Casanave was the cat with whose paws they proposed to pull the chestnuts out of the fire, and only lately has he bugun to see how badly his paws were burned. While Anderson, with his son, father-in-law, brother-inlaw and coterie of friends, have been drawing $15,000 a year, Wells and family (including his father, who must be a hundred years old) about $10,000 a year, and Kenner and family about $5-000 a year from the government on account of their political services in the Presidential election of 1876, poor Cas- plied with the law. anave returned to his coffiin-making to find the business gone to the mischief. and then, to crown all, he was required to foot the bills for keeping himself and associates out of the Penitentiary, where they belonged. The details of this story are told in his pleasant way in our Washington dispatches, but the worst refers to his adventures in the Baltimore Gazette: "I am opposed effort to induce the administration to to my race leaving the South. How elections are carried in New England.

New England with all her boasted devotion to decorum in politics and morality in all things, has reason to blush for the disclosures that have been made as to the way elections are conducted in Rhode Island and Massachusetts, particularly in the former State of vaunted integrity. At Newport, on Saturday, the Republican politicians made confessions before the Butler accept as the first fruits of repentance, but which, from the cheery manner in which the dirty truth was told, lead to the fear that they rather glory in their shame. Rarely in this country has the ballot-box been so recklessly polluted by money. One man went so far as to say that the man who had not seen money used at all elections in Rhode he considered it legitimate. He had never sold his vote, but only the fear of criminating himself prevented his saywitnesses described the ingenious dewithout the discovery of the payee by ple on it. the payer. In some cases checks are given out to voters, who upon presenting them in a dark hall or in rum shops received the money, and a fellow who had actually been a candidate for Govvernor, although not much of a candidate, confessed to receiving ten dollars in an envelope handed down to him through a drop-door as the price of his vote. No comment can increase the force of these facts in exciting indigna tion. Disfranchisement would be a light penalty for the men, whether generals or plain citizens, who acquire of. fice by such means. Hereafter Rhode her representatives hold their tongues. The Democratic County convention of Clinton county met at Lock Haven on Tuesday the 19th inst., and nominated the following ticket: Prothonotary-George W. Batchelor, of Lock Haven; Register and Recorder-James W. Clark, of Mill Hall; Coroner-John S. Mader, of Lock Haven; Jury Commissioner-A. C. Chatham, of Crawford township. Hon, H. L. Deiffenbach presided over the Convention and Col. W. A. Simpson was appointed Chairman of the County Committee.

The resolutions are plain and practical-entirely to the point. They speak a kind word for our candidate for State Treasurer, our able U. S. Senator. Another chapter in the annals of the | Hon. W. A. The Harvest Home Picnic.

The Harvest Home Picnic of Union county last Thursday came off in good style and it was really a very creditable affair of its kind, all things considered. True there was not such a great outpouring from Centre county as had been expected, but it must be considered that the grand demonstration of two anave) out of the Pertientlary. years ago exceeded and was an excep tion to all rule. An excursion of about committee which we would be glad to 2500 people, filling four trains of ten cars each as we then hal, is indeed a rare thing, even in the most thickly settled parts of the state. The novelty of a ride on the rail together with the nominal fare of only hfty ceuts for the round trip, is what brought out the people of Penns and Brush valleys in such large numbers. This year the fare was a dollar, with times consider. Island must be blind, and for his part ably tighter, locally, than two years ago and yet we had over 500 excursionists from Coburn and Spring Mills. This number was largely augmented all the ing whether he had bought any. Union county had turned out en masse. The people did themselves much honor by the way in which they participated in their Harvest Home. We feel sure that Union county had as many people present as on the memorable occasion of two years ago.

The amasements and plays incident to such gatherings were not wanting, and the young folks generally had a good time of it at dancing, quoiting, crequet, and similar enjoyments. The best of humor prevailed and the day passed off very pleasantly and without the slightest accident or disturbance. Island ought to take a back seat and

H, MEYER,

A veteran editor of New York State, retiring from the chair, gave a few parting words to his readers, not forgetting, at the same time, to insert this wholesome advice: "A country newspaper needs friends, and cannot afford to have enemies. Don't get mad if something fails to suit you, and stop your patronage. Don't prattle all over the village about the shortcomings of the editor-co-operate with him. Help him to get the news and see that he has his share of your money to do business with. Don't loaf around his office and steal his time. Don't give him too much good advice. He knows more about his business, probably, than you do. Help, but don't hinder."-Ex.

A written confession over John Sherman's own signature, attested by witnesses, would not convince the country more thoroughly of the Secretary's guilty knowledge of the dark and wicked ways by which Tilden was cheated out of the electoral vote of Louisiana, than does the fact that he gave Casanave, of Returning Board fame, one
