Some of the Republican speakers are directing the attention of their hearers to the startling fact that 'throughout the South there is scarcely a prominent State official who was not connected, directly or indirectly, with the rebellion." Considering that almost all the men of South who were of the age of manhood during the rebellion were connected, directly or undirectly, with it, it is by no means strange that the Southern people in their choice of legislators and executive officers Any intelligent reader of recent hisarmy drew from their homes nearly all the able bodied men of the South, and that it is very difficult to find in that section any men of standing who were not in the rebellion. Why then should they not be selected for positions of trust and honor? The South had some experience of a different class forsted upon them for years by the reconstruction measures, and what was the result? But why is this question raised now when a "rebel" sits in a Republican cabinet, and another has just been dispatched to a responsible and lucrative post? If there is anything appalling in the Southern peo-ple electing their kith and kin to govern them at home why is 'eyery "rebel" that espouses the Republican cause deemed worthy of such exultation? Has Greater Capacity, Is More Durable, and Is better finished Than any other wringer now made.

THE ROLLS Are made of White Rubber clear to the shaft. No twine or wire or fibrous material, or anything else but rubber being used. The rubber is vulcanized upon the shaft and cannot be taken off except by cutting it off. They are more elastic than other rolls because there is nothing but rubber on the shaft, and more durable because there is no twine or fibrous material to rot out or wire to cut the rubber. They are greatly superior to any other kind of roll now known.
