teemed with denunciations of the corfected to pray for but one man who with the educational interests of the against the foul schemes to plunder the people. There is one man who blessed. might have put his foot on the necks of the treasury-thieves, but he had neither the wish nor the plack to do it. That man is John W. Geary. He had the power to veto the payment of the Extra Pasters and Folders, but he did not do it. He could have refused to sign the Oil Pipe and Tank Bill, which gives a monopoly to a few men in piping petroleum and thus enhances its price to consumers, but he gave his assent to it. He could have squelched the infamous act destroying the Lycoming Judicial District, which was openly bought through the legislature, but he sat up till midnight that he might sign it before the people of Lycoming county could be advised of its passage. These are only instances nated me as your standard bearer of a hundred cases in which an honest and fearless Governor would have interposed his veto to save the treasury from the legislative robbers that annually infest the State capital. But Geary was hand-in-glove with those miscreants, a conspirator with them in many of the infamous measures which they pushed through the legislature, and always counted on by them to seal their work with the executive approval. He was a constituent part of the "ring." Without him that circle of thieves would not have been complete. It would have lacked an important segment. One of the questions now before the people is, Shall the Legislative Ring be broken? If the masses would give an affirmative answer, let the work and friendship manifested in this greeting, I bid you good night.

THE radicals can say nothing against Asa Packer, except that he is a man of wealth. Well, he was once a poor tanner boy, afterwards shoved the plane who have been researched before me tanner boy, afterwards shoved the plane at the carpenter's bench, then became a canal boatman and made his fortune by honest industry. He did not amass his wealth by robbing the public treasury like the radical men of shoddy, but earned his money by his own labor. The radicals who speer at him on account of his riches, cannot bear to see a laboring man rise to fortune and success. They hate the toiling a representative whose character will masses and legislate for the benefit of a select aristocracy. Packer is a representative man among the workingmen of America. He is of them and with them, knows their needs and sympathizes with their wants. Such a man is to be admired and loved, not derided and scorned, for his successful battle with the world.

A RADICAL PAPER says it is well known where Geary was during the war. It is equally well known where he has been since: in the Executive Chamber, at Harrisburg, sealing with his signature the schemes of the treasury thieves, Serenade to Our Candidates in Phila-delphia.

Speeches from Judge Packer and Hon. C. L. Pershing, PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Last evning at 10 o'clock, Hon. Asa Packer, and Cyrus L. Pershing, Democratic candidates, were serenaded at the Merchant's Hotel, by the Asa Packer Association. After the band had per-formed a number of airs, Furman

Sheppard, Esq., came forward on the balcony and said:
Fellow Citizens—The Asa Packer Association has called this evening for the purpose of paying their respects to our candidate for the Executive Chair of the Commonwealth and of the Chair of the Commonwealth, and of the Supreme Bench of the State. In doing this the association has expressed not the feelings of the heads of its mem-bers, but also the feelings of the Democralic party of this city. Nay, more; it expresses the feelings of the Democratic party of the State. [Cheers]— More than that, you have not only ex-pressed the feelings of the party as a political organization, but you express the sentiments of all good citizens recognize in this event the inauguration of a new era in politics, when men of blameless lives and unsullied reputations will be placed in public po-

We have reason to congratulate ourselves upon the action of the Conven-tion. It has placed in nomination as candidates gentlemen for whom it is a privilege to vote. [Cheers.] It is not often we get a chance to vote for such men as Asa Packer, and it is a privilege which I firmly believe the people will avail themselves of indendent of political predilections. Asa Packer is a gentlemen who has in-dentified himself with the great inter-ests of a great State; he has identified himself with those interests from his routh, and through manhood to the

But this is not the place for speech-making, but for congratulation, and I therefore have the pleasure of announcing Gov-ernor Packer, believing that prophecy this case shall soon become history.

