The Nerves as a Source of Trial.

Instead of being a vehicle for agreeable sensations some people's nerves are a most distressing endowment. Such sufferers, it will usually be found, are dyspeptic, lack vitality and flesh. What they need is more vigor. There is a means of obtaining it, if they will but avail themselves of that means. It is Hostetter's Bitters, a tonic which experience has shown to be of the utmost service to the debilitated, nervous and dyspeptic. Digestion restored upon a permanent basis by the Bitters, ministers as it should to the wants of the system, and its integral parts, of which the nerves are one of the most important, are properly nourished and invigorated. The various functions are thus more actively discharged, and obstacles to a re urn to health removed by increasing vitality. Instead of nervous prostration, new strength and vitality will be infused into the whole motive machinery. The Nerves as a Source of Trial.

CATS AS FARM STOCK .- The "harmless, unnecessary cat" is not so well flannel is worn by sailors even in the he knows anything about the trap-treated as it deserves. One rarely con-midsummer of the hottest countries. eze—" siders that a well-kept cat may be more prefitable than a cow. If one rat per day is destroyed, the services of the cat may be estimated as at least equal to $100 per year. Let us try to calculate the enormous damage done by 365 rats in one year, to say nothing of the ravages of the numerous progeny of the vermin. One rat per day is a moderate amount of business for an active cat. Recently the writer counted five rats captured in a stable by one cat in one day, and possibly others were not seen. The cat being well fed, hunted for amusement, and did not eat the prey. This is the principal point in the management of a not boil it too much. fed, for rats are unwholesome food. The most successful food for a cat is a mixed animal and vegetable diet. Milk and bread, a few potatoes with meat gravy, or a served. The first dressing should be little fat and a sprinkling of salt, with lily or cabbage leaves coddled in boilan occasional scrap of meat, are excel-lent food, and will keep the animal in one part way, one part land, one part good health.

VEGETINE.-For eradicating all imourities of the blood from the system, it has no equal. It has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by

CLOVERING MANURE.-It is remarkable that more attention is not given to the subject of covering manure from the weather, and especially from too much rain. Those who have given the matter particular attention have found that manure so protected is worth double that which is left out in the open air. Two loads for one is a profit few farmers can afford to lose. There is no tion so vitally concerns the farmer press purpose of manure making. Articles which scarcely pay to send to market are nevertheless taken to the city in order that manure may be

A CRYING baby is a bore to the whole brought back as a return load; and yet farmers who did not themselves believe it until by actual experiment they ound out its truth. In arranging farm buildings it will pay well to look as much to the preservation of the manure as to the hay or grain, and those who have their buildings already finished without these manurial arrangements will find that twenty-five or fifty dollars spent on boards for a covered shed will rank among the best investents ever made.

CHARCOAL FOR SICK ANIMALS, -- Nearly all sick animals become so by improper feeding in the first place. Nine cases out of ten the digestion is wrong. Charcoal is the most efficient and rapid corrective. It will cure a majority of cases if properly administered. An example of its uses. The hired man came in with the intelligence that one of the finest cows was very sick, and a kind neighbor proposed the usual drugs and poisons. The owner being ill and unable to examine the cow, concluded that the trouble came from over-eating, and ordered a teaspoonful of pulverized charcoal to be given in water. It was mixed, placed in a junk bottle, the head turned upward, and the water turned downward. In five minutes improvement was visible, and in a few hours the animal was in the pasture quietly grazing. Another instance of equal success occurred with a young heiter which had become badly bloated by eating green apples after a hard wind. The bloat was so severe that the sides were as hard as a barrel. The old remedy, saleratus, was tried for correcting the acidity. But the attempt to put it down always raised coughing, and it did little good. Half a teacupful of fresh powdered charcoal was given. In six hours all appearance of the bloat had gone, and the hei-

A WORLD OF GOOD .- One of the most popular medicines now before the American public, is Hop Bitters. You see it everywhere. People take it with good effect. It builds them up. It is not as pleasant to the taste as some other Bitters as it is not a whiskey drink. It is more like the old-fashioned bone set tea that has done a world of good. If you don't feel just right try Hop Bitters .- Nunda News

A Hint to Workingmen

The honest workingmen of the country, many of whom have large and increasing families to support, have been the chief sufferers from the great fi-nancial pressure under which we have labored for the last few years. Diminished wages have not been attended by a corresponding diminuation in price of every tning which the workingman needs. Rents, fuel, food, and clothing, are cheaper, but these do not constitute all his necessities. It is sometimes necessary for him to employ a lawyer or a physician, yet the fee rates of physicians and lawyers are as high as they were in "flush" times. Yet cheap medicines are as necessary as cheap rents or fuel. Cheap medicines are not necessarily poor medicines. It must be obvious to every intelligent person that medicines, compounded and put up at wholesale, can be sold at much lower rates than when retailed from the doctor's pill bags. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets have completely restored persons who had spent hundreds of dollars in vainly seeking relief from private practitioners, and all at a very little expenditure.

On infants this should be obone part wax, one part lard, one part turpentine from the pine-tree; melt and strain. Resin is sometimes used instead of turpentire. This makes basilicon. If the part blistered be in a situation apt to be rubbed, cover with cotton bats, as in the case of a burn, especially if the patient be an infant.

