It is the peculiar boast of the friends of the present national administration, that the tax laws have never been so rigidly enforced as at this time. THE RETURN OF SPECIE.

The probability of an early return to specie payments is not at all, as our radical friends would have the people believe, attributable to the sagacity of the President, nor the wisdom of Mr. Secretary Boutwell. The return of specie and the appreciation of greenbacks simply furnish a marvelous exgreat country. For the last eight or nine years corruption and extravagance have pervaded every department of our government, an incalculable amount of indebtedness has been piled on the country and the public coffers have been drained to the bottom the shock of war. For this vexatious delay, this cruel suspense, we are indebted to the radical schemers who invented the deviltry of reconstruction to plague and to those pestilent conspirators against the public peace, that Southern industry is at last reviving to save the credit of the government.

Scorr, the carpet-bag Governor of South Corolina, made a speech recently at a meeting held in Washington to invent some sort of punishment for Georgia, in which he gave the following advice to the loyal members of the Georgia delegation: "I say to the members of the Legislature of Georgia when you go home pass such laws as arm every man in the State, to make an appropriation to buy all the Winchester rifles that he can, and one hundred rounds of ammunition for each man, and demand a fair election. I tell you the Winchester rifle is the best and there is nothing left.

Line Railroad Bill, now before Congress, under which a line of railway between Washington and New York, is to be constructed, will pass. We hope it will not pass. All the railroads in existence, save the Pacific Railroad, have been constructed under charters from State governments.-The several Pacific Railroad Companies would not have been chartered by Congress, if the territory over which republican press teems with praises of their lines pass, had been formed into States. CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 22. The Senate yesterday, at an early hour, went into executive session and confirmed the nomination of the Hon. Mr. Bradley, of New Jersey, to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. A memorial was presented from colored citizens of the lower counties of Maryland, setting forth that while they are nominally free, they enjoy none of the benefits of freedom; that they are in poverty and destitution. They policit Congress to enact such legislation as will put in active operation the fifteenth amend-A bill was passed providing for the distribution of arms to the Southern States. The bill to change the usury laws of the District of Columbia with the House amendment, was called up and referred. The consideration of the Georgia bill was then resumed, and a long debate ensued.

In the House, Mr. Swann of Maryland, presented a petition from John W. Baughman and forty other mechanics of Baltimore, protesting a gainst certain changes in the tariff laws, and praying for a reduction of duty on necessaries not produced in this country. A bill was passed to amend the census act so as to allow the census to be taken, and striking out the section in relation to the ap portionment of members. The bill to ncorporate the Washington Steamboat Company was passed; a bill was also passed appropriating $20,000 to rebuild the orphan asylum of "Our Lady chanced to be in their way. The In- of Mercy," at Charleston, S. C., in con sideration of attention paid Union officers and soldiers there during the war. The tariff bill was then discus-

WASHINGTON, March 23. In the United States Senate yesterday, Mr. Harlan from the committee on Indian Affairs, reported a bill reorganizing the Indian Department. It provides for the appointment of five inspectors of Indian affairs, who, with Commissioner of Indian Affairs, are to constitute a board of supervision. The Senate discussed all day the report of the Judiciary Committee rejecting General Ames as Senator from Mississippi. Mr. Conkling made an elaborminds of the "Republican" leaders in ate legal argument in favor of the report. It is evident, however, from the course of the debate, that a large majority of the Radical Senators will vote to admit Ames, so as to secure his vote against the Bingham amendment to the Georgia bill. The session of the House of Representatives was occupied with the consideration of two bills: the Sutro Tunnel job, and the anti-Polygamy bill. During the discussion of the latter, Mr Ward (Rad), of New York, made a sharp speech against the Mormons. A motion to a vote of 40 to 121, most of the Democrats voting in the affirmative. WASHINGTON, March 24. In the United States Senate vesterday the case of General Ames the military commander in Mississippi who applied for admission to the Senate was debated nearly the entire session. Mr. Carpenter, of Wisconsin, made a speech in defence of the report of the committee, in which he rebuked his party associates for their zeal in trampling the Constitution under foot. His speech was really a good democratic speech, and indicates where the eloquent Senator is drifting. Mr. Dathe House of Representatives the discussion on the bill to prohibit polygamy in Utah was resumed, and Mr. Hooper, the Mormon delegate, copcluded his remarks. He claimed that polygamy was taught by the greatest originated among the Pagan nations. After the bill was materially amended and modified it passed the House by a vote of 94 to 32. WASHINGTON, March 25. The United States Senate was in executive session all day yesterday upon the San Domingo treaty. Mr. Sumner made a four hours' speech against annexation. The success of President's Grant's efforts to force the ratification of the treaty is in great doubt, Both sides are confident, but it is believed that the House will be almost unanimous against making the necessary appropriations, and thus the Baez-Grant job will fall through. WASHINGTON, March 26. Congressional proceedings yesterday were without marked importance. Mr. Wilson introduced the Army bill in the Senate. It reduces the number of officers and enlisted men. Mr. Cole from the Post-office Committee, introduced a bill to provide for a semimonthly steamship service between San Francisco and ports in Japan and China. Mr. Sherman introduced a joint resolution appropriating $100,000 to the Hall expedition in search of the North Pole. The Senate took up and passed the bill to fix the point of junction of the Central Pacific Railroad Companies. The House of Representatives devoted the day in committee to the Tariff bill. So many members have speeches to make that the general debate will hardly be closed before next week. The Senate was in executive session several hours on the Baez-Grant San Domingo job. ELDRIDGE ON "LOYALTY."

Mr. Eldridge, of Wisconsin, is not particularly enamored by the radical eant of loyalty. The other day in the House, he said :

The word "loyalty" I have always despised. I despise what is called a "loyal" man; I hate him from the crown of my head to the sole of my feet. I once undertook to illustrate to the House by a story the meaning of the word "loyalty;" and as the House may have forgotten the incident I wish to repeat it for the benefit of my friend from Massachusetts. The question was asked why a friend of mine could not get the contracts out of which he could make money during the war, and who was able to get contracts and make money; a loval man told him the reason why he could not was be-cause he was disloyal and the reason why he could was because he was "iruly loyal." My friend says, "Now what do you mean by loyal?" what do you mean by loyal?"—
"Mean?" he says; "why it is a feeling which pervades a man, that influence his whole conduct, that make him really what he is, or what he is not." "But," said my friend, "what does that mean ?" He replied, "It is a feeling." "Well then how do you feel?" "I feel loyal." "But what is that feeling?" He then replied, "I feel as though I wanted to steal something or kill somebody." [Laughter.] And that is loyalty. You have made that word take the place of the true and noble old word, the foundation principle of the republic and of the nation—to take the place of "patriotism." I am patriotic, but I am not "loyal." It is word which does not belong to this country; but only belongs to Massa-chusetts. [Laughter.]
