DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

There will be a Mass Meeting of the citizens of Centre County, at the Court House, in Bellefonte, on which will be addressed by Hon. WM. A. WALLACE, U. S. Senator, of Clearfield county, Hon GEO. A. JENKS, of Brookville, and Ex-Gov. ANDREW G. CURTIN, of

Tuesday Evening, Oct. 14, '79,

It is hoped there will be a turnout from all parts of the county. All citizens are invited to come and hear the issues now exciting the public mind discussed by honest, able and faithful public men. By order of the Democratic County Committee. D. F. FORTNEY, Fair Democratic Prospects in Pennsylvania.

The campaign in Pennsylvania is a quiet one. We bear of Mr. Barr or ed against him. A great deal, he said, Mr. Butler at a county fair now and then; but the State Committees are doing nothing that is visible at this distance, and there have been only two or he said, it is alleged that an alliance three meetings at which Speaker Randall and ex-Speaker Grow have appeared for their respective parties.

A quiet campaign has generally been favorable to the Democrats in Pennsylvania. The Republican strength lies in the cities and great manufacturing centres, and is only brought out when the corporations and large employers see that the Republicans on their pay roll vote, and when the Democrats and reformers either stay in the shops or are forced to vote against their honest convictions. Pennsylvania is in reality a Democratic State. The majority against Hoyt, reckoning Greenback-Labor and Democratic votes together, was tremendous. This year there is no excuse or occasion for any division of the opposition vote, and the chances are that Democratic Greenbackers and La. Carolina, a colored Postmaster named bor Beformers, seeing the folly of Nix was shot, but much more frightensquandering their power to redress the ed than hurt, on the 16th ult., while grievances of which they so justly com- spelling out the superscription of the plain, by adhering to a powerless third letters in his charge. But the "outrage" will be spread with the Democrats on the anti Ring throughout the north and is expected and anti-discrimination issues and in to have great influence on the result of favor of "honest men in office"-a the elections. He might as save himful to the Democrats. The settlement | with the rest of the world.-Ex.

of the troubles in Philadelphia gives te millheim lournal. them the fairest field they have seen in many a year.

Pennsylvania, since she ceased to be an October State, has usually been seriously affected by the result in Ohio. But this year even the defeat of Ewing could do no great damage in Pennsylvania. The important issues being of Grant. a purely local but extremely vital character, the party would not necessarily be depressed by the most overwhelming disaster in Chio. Ewing's defeat would be attributed to the financial question, and would not dismay the hard-money party in Pennsylvania, while his election would be rightly accepted as a protest against electoral fraud and radical corruption.

Mr. Hayes.

A Cincinnati newspaper has printed an interview with Mr. HAYES on the prospects of some of the Presidential candidates. He says that GRANT is 'undoubtedly the ablest General the war produced :" that "he was made General of the Army and twice elected to the Presidential chair;" that since that time he has travelled abroad extensively," and that in the absence of any information from GRANT, he, HAYES, thinks the ex President would "much prefer to take some repose, keeping out of politics for the present." TILDEN is regarded by HAYES as a man of ability, but the "easiest beaten man the Democrats could nominate." He adds: "There is always a suspicion of trickery hanging about TILDEN as mong those who have been his followers." He recommends the Democratic party to make GEORGE H. PENDLE. TON its candidate in 1880, instead of running TILDEN again.

This interview derives its sole interest from the fact that a newspaper has thought it worth while to ask Mr. R. B. HAYES for his opinion on politics. He is probably the last man in the United States for whose opinion on any subject anybody cares a picayune. DANIEL PRATT's views on philology, TUPPER HOLLAND'S on fiction, JAMES T. Freid's on a question of literary criticism, TALMAGE'S on a theological point, Skipper DICK THOMPSON on great circle sailing, might, under conceivable oircumstances, be interesting, if not edifying. But HAYES' opinions are not even amusing, as the country learned at least two years ago.

Before the election of 1876 the weak and atterly inconsequential character of HAYES' mind was sufficiently decribed by THE SUN. Since Fraud put him into office, nothing that he has timate of his mental calibre filed at

Had Mr. HAYES character enough even to respect himself, the insignificant which he holds in his own Administration and the contempt with which he is treated by the leaders of the Republican party at large would constitute an unmerciful punishment for the crime to which he lent himself in 1877. But he is galled neither by a sense of insignificance nor by contemptuous treatment. The self-complacency that goes along with mental and moral obtuseness is his constant shield. -N. Y. Sun.

