

The Bedford Gazette.

Home and Around.

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP R.R.—SPRING ARRANGEMENT.—TIME TABLE.—On and after April 29th, passenger trains will arrive and depart as follows:

Mail Train leaves Mt. Dallas at 1.00 p. m., arrives at Huntingdon at 4.20 p. m.; leaves Huntingdon at 8.40 a. m., and arrives at Mt. Dallas at 11.52 a. m.

Accommodation Train leaves Saxton 8.20 a. m., and arrives at Huntingdon, at 10.10 a. m.; leaves Huntingdon at 3.55 p. m., and arrives at Saxton at 7.41 p. m.

Exceedingly fine—the weather.

Remarkably dull—the marrying business.

Hay is selling for $20 a ton and is scarce at that.

Bonnets, this season, are reduced in size and increased in price.

Read the new advertisements in today's GAZETTE.

A special court will be held commencing on Monday, July 19th.

The only sure remedy for gaps in young fowls, is Heckerman's Poultry Cure.

The organ-grinder was in town the other day. His occupation's nearly gone—ausgespilt.

A number of houses have received a new coat of paint and are looking as bright as new.

H. Heckerman & Son have a sure cure for the gaps in young fowls, 25 cts a box.

New three cent stamps after passing through post-offices, look like pugilists after a prize fight—both black and blue.

May parties are now the spring fashion among our young folks who are fond of fields, forests, fragnances and flowers.

Ladies are to wear silver and gold stich in their hair this summer—and any one who don't get up and dust will be ruled out of fashionable circles.

Brass and Porcelain kettles, all sizes, at the new Hardware and House-furnishing Store of Jno. F. Blymyer, next door to G. R. Oster & Co.

If your young chickens have the gaps, go at once to Heckerman's drug store and buy a box of their Poultry Cure.

A convention, to be composed of delegates from the different lodges of Good Templars in the West Juniata District, will be held at Bedford on the 18th of May.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.—J. B. Holland has been elected County Superintendent in Blair county; W. H. Sanner in Somerset, and W. P. Gordon in Fulton.

A law was passed by the Legislature, requiring all persons who sell patent rights, to get a license from the Commissioners of each county. A heavy penalty is incurred by disregarding the law.

We saw the other day a car load of corn brought to this place by a train of ten wagons. It had been shipped to Mt. Dallas from Pittsburg. This is rather bad for Bedford with plenty of corn in her granaries.

If you desire to purchase a first class article of goods, at a price to suit the times, go to Hartly & Metzger's store. None but the best of goods sold, and no misrepresentations made. We know this to be so.

J. M. Cooper, Esq. of the Chambersburg Valley Spirit, dropped into our sanctum on Monday morning, looking as hale as in the days of "Auld Lang Syne." May he long live to do battle against radicalism!

The Bedford Gazette rejoices in the occupancy of a three story brick office. The Inquirer office, immediately adjoining, has more stories in it than you can shake a stick at.—Hollingsbury Standard.

Jess, Bro. Traugh. Call and see us. Soda water for two.

IT FADES.—The beautiful violet ink so much in vogue at present eventually disappears entirely. Persons should be careful not to use it in writing notes, bonds, mortgages or anything that is to be preserved any great length of time. For these purposes good black ink is always the best.

Our readers should remember that Irvine's store, No. 2 Anderson's Row, is the place to buy good boots and shoes and buy them, too, at reasonable prices. Irvine drives his business and does not suffer his business to drive him. Call and see him.

ROBBERY.—The store room of Mr. Richard Langdon, at Riddlesburg, was robbed last week by some villain who gained entrance by breaking open the bars which secured the cellar-door. The money drawer was opened and a pocket-book containing about $56, the most of it in notes, were stolen.

LARGE TAPE WORM.—Sometime since a little girl living in the family of Mr. Hertz Keiser, manifested frequent evidence of indisposition. A few days ago Dr. Brubaker was called to see her and from the symptoms pronounced it tape-worm, and prescribed accordingly. About twelve hours after taking the medicine, she was relieved of a tape-worm 15 feet in length, and is now doing well.—Somerset Democrat.

Not if we can help it. We are too busy just now, hunting up our spare change to build a railroad. In the meantime your folks may get astraddle, paddle and skedaddle.

Later—by Velocipedogram. The "masheen" has "arrived." The little boys "laugh to see the sport" of overgrown youths tumbling over the moon-shaped means of locomotion of the villainous velocipede. Everybody is excited, and we can't write loads.

1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a cut off your nose.

Velocipedes and skating are too many for us. We tried the latter once, and in a second we were on our back studying astronomy.

We saw more stars in five minutes than we ever beheld with the naked eye before. It was a glorious sight, but we never felt inclined to repeat.

Velocipedes are a big thing on ice—skating is ditto.