APPLES may be kept in pits, as potatoes are. Put them on the ground, not in a hole but on the surface, and pile them in a conical heap; cover with sheaves of straw gathered together at the top and tied there. The straw be a foot thick. Then cover the straw with earth dug around the heap, leaving the extreme point of the straw uncovered for ventilation. The pit should be made in a high and dry place.

SPRAINS AND BRUISES .- Parsnip tops beaten to a pulp and wetted with vinegar are a good application; also bran or clay, or brown paper, made wet with vinegar. But for sprains or bruises the best direction that can be given is to wrap the part with a soft cloth in many folds, and keep it constantly wet with water as warm as the patient can bear it. This treatment should be kept up for an hour or two at a time.

No SAFER REMEDY can be had for Coughs and Cold or any trouble of the throat, than "Brown's Bronchial Troches." Imitations are offered for sale, many of which are injurious. The genuine Bronchial Troches are sold only in boxes.

POTATO CAKES.—Take potatoes— mashed ones are best, but boiled ones can be mashed-immediately after dinner before getting too cold; add about an equal amount of flour and a small piece of butter or lard; rub thoroughly together, roll out and cut as for buscuit-not too thick and bake in a rather quick oven. When done to a light brown, cut open, butter and eat warm. They are delicious.

MEAT LOAF .- Chop fine, whatever cold meat you may have, fat and lean together; add pepper and salt, one finely chopped onion, two slices of bread which have been soaked in milk and one egg. Mix well together and bake in a form. This makes an admirable tea or breakfast dish.

How to Wash Windows .- Have a pail partly filled with clean tepid water; throw in a teaspoonful of powder-ed borax; have one small chamois dipped into the borax water, to wash the windows; then with a dry chamois rub the window dry, and polish. In this way windows may be cleaned in a very few moments and not wet the carpets or tire the person.

TO CURE HEADACHE. Simple remedies are frequently the best for headache. A cup of sour milk spread upon a thin cloth and applied to the head will many times give relief. Or, a mustard plaster on the back of the neck will often ease the pain.

In China, men never go to a barber shop to get shaved. The barber travels around with his tools like a scistors grinder, hunting up customers, and you sit down on a doorstep or the curb stones and the barber shaves and skins you at the same time, for one price, which is ridiculously low. An American never gets shaved by a Chinese barber the second time. He would rather be shaved and talked to death by an American barber than be skinned to death by a heathen Chinee.

HEALTH IS WEALTH.

Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent

Pure blood makes s und flesh, strong bene and a c ear skin. If you would have your flesh firm, your bones sound, without caries, and your coap-plexion fair, use Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent. A GRATEFUL RECOGNITION "To cure a chronic or long standing disease is truly a victory in the healing art; that reasoning power that clearly discerns dwrker and supplies a remedy; that restores step by step—by degrees—the body which has been slowly attacked and weakened by an insidious disease, not only commands our respect but deserves our grait ude. Dr. Radway has furnished mankind with that wonderful remedy, Radway's Sarsaparillian Resolvent which accomplishes this result, and suffering humanity, who drag out an existence of pain and disease, through long days and long nights, owe Mintheir gratitule."—Me. iqui Mess. nger,

FALSE AND TRUE. We extract from Dr. Radway's "T eatise on ilsease and Its Cure," as follows: List of Diseases Cured by Radway's Sarsaparillian-Resolvent. Chronic Skin Diseases, Caries of the Bone, Humors in the Blood, Scrofulous Dise ses. Bad or unnatural Habit of Body, Syphilis and Veneral, Fever Sores, Chronic or Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Rickets, White Swelling, Scal Head Uterine Affections, Cankers, Gia a ular Swellings, Nodes, Wasting and Decay of the Body. Pimples and Blotches. Tumors, Dyspep-ia, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Chronic Rh umatism and Gout, Consumption, Gravel and Calculous Deposits, and varieties of the above complaints to which sometimes are given specious names. We assert that there is no known remedy that possesses the curative power over these diseases that there is no known remedy that possesses the curative power over these diseases that Radway's Resouvent furnishes. It cures, step by step, surely, from the foundation, and restores the injured parts to their sound condition. The wastes of the bedy are stopped and healthy blood is supplied to the system, from which new material is formed. This is the first co rective power of Radway's Resouvent. In cases where, the system has been salivated and Mercury, Quicksilver, Corrosive Sublimate have accumulated and become deposited in the bones, joints, etc., causing caries of the bones, rickers, spinal curvatures, contritions, white swellings, variouse veins, etc., the Sarsaparamilian will resolve away those deposits an i exterminate the virus of the disease from the system.

If those who are taking these medicines for the cure of Chronic, Scr. fulous or syphilitic diseases, however slow may be the cure, "seel better," and find their general health improving, their fiesh and weight increasing, or even keeping its own, is a sure sign that the cure is progressing. In these diseases the patient either gets better or worse—the virus of the disease is not inactive; if not arrested and driven from the blood it will spread and continue to undermine the constitution. As soon as the Sarsaparillian makes the patient "feel better," every hour you will grow better and increase in health, strength and flesh. Which sometimes are given specious names. We assert that there is no known remedy that