Mr. Packer now made his appearance, and was greeted with enthusiastic cheering from the large crowd as-sembled in front of the hotel. Mr. Packer said; Gentlemen of the Asa Packer Club and fellow-citizens and Democrats: I thank you for this ex-pression of your kindness, and for the honor you have done me in conveying tions. I thank you for having desigthe coming campaign. I can hardly give expression to my feelings in acknowledgment of the compliment paid me by the Asa Packer Club and the Democratic party, both here and in Harrisburg. It is deserving of my highest gratitude. I hope to be worthy of all the honor you bestow up-on me. The efficiency of this club in the work begun and carried on thus far is deserving of great praise, and I trust you will continue the good work to the end of the campaign. I know you will, from the earnest manner in which you have entered upon it. I will endeavor upon my part to lead you, as you have placed me in the van to victory. If we fail it shall not be because of any neglect on my part. You will excuse me from making a speech as it is no part of my vocation. There are those whose calling it is to talk, mine has been to work. I leave the talking to others, and will myself endeavor to do my share of the work. Thanking you for the kindness and in response, that gentleman came forward and said he did not propose to make a speech, but desired merely to thank them for this demonstretion.— ASA PACKER gave nearly a million He had unexpectedly been placed in nomination for a position on the Supreme Bench of the State. To receive such a nomination was no ordinary honor, for the bench had been graced JOHN W. GEARY entered into a dead, and a Lowrie, Black, Lewis and Woodward, living. The judiciary had been represented as the weakest of the was the most important branch of the government. The people could not expect him to address them upon politiinsylvania for candidates to do so and while he knew there was a disposition to drag politics on the bench, he did not propose to follow in this direc-tion, and to be the first to introduce the new system into the campaign .-It becomes those who are to Hon. But I un-derstand that I am called upon, as a member of the Convention by which these gentlemen were put in nomination. I have but a few words in response to your invitation. You have ase to rejoice in the action of the State Convention, whose proceedings you have meet in some measure to ratify, for that convention has givbear the strictest scerutiny, here and elewhere, now and hereafter.

That Convention also gave a plat-form of principles which will endure examination and discusion, and both candidates and platform stand above and beyond any assault by our opponents. [Cheers.] We begin now a contest which is to result in the regeneration of our public affairs. There is a wide-spread and just expression that matters are not satisfactory, either at Harrisburg or Washington; and this dissatisfaction is not confined to our organization, for it is known that it extends through the masses of the com-munity. Wisely, therefore, has the State Convention embraced the oppertunity of presenting candidates upon whom men of all parties can unite; men who can command support be-yond the bonds of political organization; en who have been true to their coun try through peace and through war. [Cheers.] Men whose fidelity to our institutions is recognized everywhere. They are men who will betray no conce reposed in them by conserva-

PACKER, THE SOLDIER'S FRIEND.

In those days of terror in 1863, when Gen. Lee invaded Pennsylvania, a meeting was held in Mauch Chunk for the purpose of raising troops for the defence of the State. There were hun-dreds of patriotic men in the mining regions who were ready to march a-gainst the foe, but their families were dependent for sustenance upon the wa-ges of their daily toil, and unless these were provided for, they could not go. The meeting seemed certain to prove abortive, when a venerable man with benevolence written all over his face, arose and said: "I will provide the "necessaries of life for the family of "every man who enlists to-day, and "the man of the life in t the wages of those of my emp who will enlist shall be paid during "the time they serve in the army, the "same as if they worked for me."—
The gray-haired patriot who spoke was ASA PACKER, and the response to his speech was the immediate vol-unteering of a large number of men present at the meeting. And Asa Packer kept his faith with the men whom this speech sent into the field as soldiers. Their families were provided for and the wages of his own em-ployees who enlisted were paid the same as if they had continued in his Few such friends of the soldier as Asa Packer are to be found anywhere. Only a noble nature, a liberal mind, can appreciate that heroism which neves a man to leave behind him wife and children and all the endearments of home to risk his life and his all in defence of his country. Judge Pack-er's action in the instance just referred to, proves that he is a man who measures at its true value the patriotic va-lor which saved Pennsylvania from the invading host and turned the tide of battle against the armies of the Southern Confederacy. Justly, therefore, and without any affectation of phrase, may he be termed "The Friend of the Soldier.—Patriot.

The Virginial Election According to the latest returns it appears that the vote at the recent tion in Virginia was as follows: Walker, 119,492; Wells, 101,201, giving Walker a majority of 18,201. The registration was white, 144,545, colored, 118,768, so that Walker's vote was 25, 053, or 18 per cent, less than the white registration, and the vote for Wells 17,477, or 16 per cent, less than the lauses of the constitution were as follows: The Disfranchising clause—a-gainst, 124,361; for 84,404—majority a-gainst, 39,957. The Test Oath clause against, 124, 106; for, 83,114—majority against, 49,992. From this it will be seen that 18,000 persons who voted for Wells, did not vote for the objectionable clauses, and of these about 5,000

The shore and deep sea ends of the French telegraph cable have been united, and the task of wedding the United States and France is completed. The terminus of the line from St. Pierre is fixed at Rouse's Hammock, near the Gurnet Light, at the entrance of Plymouth harbor. Duxbury is a blaze with excitement, and telegraph men are constructing two land routes of wire, one from Duxbury to Boston, and a second by the Frence cable company, along the Old Colony and South Shore Railroad. The citizens and corporation of Boston have decided to enjoy a grand cable celebration after the fashion of the display made by New York over the Atlantic cable at Newfoundland, and preparations are making for the event. In a few days the line will be in perfect working order, and its facilities offered to the public.
