity they have such an outlandish name, may well be proud of their noble order and deserve all the success they have thus far achieved.)

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS.

St. John's Commandery, No. 4, K. T., propose celebrating the Semi-centennial anniversary of the Commandery on the 15th of June next. Extensive preparations are being made for that event, and a large attendance of Knights from other cities is expected. In addition to the parade, a reception will be held in the Academy of Music in the evening. A splendid affair is anticipated. In this connection we might state that the Masonic Lodges in this State during the past year initiated 3700 new members, and that the whole number within the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge of Pa. is 29,840. And also, that the cost on the present time has been about $300,000. The foundation is not yet complete, and accordingly it will require about eight years and probably two and a half million dollars. When that parade and dedication comes off, may we all be there to see it!

LUTHER'S MONUMENT.

We were shown, the other evening, by the Rev. Dr. Krauth, a large medal, just sent over, commemorative of the dedication of the great monument to Luther at Worms. It is known that this monument is one of the grandest works of art in Europe or the world. The obverse of the medal contains a true picture of this monument, which cannot be described in a short article; and the reverse, the date and place, enclosing in their original language the memorable words of the great Reformer, before the Diet, "Here I Stand," &c. This medal marks the greatest epoch since the days of the Apostles, and with the recent Jubilee medal issued by the Pa. Ministerium, will be held as lasting memorials by Protestants.

DRINKING FOUNTAINS.

We are progressing not only in esthetics, art, invention, &c., but also in the department of the humane; and combining the utile cum dulci. Drinking fountains are to be an institution. We saw the new one on Walnut, opposite Seventh, the other day. It is constructed so that you can drink from the top by means of an easy arrangement; and the basin below is designed for horses, cattle and dogs. A few spontaneous fountains of soda water, on a sweltering day, would be a further improvement, we opine.

OUR TALL NEIGHBOR.

Judge Kelley, has returned from Washington, and again ensconced himself at home. Since his arrival we notice a continual stream of male visitors pouring in upon him. Wait till the women get a vote, and then we will all want to be Congressmen so we can number them among our disinterested callers. Such is the misery of political greedness. Our paper is full, and we are off to the Grand Concert of the Mendelssohn Musical Society to-night. We have had a warm, gentle rain, and Nature is gorgeous. As ever, LINDEN.

(For the Gazette.)

WOODBERY, Pa. April 27th, 1869.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—Dear Sirs:—

Permit me to use a small portion of your columns, to inform your readers of a most enjoyable affair which took place here yesterday. I refer to the celebration of the semi-centennial anniversary of Old Fellowship. At an early hour the appearance of the streets gave evidence that something unusual was about to take place. By ten o'clock the village was quite full of strangers and others, dressed in holiday attire, and looking as pleasant as a May morning. At eleven o'clock the procession was formed at the Old Fellows' Hall. It consisted of Cove, Roaring Spring and part of Allequippa Lodges of Odd Fellows, and was headed by the Patonsville Cornet Band. After the procession was concluded a very able address, suitable for the occasion, was delivered by Rev. J. Patton Moore of Allequippa Lodge, Hopewell, Pa. He was followed by Revs. Akers, Lecky, Wilkinson and Hartman, with some very pleasant remarks by Past Grand J. E. Noble, who gave a short history of the origin and success of the Order in America. The whole affair passed off very pleasantly and every one appeared to be very much pleased with the success of the celebration. The splendid regalia, jewels of the officers and banner attracted a great deal of attention along the line of march. We understand that the artist, Mr. S. B. Fluck, secured a very fine negative of the procession from which he will furnish photographs for all who want them. Hoping that the Order may ever flourish, as it apparently has here, I am, Yours Truly, P. G.

"OUR OWN."

The second number of this new candidate for public favor is before us. This magazine is working its way into the world of periodical literature with flattering evidence of success. Published by Gillin, McGrihan & Griffin, 701 Chestnut st., Phila.

PACKARD'S MONTHLY.

The May number of this popular magazine is on our table. It is thoroughly readable from beginning to end and knows nothing about the "dignity of dullness." It is just the periodical for young men. $1 a year, by S. S. Packard, 387 Broadway, N. Y.

THE vast amount of Plantation Bitters now being sold and shipped from New York is almost incredible. Go when and where you will—along the wharfs and piers, and at the depots—you will see great piles of these Bitters awaiting shipment and conveyance to every nook and corner of the country, and to the hundreds of foreign ports. They are very popular among all classes of people, and are conceded to be just the thing for this climate. No Bitters have yet been introduced which have become so deservedly popular and worthy of patronage, to all who require a tonic and stimulant. They are prepared with pure St. Croix Rum, Calisaya and Cascarella Bark, and all the world knows full well what beneficial results accrue from these combinations.

MAGNOLIA WATER.

Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. A man's first concern is to do well in the world. The second is to protect himself against want. Business enterprise will do the first; economy will sometimes result in the second. But there are contingencies in life which no thrift nor sagacity can avoid. Death may come, or pecuniary disaster, or National trouble, in which the most carefully prepared plans will be wrecked, and the proudest fortunes swept away. Thus, ever-present danger makes an ever-present duty, which is this: To protect our lives by an insurance policy which will give us an income while living, and a legacy to those we leave behind us. The National Life Insurance Company, chartered by a special act of Congress, and managed by men of National reputation for sagacity and prudence, proposes to insure lives at the lowest possible rate, and on the most liberal principles. Its advertisement will be found in another column, and we advise our readers to give it a careful study.

THE SALSAPARILLA DIGGERS OF YUCATAN.

This singular set of people are descended from the ancient Aztecs of Southern Mexico, and still retain some of the peculiarities which Stephens and Prescott gave of their ancestors. Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co. employ a small army of them in digging Sarsaparilla root. Provided with narrow spades, a coil of rope, and a bag of water, they are ready for the forest where the wild banana furnishes them with food, and thick leaved trees their only shelter. Few of those who find themselves rejuvenated by this product, know how much they are indebted to these humble laborers, who dig health for thousands of Doctor Ayer's patrons, while they sometimes lose their own. —Boston Commercial.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

The interference of the United States Courts in Kentucky in the case of John Conkey, a negro, convicted of murder and sentenced to be hung, excites considerable surprise in that State. A reprieve has been granted him by the Governor for thirty days, at the expiration of which period no further clemency will be granted.

Dr. Black, one of the physicians imprisoned on a charge of complicity in the death of the girl Eileen Corlock, was found in Hudson county (N. J.) jail the other morning with his throat cut and several wounds upon his wrist and stomach, none of which, were of a mortal nature.

The Spanish volunteers at Havana continue to exhibit inveterate bitterness towards prisoners, at the expense of dignity, decency and discipline. Notwithstanding this, the revolution progresses and is gaining strength, especially in the Eastern Department.

The Ohio Legislature has authorized Cincinnati to use ten millions of dollars for the purpose of building a short line railroad through Kentucky to connect with the Southern system of railroads.

It has been decided by the Attorney General of the United States that Collectors of Customs are entitled, since July, 1868, to retain $2,000 a year out of moneys received from importers for storage of goods in private bonded warehouses.

The western frontier of Kansas and the northern borders of Texas, it is expected, will be the theatres of more bloody Indian tragedies as soon as the grass is green and high. On Thursday, Alonza C. Mueller, of Montgomery county, Ohio, twelve miles from Cincinnati, was shot and mortally wounded by a brother-in-law while at dinner with his family. The tragedy grew out of a family quarrel. The Harrisburg Guard says: "Rafts continue to float down the Susquehanna river in large numbers, and trains are filled with returning raftsmen."