THE POST OFFICE AGAIN.—To show what John Cessna's conduct in the post office embroilment, in this place, is thought of by our neighbors, we clip the following from our exchanges:

We cannot understand how a man can ask the people to be allowed to represent them, and promise to represent them, and then turn around and misrepresent them. It has become too common with the last four years, for our Senators and Representatives after election, to entirely ignore their constituents, and engineer in their own interests, for a re-nomination. In fact it is becoming unbearable and the only way to put an end to the evil is, for the organs of the party, to denounce such outrages. This matter has been brought home to us in our own district. In the town of BEDFORD, the citizens balloted for the postmaster of that place, and decided in favor of Mr. Russell. We know nothing personally of Mr. Russell, but take it for granted that he is a gentleman well qualified for the position, or the citizens would not have selected him; but what was the result of the people's expression. In place of carrying out the will of the citizens of Bedford, our Representative, Hon. John Cessna, had MAJOR WASHBAUGH, appointed postmaster, and Mr. Russell, as usual, was left out in the "cold." Mr. Washbaugh, that he must be thrust upon the citizens of Bedford, to the exclusion of Mr. Russell? Why, sir, he is a worn out politician, who has had an enormous fortune, and who has never had sufficiently the confidence of the people but once, to secure their support. What was the object of Mr. Cessna, in misrepresenting the people of Bedford, by the appointment of Washbaugh? It is well known that Major Washbaugh heretofore has been the inveterate political enemy of John Cessna. Mr. Washbaugh therefore became Mr. Cessna's supporter last fall because he thought he might be able to "kick the dirt" that fell from the "rich man's table." Major Washbaugh no doubt was promised Mr. Cessna's support for the State Senate, but not succeeding it became necessary for John Cessna to give him this office to keep him in trim for 1870. If Hon. John Cessna expects to pave the way for his re-nomination and election, by putting men in positions against the will of the people, and in the name of the Republican party, he will find that he has made a great mistake.

Mr. Cessna should remember that he was barely elected after great efforts, and that he was expected to make a fair representation and would carry out the will of his constituents. Thus far he has entirely failed, and unless his conduct hereafter conports more with the will of the people, those who voted for him, will not re-elect him. One of the strongest supporters Mr. Cessna had last fall was Jere Cook of the "Repost," and his strongest foe previous to the nomination was Ed. Scull of the "Sun." The other day, Mr. Scull, who was supplied with a good fat office, if he would support him in 1870, we suppose, and Mr. Cook was left out in the "cold." We do not know that Mr. Cook was an applicant, but he should have been the appointment without asking for it.

If Mr. Cessna desires a re-nomination we know of no better way of getting it than carrying out the expressed will of the people, but we think he can do it by any other course he is perfectly welcome to try it.—Fulton Republican.

The town of Bedford affords a striking example of the manner in which the radical politicians regard the will of the people, even the radical people. The people of Bedford held an election for postmaster at that place, and the choice resulted in a Mr. Russell, former clerk of the office, twenty two hundred majority. It was therefore considered by all parties that Mr. Russell's appointment was a foregone conclusion. But John Cessna, disregarding the expressed will of his own party friends, had Mr. Washburn appointed. Cessna's record is known to all, and the people who voted for him should not complain if he ignores them in the distribution of his official patronage.—Somerset Democrat.

CASH OR PRODUCE.—H. F. Irvine, of the Regulator, has determined to sell for cash or produce only, after the 1st day of June, next. In other words, he has adopted the Cash System. Irvine is an enterprising merchant and deserves to be sustained in this new enterprise, especially as he promises to sell goods from 10 to 15 per cent cheaper than he could do under the credit system. See his advertisement under head of "New Advertisements."

VELOCIPEDES.—Bedford has been relieved from the dignity of dullness. She has a velocipede—a real genuine Yankee velocipede—in fact, four of them!

Think of it! Four velocipedes in Bedford, the town abuzz with amazement, and the reservoir only half full of water.

"Can these things be and overcome us?"

Yes, they can; for the velocipede overcometh much.

We saw it overcome a young friend of ours, greatly to the disparagement of his trousers.

"See what a rent the envious Casca made!"

The velocipede has come; it has been seen by a curious throng, but at the present writing it has not been conquered by any yeoman, or any other man, in this bailiwick. Not by a big jug full.

This is a progressive age but a velocipede takes up a progressive idea and scatters it all over the floor. It won't entertain a notion adverse to its idea of locomotion.

Velocipedes are not to be trifled with. They knock the pins out from under you while you are trying to coax them into go-ahead-iveness.

Cruel, inanimate animals!

Snooks, who has been to see it, says the velocipede is too juvenile to travel. It can't stand alone. Snooks is disgusted.

Hezekiah's experience with his famous floppin' machine was not more disastrous to that ambitious individual, than the repeated attempts of some fellows we wot of, to ride the vicious velocipede.

They flopped. And great was the bone-aching thereof.

We hear strange tales about velocipedism. A velocipede is to be purchased for the use of candidates. They expect to go it faster.

"Our" member is to get on it, and hopes to secure a re-nomination to Congress in that way.

He is going around by the post office. It is a near cut—a