Death of Ex-Gov. Wm. Allen.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—Ex-Gov. William Allen died suddenly this morning at his home near Chillicothe, Ohio.

Gov. Bishop has issued a proclamation in relation to the late ex-Gov. Allen, reciting his public services, and directing that the flags of the Capitol be displayed at half mast, and that the State offices be closed on the day of the funeral.

It may be set down as a dead certainty that John Sherman is a candidate for President. We have made up our mind finally and absolutely to support him.

John A. Small, a prominent Republican politician of Harrisburg, and well known as the compiler of the Legislative Hand Book and for many years Resident Clerk of the House of Representatives, died suddenly of heart disease, at the Girard House Philadelphia, on the 11th inst. He was 45 years old and unmarried.

The Philadelphia Times gives the information that Dr. S. M. Laddis, tragedian, preacher, lecturer, author, essayist, philosopher, naturalist, moralist, scientist, professionalist, physician, radical, doctor of divinity, editor and pamphleteer has been divorced from his wife. The divorce was granted at the wife's instance. Cases the doctor was getting too much and too many for the lady.

LARGE TURTLE.—They caught lately the king of turtles in the river below Philadelphia. The monster is eight feet long and five feet broad, and weighs 500 pounds. Its head is twice the size of a man's, and its flippers "two feet longer than a man's arm."

From the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin: "When the pipe line was subjected to a test of ten thousand barrels per day it bore the strain without starting a joint. It is now thought that fifteen thousand barrels per day may be forced through it with safety. Just imagine this quantity of oil forced through a six inch iron pipe for one hundred miles in twenty-four hours, and then say that this enterprise is not a wonderful one."

A BABY ACCIDENTALLY HANGS ITSELF.—A child about one year old, whose parents reside near Fennelville, Pa., was found hanging from a tree limb. The child had been left on a bed while its parents were out in the garden. On returning they found the child hanging behind the bed. It had fallen or attempted to get off the bed, when its head caught in the rope of the railing and the wall. It was dead when found.—Schenandoah (Va.) Herald.

THE BIG SHADOW OF JUDGE DAVIS.—The Tilden managers are much disturbed over the growing prominence of Judge Davis as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency. It is claimed by his friends that his course in the Senate has been such as to commend him to the conservative element of the party, who will mould and shape his course in the coming campaign, and that his nomination would draw largely from the Republican party. In the event of a disagreement in the convention between the friends of Tilden, Hendricks and Bayard, it would be brought forward as a compromise candidate.—St. Louis Times-Journal.

A WEST VIRGINIA SNAKE STORY.—A child, nineteen months old, of Captain Daniel Boyle, of Harper's Ferry, a few mornings since, while in the garden, picked up a snake, which curled itself around the child's arm, and then she entered the house crying out: "Ma, look at that snake!" The snake was a venomous one, and but for the fact that the child had grasped it tightly around the body just below the neck, it would have been fatal. The child was dispatched by the snake.—Rockingham Register.

THE GRAND CANYON OF THE ARKANSAS.—The Grand Canyon of the Arkansas is a narrow winding way of that river through granite, the walls rising in many places to the height of 2,500 feet. This rock-bound river pathway was discovered by the Spanish missionaries as early as 1642. From that time it is not known that any animal life passed through it until the summer of 1870. Last week a train of cars on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad made the passage. Along the palisade that forms the northern boundary of the gorge, and about ten feet above the boiling waters, the engineer has carved a roadbed.

A CHURCH LIFTED BODILY BY WIND.—A letter from Mrs. E. A. Pound, formerly residing in this town, but now a resident of Manhattan, Kansas, tells of a peculiar freak of the fearful cyclone that passed over that portion of the State. A large frame church was taken up bodily and carried about eight rods, over a fence, and received no damage except the breaking of three panes of glass. The lamps on the altar and the open Bible were not moved, and everything remained in the same as left by those who attended prayer meeting the evening before. Mrs. Pound vouches for the absolute truth of this statement.—Helena (Montana) Herald.

THE FIRST GUN FOR BAYARD.—The Jefferson Democratic Club of Philadelphia, a large, permanent and influential organization has declared in favor of Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware, for President.

We are informed, that Mr. J. C. Springer, a former resident of this town, at present living in Bradford, Dark Co., Ohio, is thrown on his sickbed, but cannot state in what his ailment consists. Hope he may soon recover.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday while Mr. Noah Stover's workmen were hauling in grain, a little son of Mr. Stover fell from the wagon, and was killed by the wheel crossing his breast. We understand that he was not as much hurt as might have been expected under the circumstances and may get over it rather lightly.

