

THE CANDIDATES. Sketches of Judge Trunkay and Messrs. Noyes and Schell, the Nominees.

The Hon. John Trunkay, the nominee for Judge of the Supreme Court, is a native of Mercer county, Pa., having been born there in 1828. He studied law with Samuel Griffith, of the town of Mercer, was admitted to the bar, and speedily became one of the foremost lawyers in that section of the State. He was elected Judge of the judicial district composed of Venango and Mercer counties in 1866 by a heavy majority, although it is usually Republican by about two thousand votes. Judge Trunkay is very popular all through the western counties, and has displayed great ability on the bench, having the reputation of being one of the very best Common Pleas Judges in the State.

Colonel Amos C. Noyes, the candidate for State Treasurer, was born in New Hampshire, in 1818. He removed to Emporium, Cameron county, in 1847, and engaged in the lumbering business. In 1849 he settled at Westport, Clinton county, where he still resides. He was chosen to the Legislature on the Democratic ticket in 1869, and re-elected in the following year. His course in that body was marked by the plain, honest principles upon which he conducted his private business, and which he still maintains. THE PLATFORM. Resolutions of the Democracy of Pennsylvania upon Capital and Labor.

First. That the induction of Rufus B. Hayes into the office of Governor, notwithstanding the election of Samuel J. Tilden therefor, was a high crime against the people of Pennsylvania, and a just cause of complaint, and that the Governor should be impeached and removed from office, and a new Governor elected.

Second. That the Democratic party of Pennsylvania should support the Governor-elect, and should not be divided by the Federal administration of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania.

Third. That the purpose to reform the State service should be proclaimed by the present administration, and that the Democratic party should support the Governor-elect, and should not be divided by the Federal administration of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania.

Fourth. That the purpose to reform the State service should be proclaimed by the present administration, and that the Democratic party should support the Governor-elect, and should not be divided by the Federal administration of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania.

From the Clinton Democrat of the 23rd inst., we learn that the Lock Haven National Bank will go into liquidation. The Board of Directors recommend D. M. Peck, Esq., as Receiver.

The camp-meeting near Centre Mills, in Brush Valley, was very largely attended on Sunday. The preaching was pointed and practical, and the order, we are happy to say, excellent.

The telegraph is to be extended to Coburn and Spring Mills in a short time. This will bring us nearly to a level with brother Schoch, of Millburg, who has a Telegraph of his own, such as it is.

"TIME IS MONEY," and if you desire to have correct time get one of the new pocket watches. The watch is of the highest quality, and is sold at bottom prices. No excuse at all for being behind time even in these hard times.

Three new porticoes along Keen's Block make a vast improvement not only to the Block but to the town. The entrance to the bank is now so inviting that a fellow is tempted to enter whether he needs money or not.

"Will you walk into my parlor?" A Mr. Gull, of Chester county, recently purchased the Bellefonte Paper Mill property, for $1,100. He proposes to begin operation in a few weeks, when the farmers in that vicinity will have a good cash market for their straw. At least so thinks the Watchman.

A provision of the Registry Law requires assessors to set at the places for holding elections the two last days of the month. The 4th and 5th are the two last days this year on which voters can be assessed and registered in order to vote in November. Democrats attend to this matter at once.

The Patrons of Husbandry of Centre county will hold their Fourth annual Picnic on the Summit of Nittany Mountain, above Centre Hall, September 26th next. All persons are cordially invited to attend and bring their baskets with them. Able speakers will address the meeting in the interests of agriculture. A good time is expected.

RECIPE FOR KILLING YOUR TOWN.—Is the heading of an article in the Watchman, dated Sept. 14th. Now as our town is not yet ready for the slaughter, we give room for it so that if there should be any tendency to fall into habits that might prove destructive, you may know the danger, and thus prevent the same. The recipe is as follows: "Forewarned is forearmed."

1. Put up no more buildings than you can occupy yourselves.

2. If you should have an empty building to rent demand three times its value.

3. Look sour at every newcomer, and give the old shoveler to every mechanic who desires to come among you.

4. Go abroad for your goods and your wares. By no means purchase from your own country. Let our manufacturers even at the same price or better.

