DEMOCRATIC MASS MEETING.

There will be a Mass Meeting of the citizens of Centre County, at the Court House, in Bellefonte, on Tuesday Evening, Oct. 14, '79, which will be addressed by Hon. WM. A. WALLACE, U. S. Senator, of Clearfield county, Hon. GEO. A. JENKS, of Brookville, and Ex-Gov. ANDREW G. CURTIN, of Bellefonte.

It is hoped there will be a turnout from all parts of the county. All citizens are invited to come and hear the issues now exciting the public mind discussed by honest, able and faithful public men. By order of the Democratic County Committee. D. F. FORTNEY, Chairman.

The Rank and File Deserting Kelley.

It is only the Tammany captains and lieutenants and sub-lieutenants that will feel it necessary to make any excuses at all; the rank and file will be prepared to vote the regular Democratic ticket as soon as they find that Tammany, which has already lost all its patronage, has no chance of regaining it. Before the day of election Mr. Kelley may realize the saying of the poet: "Friends are by one depart; who hath not lost a friend?"

When William Pitt Fessenden became Secretary of the Treasury he conferred with the banks of New York and St. Louis on the financial situation. After his return to Washington he received a dispatch from the St. Louis bankers saying, that after considering the whole matter they had decided that the views of the New York bankers were nearer correct than theirs. On the next day he received a dispatch from the New York bankers, saying that upon second thought they had decided that the St. Louis bankers' views were the sound ones. The Secretary then smiled grimly and decided to go it alone.

The Hayes Combination Circus and Menagerie, which is now exhibiting throughout the west, is not nearly so popular, as a show, as Barnum's Exhibitions generally are. The people don't show that genuine enthusiasm they would over the sight of a real President. Funds are at a discount and very properly too.

J. L. Richardson, of Danville, is the solid candidate for State Treasurer.

GRANT.

When an enthusiastic third term at San Francisco told Grant the other day there were many in that city who would like to see him President again, he answered, diplomatically, "I don't aspire." Still further pressed to say whether he would be a candidate in a certain contingency, he looked toward the sea and took refuge in silence.

This is the sort of game which has been played for the past two years, while the managers of the game have been pretending that Grant was not a candidate for 1880. As he has approached the point from which he started out, some of the disguises has been thrown off.

It is no secret that the voyage around the world was part of a plan to put Grant in training for a third term. He desired to go abroad, and that wish fitted in with the desires of those who wanted him away from party strifes, and out of danger of the committals and complications which would be at most inevitable should he remain at home. He was put in the way of gaining a large sum of money, enough to cover his expenditures of travel on a liberal scale, without seemingly having to incur any obligation. The arrangement was far more delicate than the subscription to the fund in his behalf in 1868. But the parties to it are as well known as were Fish, Borie, Childs, Drexel, and the others who flourished during two terms as the power behind the throne.

Grant is as much a candidate now as he was in 1868 or in 1872. All the Ring chiefs and a great number of leaders in the Republican party are for him first, last, and all the time. They have not changed in the least degree, or abated a jot in devotion. Their programme of a sectional crusade has been organized with reference to Grant. All the platforms are manufactured in one mould and they bear the impress of a preconcerted plan of campaign for 1880, by forcing an issue with the South, and claiming that a man with an iron grip is demanded in the Executive office.

The tradition of the Presidency from Washington down counts for nothing with this faction. They want power, patronage, the Treasury, the high honors, and a strong government, backed by a great standing army, an increased navy, and European forms and customs, without regard to expense. The glitter of a court at Washington, with class distinctions, enormous outlay, parade, palaces for the Cabinet, and extra appropriations for maintaining the dignity of their stations, are all comprehended in the scheme of a restoration of Grantism.

Grant is shrewd and does not mean to enter the Convention with any ordinary chance of being the nomination. His expectation is to conquer it in advance, so that there will be nothing more than a ratification of the machine's decree, when the delegates get together eight months hence. He turned aside from an intended journey to Australia in obedience to a call from the wire pullers, who told him the time had come for a personal participation on his part. Hence his return by way of California for the proposed ovations. Yet, when interrogated about the Presidency, he replies, "I don't aspire."

A Terrible Disaster.

A Stand at a County Fair Breaks Down and Kills many People.

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—An Adrian, Michigan, special to the Detroit Post and Tribune gives particulars of an accident that occurred at the county fair grounds in that city this afternoon. About 2,000 people had assembled on the newly-erected grand stand to witness the races. The centre of the stand gave way with a crash. The front part fell outward and the back fell into the river, precipitating the mass of people among the ruins. Work was at once commenced to extricate the dead and wounded, and the Opera House was opened and many of the dead and wounded, as fast as extricated, were conveyed there. The killed, so far as known, are M. M. Merck, Adrian; Mrs. John Hubbard, Jasper, Mich.; two boys, about 12 years of age, named Hyle and Mosher; David Stumman, Petersburg, Mich., aged 18; William Mulzer, Adrian. A large number were wounded, many of them seriously, not a few fatally.