The New York World has been compiling a table of persons who were killed or wounded on the Fourth of July by pistols and firecrackers. The list already contains the names of eighteen dead and one hundred and seven wounded, and this was only in the cities and larger towns. A complete record for the whole country would furnish as long a list of casualties as a respectable battle.

SAD AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday morning Mr. Michael Hettlinger, residing in George's Valley, was driving homeward, but met with an accident that resulted in the loss of his life. He had two horses hitched in a buggy, and when a short distance beyond the George's Valley Church one of the horses became unmanageable and commenced kicking, which started both horses on a run. Mr. H. in his efforts to subdue the animals, was thrown from the buggy, falling on his head, so violently as to fracture his skull. He died yesterday morning. We are thus called upon to mourn the sudden departure of one of our most useful citizens—in the very prime of life. Truly: "In the midst of life we are in death."

MR. JOSEPH C. NESBIT, of the firm of Nesbit Bros., of the East Lewisburg Mfg. Company paid our valley a visit, this week for the first time in his life. He showed us around a little and he seemed pleased with our beautiful and fertile valleys and the variegated scenery. Especially was he delighted with a drive through the beautiful mountain pass north of town.

The Brothers—and they are full sized men in every sense—have one of the best and most complete planing mills in the interior of the state. They manufacture school furniture on a large scale, and Joseph just the other day contracted to furnish the desks for two new school houses, one to be built near Spring Mills, the other in Potter township. Success to the enterprising firm.

MR. B. F. STEWART, of the Theological Department of the Missionary Institute at Selinsgrove, is now here engaged in selling books for the American Tract Society. He follows this business during vacation in order to earn means to complete his course. He is preparing himself for the African mission work and manifests much industry and zeal in his chosen calling. He is a young man of much promise and we feel confident that he has entirely devoted himself to the great mission work that calls so loudly for help.

MR. S. is a young man of education, culture and piety, and has the happy faculty to make firm friends at first sight. He has already attended Howard University, at Washington, D. C., for two successive years, and the Theological Department at Selinsgrove for one year.

We hope our people will give him a liberal support.

In Custer city, Bradford county, this state, they had a bear bull and bear fight, on the 11th inst. Bradford county was always in the habit of claiming high distinction on educational and moral grounds, but a few more such disgusting scenes will bring upon the county the contempt and scorn of other counties and communities. An exchange graphically describes the matter thus:

An audience of seven hundred persons, who will maul and mangle the assembled to witness the sport of a ferocious fight between a bull and a bear. Before the engagement commenced, the audience shouted wildly for the animals to be led into the arena. In the time the fight commenced, the result, both animals, are expected to die. A man and a woman, who were in the crowd, were expected to escape. But still the audience seemed to enjoy the disgusting sight, and shouted and laughed in derisive tones. To hear of such an occurrence so near to us was a disgrace to the community, and the good sense of every community will prevent a similar exhibition ever happening again.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

The new turn-table has been put in at last, and it is a solid job. The stone used are estimated to weigh ten tons.

The young man Dunkle, who robbed Mr. John S. Auman's house, the other Sunday, was caught and sits in awaiting trial.

Miss Maggie Hannah will open a school in the Hill School House, next Monday. She is a successful teacher. Parents, don't neglect to send your children.

We had a terrible storm here last Friday, doing much damage. At John Colder's it tore off barn doors and uprooted apple and cherry trees. At J. W. Evans' it took away part of the old chimney and tore down a large number of trees. At P. A. Auman's part of the barn roof was carried away. At M. D. Letzler's it threw two large oak trees into the garden, destroying nearly everything in it. The line willow trees in front of Mr. Peter Wilson were much injured. The road became so obstructed as to be impassable after the storm. The road through George's Valley was entirely blocked. Over 5000 trees were blown down from here up along Sinking Creek. At W. F. Rerick's the storm tore off the barn doors, carried out a buggy that was standing in the barn and broke into kindling wood. Near Farmer's Mills Ben Smith's stable was unroofed. Mr. Geo. Spicer's house with all the furniture in it was blown to atoms and scattered to the four winds. At the same time a broken is a cup, 1 saucer and 1 plate. The roof and second floor were carried over a woods into Rishel's field. Mr. Spicer and family were absent the time the storm happened, else the loss of some lives would probably be mourned. Fisher's saw mill was unroofed. Rachau's chimney torn down, and much other damage was done all around here to buildings, fences and trees. It was hard to tell from whence the storm came, as it seemed to come from all directions. The Storm King has given us a pretty good taste of his power, and it makes us think of what they experience in the west.

