While almost everybody feels some concern as to who should fill our several county offices, who should represent us in our state and national legislatures, little interest, comparatively, is manifested as to who is to be the official head of our educational interest in the county. As a people we care too much for our mate rial, as compared to our intellectual and moral interests. It is certa inly the duty of every good citizen to do his part to secure good and fit men for the many offices to be filled by the elective voice of the people, yet the grand fact should ever be kept prominently in view that our well being and prosperity as a people will be in exact proportion to our intelligence and virtue. mitted into proper and competent hands.