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—Further particulars received from Adrian, Michigan, where the terrible accident on the county fair grounds occurred yesterday state that the total number of deaths from the accident so far is sixteen, the following persons having died since last night's report: Henry Hart, Sec. of the Mich. State Ins. Co.; A. Henderson, Millie Hall and a Chinese washerman, of Adrian; Dan'l Johnson, of Manchester; Mr. Hume, of Medina, Mich.; and Eva Sherrard, of Tecumseh, Mich. The seriously injured number seventy-five, some of whom, the physicians say, cannot live through the day. The architect of the grand stand structure is the person blamed for the fatal casualty. The stand was built unusually light to admit of space for the exhibition of wagons and carriages underneath, and the timbers were simply spiked together, instead of being mortised and braced.

The Democrats of Philadelphia have nominated a splendid ticket. Samuel Hartranft, for Sheriff, David S. Page, for Treasurer, and Thomas Greenback, Register of Wills, are just as good men as the city has and there is quite a fair prospect of their election.

The New York World is opposed to Tilden, for President. It is in favor of Hancock and Bayard. That would be a splendid ticket if it were reversed—Bayard and Hancock.

Mormon Settlers.

A Man with Many Wives cannot pre-empt Land legally.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—An interesting decision has just been made by Acting Secretary Bell, of the Interior Department, in the case of Hugh Lyons against Rachael Stevens, of Salt Lake City, involving a question of right of these parties to a section of land in the Salt Lake City land district. The claim of Lyons is rejected on the ground that the tract was not subject to pre-emption settlement by him. Rachael Stevens it appears, is one of several wives of John G. Holman, whom she recognizes as her husband, and he to all intents and purposes governs and controls her acts. The decision holds, in view of Holman's polygamous condition, that "if the first polygamous wife while voluntarily retaining that illegal relation to a man may in her own name obtain titles to one hundred and sixty acres of public lands, the second or twentieth wife may do the same, and the so-called husband would thus obtain in fact for his own use and benefit the control of that number of tracts of public land. This will not be permitted under the homestead or pre-emption laws. If the so-called wife," the decision continues, "should repudiate the illegal relation and cease to violate the positive laws of her country and of the civilized world, the fact that she had at one time been called wife of a man, and had maintained that relation to him, would not operate as a bar to her right. The woman, however who voluntarily maintains and acknowledges her position to be that of a plural and polygamous wife should be permitted to make a homestead or pre-emption entry of public land, as the very fact that she retains such relation is conclusive evidence that the entry is not made in good faith, for her exclusive use and benefit.

Senator Conkling at Canonchet.

A Statement that is Represented as Authorized by Gov. Sprague.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 30.—The following statement, which has been made to your correspondent may be regarded as authoritative as coming from Gov. Sprague: "The Saturday after Senator Conkling was driven from Canonchet, he came to Providence and sought out a gentleman here, who went to Gov. Sprague to intercede with him that nothing of the occurrence at Narragansett Pier should be made public through the press of the country. The messenger returned the same day and told Mr. Conkling that the Governor sent back word for word, the following message: 'Gov. Sprague will not leave the scandal of Washington to be repeated in his own household.' Mr. Conkling was set back, but went to work with a view to set Mr. Conkling, trustee of the Sprague estate, against Gov. Sprague, with the anticipation of having him removed from his house, arrested and confined as a madman. These facts are susceptible of proof."

Gov. Sprague authorizes the publication in full of the following letter from Mr. Hassard, counsel to Mrs. Sprague, written before her departure from Connecticut: My DEAR MRS. SPRAGUE: I have no doubt of the propriety of what you suggested. It was my opinion expressed to you in the presence of Mr. Johnson, last week, that you should leave and take immediate legal proceedings to secure possession of your daughters. I was sorry to have been so much in a hurry when at the house, but I left parties waiting for me at the pier. Yours truly, E. H. HASSARD.

Sixty or seventy Republicans of more or less prominence in New York have signed a circular addressed to the voters of the State, which sets forth reasons why Republicans who desire reform within the party cannot vote for Cornell, the R-publican candidate for Governor. Copies of the address have been sent to most of the Republicans in the city and thousands of them mailed over the State. The revolt seems to be formidable and will count in behalf of the Democratic candidate, Gov. Robinson, as most of the anti-machine Republicans will vote for him.

Governor Hoyt has appointed Henry Green, Esq., of Easton as an Associate Justice to the Supreme Court, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. Warren J. Woodward. The appointment is considered a very good one. The term of Judge Green, under the Governor's commission, will end on the first Monday of January, 1881, when the place will be filled by the person to be elected in November of next year, for the full term of twenty one years.

Rumor supposed to be based on good authority, says that Mr. Hayes will appoint Galusha A. Grow, of our own state, and Reuben E. Fenton, of New York, Ministers to Russia and England, respectively. Both gentlemen are among the very ablest and best in the Republican ranks.

The Philadelphia Times thinks there will be a Democratic gain of 6,000 to 8,000 in the counties of Lackawanna and Luzerne, over last year's vote in those counties. Mr. Barr's strength is also gaining in other parts of the state and his election may be put down as pretty certain.
