LIFE INSURANCE.-The Citizens' Cooperative Mutual Life Insurance Company of Bedford, which was recently chartered by the Legislature, promises well. Our citizens are taking hold in institutions of our county. It is truly ary pabulum until Holahan, uninvited, the poor man's friend, as its rates are so low that all may become members so should join without delay.

Both papers in Bedford, the Inquirer and Gazette, have removed to a new building, but the Inquirer is cross at the Gazette, because it styles its end the "Gazette building," the editor of the Inquirer having built the other end! We commisserate the Inquirer in its af-flictions!-Hollidaysburg Register. The follows of the

The fellows of the Inquirer are a "lettle" jealous of our fine quarters in the GAZETTE BUILDING. They can't of the Agricultural College of Pennforget it, somehow. They'll get over it by and by. Age and a little experience will wear off that rugged edge of unkind feeling toward their lucky perspiring genius to an admiring genneighbors.

READER, THINK OF IT .- An exchange aptly and truthfully says of local papers, that they enhance the value of property ; they benefit particularly merchants and real estate owners thrice the amount yearly they pay for the support. There is nothing that would do a place more harm than to be without a newspaper. This every sensible man knows. A local paper, is a necessity. It is a sacred duty to support your local paper. You need not think that the publisher of a paper can run it for your benefit and pay expenses out of his own pocket. Give your home paper a good advertising patronage and a respectable list, and you will then have just such a paper as you wish.

PUMPS .- Messrs. Rohm & Shuck respectfully announce that they will re- have been more friendly in his attacks. ceive all orders for S. G. Mason's nonfreezing pump, from this date till the ly to the defense. After losing the candidate of their choice for postmast-25th of August next. Those wishing a good serviceable pump will do well to er, whose election was "void abinitio," send in their orders at once. They have thirty five of these pumps in wells in different parts of the county, and by all parties using them they are highly recommended. This pump is now offered to the public at the followone inch and three-quarter inch.

> PLEA FOR THE BIRDS .- Don't kill the birds. We scarcely ever hear a bird sing; in fact they dare not tune their with a gun, who prowls over a meadow leaden rain. We kill the birds and then complain of the scarcity of fruit. Let the birds live, and they will increase and protect our fruit crop; nay, increase of pestiferous insects of all learn to spell better.

POLITE LITERATURE .--- Since the time when the sublime effusions of the Hard-Shell Baptists enlivened the bursts upon the world. In lofty disdain, alike of point and punctuation, he adopts no common models, but relies solely on his own unaided genius. Neither his preceptor, "our" Congress-credit of this literary achievement cannot be given. Its author is a graduate sylvania, that noble institution which, like a good foster-mother, laps and paps, and then sends forth so much eration. It is impossible to refer at length to the many fine touches that are compressed in this elegant letter. To do so would make the commentary outswell the production itself. We, our innocent selves, come in for compliment, and our amiable neighbor across the way, is presented to the public in the double and somewhat inconsistent character of "willing dupe and handmaid of the GAZETTE." In addition to being a dupe and handmaid, he is further described as "one altogether lovely." The letting out of a little secret that the Inquirer charged the party for the printing of posters for public meetings may be of use hereafter to other people. But to charge, and then "attack our public servants in a most unfriendly way" is more than the party expected. The Inquirer editor should But, happily, Holahan rushes gallant-

"partial and by no means conclusive," the public will learn with delight that the new postmaster of our village is "ready to die like Aristiades" for his office. He is willing to die, moreover, with no more money than will warrant a tragic burial with two rs; just as if a grateful government has ever failed to inhume its patriotic postmasters. In these degenerate days it is pleasing to know that Bedford at least possesses a P. M. who is willing to die for the cause. With the radical wretches who are offended at "our" Congressman and our new postmaster, Mr. Holahan has no patience. They are