Read the particulars of last week's storm in the "Spring Mills Items" in another column.

The weather is fearfully hot here, for some days past, mercury being away up among the nineties.

Money sold for 28 per cent. premium for permanent loan at the meeting of the B. & L. Association on Monday evening.

Mr. Noah Musser, of Buffalo Run, recently plowed up a barlow knife 119 years old. Glad we couldn't be blamed for losing that knife.

It appears very much as if the Hon. D. O. Barr, of Pittsburg, would be the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer.

Mrs. Maria Weaver's residence on Penn Street is now graced with a fine verandah. It adds very much to the appearance of the premises.

Mr. D. A. Musser has broken ground for the new house. The site is just a few rods west of the old mill mansion and is a very fine place for a dwelling house.

The only new side walk to report this week is that of our next door neighbor, Mr. A. C. Musser. Would like to report at the rate of about six per week.

The harvest is over and the crop in this section is hardly up to a fair average, though it is better than the prospects in early spring had indicated.

Yellow fever has again made its appearance in Memphis, and the population is panic-stricken. Hundreds are leaving just as fast as steam can carry them, although but a few cases have occurred as yet.

Business is looming up in Selinsgrove, the Maine Saw Mill is running, Kelly & Wagner's Sash Factory is in operation, Keller's boat yard is busy and the two foundries are in full blast.

Last Friday we had one of the most copious rains ever witnessed in this section. The rain came in torrents, and some folks even said it rained potatoes, but we cannot vouch for that statement.

By the Lewisburg Journal we see that John F. Lewis, Esq., has recently been elected Secretary of the Home Building Association, vice, C. H. Hasenpflug. This is a responsible and we trust lucrative position. We congratulate.

A new Evangelical church was built at Orwig's Mill, Lewis township, Union county, which was dedicated last Sunday, the 13th. This is the birth place of Rev. W. W. Orwig, one of the pioneers and ablest ministers of that denomination.

Berk's county rejoices in the possession of a couple of people—John Powers and his sister—whose combined weight is over 1,500 pounds. John is only twenty and weighs over 700 pounds, while his sister goes 100 pounds better.

The cherry season is over, whortleberries come next. For our part we like good, nice apples as well as anything, for pies. We make this statement for the benefit of those of our dear friends who are anxious to make good presents and are puzzled to know just what to select.

The Slifer, Walls & Shiner Manufacturing Company, at Lewisburg, have changed their corporate name into that of Central Manufacturing Company. That's a decided improvement. Always did think that the former name was too large and cumbersome just for common use.

The Lewisburg Town Council just now takes hold of the dog question in earnest. An ordinance passed in 1854 is hunted up and revived, to the effect that no dog shall be permitted to run at large without being muzzled. A tax of $2 is assessed for every dog, upon the owner thereof.

POSTPONED.—The laying of the corner stone for a new Evangelical church in Sugar Valley, called Miller's church, has been postponed to July 29th. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend.

D. P. KLINE, Preacher in charge.

"A TREASURY OF BIBLE READINGS, by Rev. S. G. Shannon, Millroy, Pa., with an Introduction by Rev. H. Zeigler, D. D., Superintendent of the Missionary Institute, Selinsgrove, Penna."

This popular Bible Manual is for sale at the JOURNAL BOOK STORE. Price, 25 cents.

A contract for a lock up has been awarded by our council to Mr. J. W. Snook, for $48.50. It is to be built over the mill race, in the rear of Dr. Mingle's residence. It is not a very creditable comment that we need an ornament of this kind, but if one is built we hope that unruly and disorderly persons, who disturb the peace and annoy our people, will be lodged in it.

Messrs. Nesbit Brothers, of the East Lewisburg Mfg. Co. have erected another building for finishing purposes, to their large establishment. The new building is 20 by 42 feet, two stories high, and is used exclusively for painting and varnishing purposes. The Brothers are enterprising and active business men and they turn out only first class work. Their school desks of which they make a specialty, are unsurpassed.

Haag's New Hall, at Pleasant Gap, which was dedicated on the fourth, is spoken of by the Bellefonte papers with praise. The Watchman calls it a big improvement for the Gap and thinks Mr. Haag deserves much praise for his enterprise. The first floor of the building is intended for a store room and the second constitutes the hall. It is to be used for public and political meetings, shows, school entertainments, and similar occasions.
