CURIOUS SCENE IN A NEW OR-LEANS COURT.

[From the New Orleans Picayune.]

Many persons attending the sessions of the Recorder's Court in this city have been edified by the peculari solemnity with which oaths are administered and the awe with which they are generally taken. It so happened that

Wednesday morning an ungainly looking specimen of recently enfranchised made his appearance before one these We regret the occurrence named tribunals in the capacity of a witness.

The judge with an austerity of visage that at one creates the impression of profound melancholly, held out the boook to the witness, and administered his solemn injunction to speak the truth. At the conclusion of course, it is expected that the witness will kiss the book. But this "ward of the nation" was unused to criminal proceedings, and entertained curious ideas of manner and propriety of swearing, and stood erect. "Why don't you kiss?" demanded the magistrate. "Sar !"

"Ain't you going to kiss?" was again inquired.

"Sar !" repeated the astonished darey, evidently mistaking the meaning of the Court, and surprised beyond measure at such an invitation. "Kiss, I tell you !" thundered the

This promise had not been kept, and therefore, the negroes would not turn out for the nominees of the party in the November election.

Question-Who told you this was the reason?

Answer-About five hundred of the negroes themselves.

Question-Can you give the names of any of these?

Answer-Yes; Jerry, Jim, Bob, Big Bill, Sqnint-eyed Joe, Bow-legged George, Tom-

Answer-They never had any; at least I never knew them by such.

Question-Have you not been a prominent politician in this State? Answer-No.

Question-Were you not a member of the Legislature?

Answer-Yes, but was never prominent.

Question-Were you not nominated for the United States Senate in opposition to Mr. Benjamin?

Answer-Yes, I was voted for. Qnestion-Did not this show that you were a prominent politician?

Answer-No it showed that I had some popularity; not that I was the proper man for the place, any more than the votes received by Gen. Grant proved that he was fit to be the President of the United States. "You can stand down, sir."