5. Don't contribute one cent for the cause of religion or education.

Finally, put a thorough finish to your work, and then let your hand rest, refusing to subscribe for or advertise in it, so that persons at a distance will know that any business is being done in your town, or any man may want to come and settle among you, or buy something from you, and that would put you to extra trouble.

A surplus of money is sometimes nearly as great an evil as an absolute want of it. Thus it happens that public bodies are often not a little perplexed about what to do with cash balances. This seems to have been the predicament of the Harvest Home Picnic committee at their final meeting last week. They found that they had a cash balance of $205, after paying all expenses. This proved an elephant on their hands and the issue was very doubtful for a time whether the committee would be able to manage the matter, and whether the money would be used for the purpose intended.

Mr. Daniel Stover, residing near Woodward, this county, had for some time past missed the usual supply of eggs which his chickens used to produce, and got into his head that some mysterious thief must be robbing him. The other day he caught and killed the rascal in the shape of a large black snake six feet long. Mr. Stover disemboweled his snake-ship when a large lot of egg shells and a China new egg appeared. The China new have eggs again as before.

Mr. Kurtz, of the Reporter, is perfectly ravens for beer. He talks beer, writes beer, and he doubts if he can get any more beer. His excursion to Reading just because some fellow told him that beer is only three cents a glass there. We will use our influence to have his wish gratified. In the mean time he may care to get some more beer. A letter of Reading for a keg, who will not doubt send it and take it out in advertising provided we endorse the proposition, which we will most cheerfully do, just to keep "user Eric" from suffering.

Petty thieving is becoming quite common of late throughout Penna Valley, and the frequency and boldness of these depredations, occurring mostly at night, are not only a source of annoyance, but a positive loss which the victims, in many cases, can ill afford to bear. What can be done to abate the growing evil?

On Friday night some parties crossing Brush Mountain at Cross Road School House, broke into the shop of Peter W. Zeigler, and robbed him of quite a lot of leather belonging to the customers of Mr. Zeigler, and nearly all the tools and laths in the shop. Several cellars and spring houses were also robbed the same night, most likely by the same party.

The Reporter has no less than four items similar to the above for a single week. Beginning with Monday night it says an attempt was made to enter the dwelling of Wm. Shoop, a good law pole, apron and buggy curtains. On the same night Dr. Alexander's stable in Centre Hall, was maliciously entered and a set of harness and flynet badly cut and mutilated.

Strobin's Store in the Loop was robbed Friday night, the door was bored open and goods to the amount of $25 were stolen.

Two harness were recently stolen from Amos Oberdorf's smoke house.

On Monday Mrs. Rebecca Nees, of this place had the misfortune to break her arm. She had been at work doing some repairs to a kitchen floor which was being torn up for that purpose, when she accidentally stepped into the opening, striking her arm against some timbers and so producing a pretty severe break at the wrist.

Last week Mr. J. E. Colvin, of Sebelburg, Pa., was in town with a horse which was stolen from him some time last June by Stewart Walker, the thief now in jail here for the theft of Senator Pele's mare. Walker brought the horse to Bellefonte and sold it to Isaac Loe, who afterwards made it to a man living in Buffalo, New York, and it was in the latter place that Mr. Colvin found it. He was here to prove his property and take it home. The horse was valued at from $400 to $500.—Bellefonte Republican.

In spreading himself on the recent Harvest Home Picnic the Telegraph man piles the honors mountain high upon our neighbor Col. Coburn. Hops will be able to carry our editorial brother against the too free use of the Colonel's name.

Concerning the lemonade consumed we thought we had done very well in giving the amount at thirty-five cents. The lemonade, twelve boxes of lemons, and one barrel of sugar, and wants it to be remembered that this was Col. Coburn's treat. What is wrong with George? Does he suppose that the Colonel would propose such a stop for his neighbors—only one barrel of sugar, six of water and lemon juice? Or does he think the Penns Valley people would drink such stuff for lemonade? Not by a long shot. They were brought up better.

We suggest that Schorch get all the facts about the lemonade business, and publish another edition, "revised, corrected and improved."