Grant, Blaine or Sherman?

Washington Correspondence Philadelphia Eve-ning Telegraph of Sept. 24th.

A prominent republican politician from Pennsylvania, in conversation, yesterday, in speaking of the prospects of the various leading republicans for the presidential nomination, stated that if the nomination was to be made to-day General Grant would undoubtedly be nominated. The people, it appeared, were for him, but it was a known fact the politicians were arraywould depend upon the action of the democratic congress at its next session as to who would be the candicate. If. has been formed between Sherman and Blaine, he was of the opinion that they would be able to exercise such control of the machinery for electing the delegates of Pennsylvania as to secure the convention for either of them as against Grant. It is evident from what is transfiring here, that there will be a warm contest in Pennsylvania to secure are aroused by a lively campaign and the delegation in the next national convention. It is understood that this alliance also extends to the southern states, and it is alleged that Secretary Sherman expects to divide the delegation of most of the states in that section with Blaine. It is said his emissaries are hard at work, and favorable reports of their progress are being received daily .- Patriot.

Sleep Ending In Death.

The Remarkable Case of Robert Musterma, who Slept for a Week and Died.

Robert Musterman of Flatlands, L. who went to sleep on Wednesday a week ago and could not be awakened, died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock. Musterman, who was a native of Germany, and about 29 years of age, was employed by Tax Collector Baisley of Flatlands to do work about the farm. Being extraordinarily strong, he was able to do the work of two ordinary men. Musterman was in the habit of drinking a great deal of strong liquor after his days work. On Wednesday night of last week Musterman retired to bed at ten o'clock. On Thursday morning as he did not arise as usual, Mr. Baisley went to his room to awake him. Musterman had the appearance of a man in a sound sleep, and Mr. Baisley shook him roughly, but could not awake him. Dr. Bowlesby of East New York applied restoratives without effect. On Friday Dr. Ingraham of Flatbush was called, and he, too, was unable to awake Musterman from his Kip Van Winkle like sleep. Dr. Ingraham though is was a case of apoplexy, the result of drinking too much strong liquor. He ordered beef tea and nourishing diets to be forced down the sleeping man's throat. No change was noticed in Musterman's condition until Monday. Then his eyes opened for a few minutes and then closed again. Much interest was taken in this sleeping phenomenon, and Mr. Baisley was bothered with many visitors who came from miles around. Musterman lay in the garret of Mr. Baisley's storyand-a-half house on the Canarsie road. He seemed to sleep calmly, snored loudly, and perspired freely. Before his death he gasped convulsively a few times, but did not awake. He had been sleeping six days and four hours.

A Question of Civil Rights.

WILLIAMSPORT, Sept. 26. - Some reeks ago the School Board of this city refused to admit colored children indiscriminately into the public schools, in accordance with the opinion of James M. Wood, Solicitor. To-day Nathan Morgan, Abington Harris and James A. Payne, three colored residents, appeared before United States Commissioner B. S. Bentley and swore out a warfant for the arrest of Superintendent Fraseau, Mary P. Brown, a teacher, and the Board of Directors, consisting of twenty-five members, for a violation of the United States laws by unlawfully resisting their execution and refusing admittance of colored children to the schools to the schools in the Ffith ward on account of race. The warrant was served on the accused by a Deputy United States Marshal, who released them at once upon their own recognizance, to appear before the Commissioner on Monday morning at 10 o'clook. This proceedure is intended as a test of the civil rights law and is likely to excite considerable interest

Twenty-one States will vote on the 4th of November. They are as follows: Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Some days Col. Bob Ingersoll and his cohorts organized what they are pleased to call the National Liberal party, preliminary to taking part in the Presidential canvass next year. It appears now that there may be six nominees for the Presidency-the Democratic, Republican, Greenback, Prohibitionist, Liberal, and perhaps Workingman. If the people act wisely they will elect the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Hayes is now on a visiting trip in the West and takes much pains to assure people that he is no candidate self that trouble.
