WATSONTON has some very enterprising men—nearly as much so as Millheim. The following, which we clip from the Lewisburg Journal, shows just what kind of stuff the Watsonowners are made of. Such material will build up any town:

A short time since the Williamsport furniture company was burned out. The Watsonsons folks made the company an offer to buy the stock at a price less than half their present market value; also the fee simple to six acres of land; also 100 feet of the shaft; a seventy five horse power engine; a donation of $5,000 in cash, and a borough council granted them the lot from tax for six months. They wonder the Williamsport furniture company are strongly inclined to remove to Watsonton? How much of an offer would Lewisburg make in a case of this kind? Many of our wealthy citizens would take stock whatever in such an enterprise. And yet people wonder, why work is scarce, and young men are driven, to seek their fortunes in other places.

MR. EDITOR.—For some time past we thought we had a Borough. How is it, can you tell? Thought we heard something, drop that sounded much like "Borough." Do you know anything about it? We had been told that we would have good side walks. Will we have them, Mr. Editor? Did not the Council appoint a committee who was to see to it that our streets would get side walks? Who is the committee? What have they done, or what are they going to do about it? Mr. Editor, do you know, know, know, can you tell, tell, tell?

PENN STREETER.

The fellow who sent in the above very nearly succeeded to make us mad—but a soldier second thought kept us from doing a thing so foolish. Go and see the Council about what you ask. They can answer us. If the Council is delinquent go slow, hold a meeting, appoint a committee to wait upon them, and insist that business is business. We can not speak for the Council.—E.I.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last a very sad accident occurred in Haines township, in the neighborhood of Meyer's Mill, which resulted in the death of Mr. Pierce Stover, son of Michael Stover and wife. A party of four or six men, of whom this young man was one, were out chopping wood. They had just felled a tree of about two feet in diameter, which in its fall lodged upon another tree, where it hung for a little while. The men thought of course the felled tree would remain in the position it had lodged, but it started of its own weight or pressure, from the stump, where the butt still rested, and slid backwards for some distance, hitting young Stover on the breast and knocking him to the ground. The tree fell on him and almost literally crushed him. He was taken out by his comrades and carried home, but lived only a few hours after the accident.

This was Pierce Stover, a robust and promising young man, suddenly called from time to eternity! Truly, what a solemn call to the young—to all.

The remains of young Stover were buried in the Reformed Cemetery, Aaronsburg, Rev. J. G. Shepley officiating at the funeral. He was 21 years of age.

DECORATION DAY AT MILLHEIM.

On Tuesday evening the committees appointed by the several Sunday Schools of Millheim, the Cornet Band, and the Odd Fellows' Lodge, had a joint meeting and prepared the following programme of exercises for Decoration Day:

At 2 o'clock, P. M., a procession will be formed at the Town Hall in the following order:

1. Millheim Cornet Band;

2. A squad of Co. B., 5th Regt., N. G., in uniform;

3. Veterans of the 148th Regt., P. V.;

4. Sunday Schools;

5. Odd Fellows in full regalia;

6. Citizens.

The procession will march up Penn street to Main, down Main to the bridge, thence up to the cemetery, where the decoration will be proceeded with, and an address delivered by Prof. D. M. Wolf. Addresses will also be made by several other speakers. Rev. S. G. Shannon is expected to be present. Every one who will go into the procession is expected to bring flowers along. The procession will be dismissed on the cemetery. Mr. S. G. Gutelius has been appointed Chief Marshal, to direct and control the exercises.

The following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved, That the merchants of Millheim be requested to close their several places of business during the time of the marching of the procession and the decoration of the graves.

By ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

DECORATION DAY, May 30th 1879.

The 30th day of May heretofore by usage dedicated to the decoration of the graves of our deceased soldiers and to services in esteem of their memory; now recognized by the laws of our state as a public holiday, will soon occur.

At a meeting held for the purpose of making some arrangements for its proper observance, it was deemed right to call public attention to it through the columns of our newspapers, that not a Township in the County may fall short in the performance of a patriotic duty.

The green mounds that deck our cemeteries and graveyards, sending up the ashes of some who fought at Quebec and Yorktown and under Perry on Lake Erie, and of very many more who in our day gave their lives to the sword that their country might live.

"They never fall who die in a great cause; the block may soak their gore; their heads may sicken in the sun; their limbs be strung to city gates and castle walls, but still their spirits walk the land. Though years elapse, and other shades be dark, doom, they but augment the deep and sweeping thoughts, which overpower all others, and conduct the world at last to freedom."

It is proper therefore to cherish their memories and hand them down to our children and when we fall in this we no longer deserve a place or name among the nations of the earth.

They died that liberty might not die. They gave up their share of this glad and beautiful earth, that it might become in time the home of all-reaching freedom. It is meet therefore that we should cease awhile from our restless activity, and with the return of this early summer day bring flowers to decorate the graves of those who fell by disease, and in the iron days of battle, while they tread around a flag that never yet has trailed in permanent defeat.

In this behalf then we urge the prompt organization of Committees in every Borough, Village and Township—and if necessary at every School-house—in the County, who will take charge and see that every soldier's grave however lonely or deserted shall have a memento of regard laid upon it on that day.

It is deemed advisable also to suggest that it would be the appropriate time and opportunity to compile lists of the soldiers buried in every graveyard and cemetery whose graves are unmarked, in order that they may be forwarded to the Quartermaster Gen. of the United States Army, who will forward suitable memorials to be placed upon them.

The proper blanks for such lists will be furnished to those deposited by the Committees for this duty, on application to the undersigned.

D. S. KELLER, President.

R. C. CHEESMAN, Secretary.

Bellefonte, Pa., May 15th, 1879.

HOME AGAIN.—Miss Annie S. Bright, one of Aaronsburg's very "brightest and best" young ladies—and they average well out there—has closed her professional labors for the season and is home again for a four month's vacation. This was the eighth term that Annie taught the same school at Lewisburg, and if that don't speak well, we would like to know what would. We vote to have Annie promoted to a higher sphere.

Everybody of every party is thoroughly disgusted with our fraudulent President. Every one wishes heartily that the fraudulent term of a fraudulent President was over; and yet it is equally true that J. Newman, Jr., the great King Clothier, is selling clothing to men of all parties, creeds and sects. The simple reason that Jacob does such slashing business is because he sells absolute cheaper than any other firm in Centre county. Just look at some of his prices, pants at 40 cents, hats at 25 cents, and shoes at 25 cents, and everything in proportion. Is it any wonder that the whole world and the "rest of mankind" rushes to Newman?

Last Saturday the Millheim Turnpike Road Company had a letting for the completion of said road. Eleven bids were handed in, some of which were for the entire road, at $3,000. J. H. Reifnyder was the lowest bidder for and got that portion of the road from the South Street bridge to Iron bridge at Swartz's Saw mill. For side hill cutting, grading and filling he got $546. H. Z. Bierly was the lowest and the successful bidder for that portion from the bridge at Wert's lime kiln to the depot at Coburn. He gets $1248. All other bids were rejected as being entirely too high. The part from Swartz's saw mill to Wert's lime kiln, and from the centre of town over Penn and South Streets, still remain to be let, but the board will have another letting soon, of which due notice will be given.

The board expect to have the whole road completed by 1st of September.