"half-starved inconsiderate malcontents who want to be foremost or break something." "The respected candifore published at Hollidaysburg, will throats for fear of a brave man armed dates" are "cat paws without their consent." But we are compelled to drop and mound, ready at the first gush of comment, and admit the reader to the music to tear the warbler to pieces with perusal of this exquisite literary performance. Hereafter when Mr. Holahan wishes to write to the radicals of Bedford county, we tender him the columns of the GAZETTE which they they will add to the production of all read much more assiduously than the crops, for we verily believe that, the Fulton Republican. But he must kinds is owning to the decrease of Mr. Editor :-- I have this moment birds. When birds were plenty, we read an article published in your "Re-publican" of last week headed "Tbings we don't understand" Being a stranduced by insects, such as now derange the markets of the country, and im-you do understand or to test your understanding in anyways but in justice to you i think you have written that article under the proper caption. You have evidently permitted yourself to be imposed upon by designing narrow minded men of this section, when you speak of the Bedford P. O. Ordinary sagasity on the part of a Republican editor should have satisfied him that there was something rotten in the statement of the Bedford Inquirer, the willing dupe and handmaid of the Bedford Gazette, with reference to Mr. Cessna. In the first place the inquirer has never been friendly disposed toward Mr. Cessna, nor towards our representative, nor towards any but John Lutz and him allogether lovely. It is well worthy of observation that from the beginning of the contest for the e-lection of a congressman, the Inquirer has never refuted a single calumny fulminated by the Gazette, upon of our eandidates, nor vindicated the party beyond what would naturally have been expected of a neutral paper. Its object seems to have been to do little as it could in the least way it could without exciting the popular in-dignation. It has been of but little service to us, except to publish some bills for a consideration, while it has never allowed an opportunity to pass to attack our public servants in the to attack our public servants in the most unfriendly way, not so much for the purpose of exposing faults as to show its own importance, which I feel safe in saying is not generally realized. It is true that Mr. Russell and his friends called an election in which the subscriber was pleased to participate for the purpose of supporting him, but, when it is well known that the whole transaction was informal and abinitio and that other candidates equally meritorious whose callateral claims were beyond all question brought a just influence to bear fully entitled to the same consideration. The popular vote as it is termed was pa tial and by no means conclusive. I was therefore found expedient to com-I promise the matter by the appoint-ment of a new man one who although it is true he has filled many positions of public trust is unquestionably one of the best men in the party; and so scrupulous in his integrity as to be ready to die like Aristiades, with no ready to die like Aristiades, with ho more money than will warrant him a respectable burrial. Mr. Russel has accepted an appointment in Philadel-phia and is perfectly satisfied. The great ado is being made by the Cop-perhead papers and their republican covering the helf starved inconscripts who like half starved, inconsiderate malcontents want to be foremost or break something. All men cannot be supplied with offices and it is a shame for our party that so many persons whose sole consideration that they have carried a coffee-pot to a township meeting now feel themselves entitled to a post office or a revenue ssorship or to some other position for services rendered. Mr. Cessna has never yet turned his back upon his friends but in the distribution of public patronage he seems to hold the claim of the position and the interests of the party paramount to any persona-considerations of his own. It is due to the respected candidates for the post office here to say that they have been used as cal paws without their consent for the purpose of getting up a disrup-tion in the party and it is highly im-portant that persons should be made to understand these facts before they ettempt to would pull enditor. attempt to mould pulie opinion, Yours Respectfully WM. Hollidaysburg has an Equal Rights. League composed of colored persons. We had one here two years ago, but we believe it flopped. Who does not remember Bedford Lodge, No. 38, and the little "onpleasantness" connected therewith!

PERSONAL.-Col. J. H. Filler, of the editorial staff of the Harrisburg Patriot, is in town, enjoying a chat with his numerous friends. Fighting legislative corruptionists seems to agree with him, for he looks so frisch als eine yunge dame. Call soon again, Colonel,

A great many people imagine that printers live on old rollers, old wood type, "pi" and "sich." This is a mistake. Printers live as other peo-ple do. They must have money to buy the necessaries of life, and flatter themselves that they will get it some day from their patrons. Versteh?

pose heavy burdens on the people. It The senior of this paper is indebted is not only fruit, but grain of all kinds to friend Creutzborg, of Phila., for a is imperiled by the absence of birds to fine, fresh, Delaware shad. May the protect it. Let the feathered inhabitants of our fields and woods live; give them a chance to increase, and their services will amply repay a brutal man for the lives he spares.

UNSEATED LANDS .-- Among the bills passed by the Legislature is one providing that the Treasurer of each county shall keep a book to be called the "receipt book," in which shall be recorded the receipts of all payments made to him on account of taxes paid Dithridge's celebrated fire-proof on unseated lands, designating the lamp chimney, the only real fire-proof number of acres warrantee passed, and the name or names of owners or allegtowship where situate, and amount of taxes paid and when and by whom paid, According to the Fulton Republican a certified copy of which receipt, unno deputy. The Sheriff's office must evidence of the payment of taxes been duly recorded in accordance with the provisions of the first section of the act of March 9th, 1847; that the owners of unseated lands shall have two years from the passage of this act within which to have their receipts for taxes on unseated lands recorded in said book, where the same have not already been entered in a book heretofore kept by the Treasurer of the county for that purpose; that no parol evidence shall be received to prove the payment of taxes on unseated lands.

How TO KEEP COOL .- Now that the warm weather is coming on, the anxous housekeeper, glowing before the heated oven, will be glad to avail herself of any method of escape from its flery atmosphere. One refuge is open. Mrs. S. S. Marvin, of No. 91 Liberty street, Pittsburg, has earned the thanks of the toiling and exhausted housewife by providing for her a much greater variety of superior cakes, biscuit and erackers, than any ordinary kitched could turn out. Not only are labor and fatigue of their preparation thus avoided, but there is actual economy in procuring from Mr. Marvin, as often as required, his fresh, palatable and wholesome small cakes and va-REMOVAL .- The Inquirer Book Store | rious crackers; inasmuch as his abunhome. And yet he is serupulously careful not to secure cheapness at the expense of quality. He makes it a point to use only the best naterials, We will not stop have to enumerate the different cakes he manufactures;
