

Local Department.

The entire personnel of the JOURNAL establishment—the bosses, editors, salesmen, clerks, book-keepers, and printers, return their thanks to a generous public for a liberal patronage in office and store. Thanks—and a HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL.

The school board of Millheim is hereby most respectfully informed that there are three schools in operation in town; that each school has its own teacher, whose combined names are Zerby—VanOrmer—Eisenhuth; that the teachers are getting along "mildly", and if they have the least doubt on any of these points they had better go and see for themselves.

The auction man—this time from Milton—is here again this week, selling goods just dirt cheap. Our merchants are pleased beyond description of course they are. Guess these chaps come under the impression that we have no stores here, for the only way anybody can ever find out that we have a few of them, is by close and thorough inquiry.

A train of twelve sleighs stopped in town one day last week for dinner on their west ward, hot trip. They were real nice looking affairs, too much so for a poor county editor, and so we didn't offer to trade for one on subscription. But where is little Sammy Faust and what is he doing there?

It is with reluctance that we decline the publication of Deputy Leonard Rhone's report to the State Grange, at Bloomsburg. It is entirely too long for our columns at this time.

The Evangelical Sunday School will have its annual festival this evening, and the Methodist this afternoon. Ample preparations have been made and we hope the matter will be a success.

From the Girard (Kansas) Press we learn that Mr. A. V. Wolf, formerly of Aaronsburg, has been appointed tutor agent on the Messer & Parsons R. R. Alf is to enter upon the duties of his appointment at once.

The holidays have passed by very pleasantly here in Millheim. Sunday School and family festivals, friendly visits and greetings, present making and receiving, all, executing the weather, combined to make the season a happy and enjoyable one. But the weather, oh yes, the nasty, disagreeable weather.

Read this number of the JOURNAL thoroughly—the outside, editorial and local departments, correspondence, advertisements, legal notices and all, and ask yourself candidly whether as a readable local paper the JOURNAL is one whit behind any other in Central Pennsylvania. Perhaps you can get your neighbor to subscribe if you ask him to do so and give him the paper to read.

REPORT OF MILLHEIM PRIMARY SCHOOL for month ending Dec. 18th, 1879. No. in attendance—52. Average attendance—43. Per cent of attendance—81. School was closed Nov. 27th, (Thanksgiving day.) Visitors: Mrs. S. D. Musser, Mrs. J. F. Chambers, Dr. S. G. Gutelius, Mr. W. H. B. Eisenhuth and Prof. Henry Meyer, Co. Supt. Conduct this month has been good—average—70 per cent. Progress—83 per cent. No portion of that august body known as the school board of Millheim Borough have as yet chosen to visit the school. If we are justified in judging of motives by corresponding actions we can not help thinking that our directors have not the good of the schools at heart; proper supervision is beneficial, and once more, gentlemen, you are called upon to awaken from that comatose sleep into which you have permitted yourselves to fall, to arise and attend to your duties.

J. R. VANORMER, Teacher. [Since writing the above, Mr. A. C. Musser, Secy., called to see us.] The festival of the United Sunday School of Millheim, on Christmas evening, was a "decided success", and it will be long and pleasantly remembered by all concerned. The church was very profusely decorated with evergreen. The arrangement of the garlands and festoonings displayed a exquisite taste. In fact it was the most elaborate and yet the most chaste and neatest church decoration we have yet seen in Millheim.

The Christmas-tree seemed to be all that the juvenile heart could wish for. The historic old buffer, Mr. Santa Claus, was exceptionally lavish in his presents to the little ones. No doubt the children—God bless them—received more candies than many of them get the whole year round. One address was delivered, by Rev. John Tomlinson, and that was short, pointed and eminently practical. The speaker had for his subject "The Gifts we owe Christ". He demonstrated in a very forcible manner, that the Christian owed his treasure, his time, his talents, his all, to Christ and his cause.

The singing and performances at the organ were of a high order. In fact all the exercises of the evening, including the distribution of the gifts, were pleasing and satisfactory, and we sincerely trust that lasting impressions for good may have been made.

—The new barber gives entire satisfaction. He is steady, sober and attends well to his business. Just the chap we want.

—We are much pleased to hear so favorably of our friend, Rev. J. G. Shoemaker, now of Emporia, Kansas. His letter in another column will be read with much interest by his many friends and especially by his late parishioners here.

We send the JOURNAL regularly every week, and are only sorry that the Shoemaker family don't get it as punctually as it is sent.

—TIME IS MONEY.—Just so; and in order to have exact time you must have a good time piece, whether watch or clock. Therefore you had better make your arrangements to attend Frank P. Blair's great auction sale of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware and Fancy Goods, at Bellefonte, beginning next Monday, and to continue every day and evening until the entire stock is sold.

Here's a chance as you never had one before.

THE INSTITUTE.

The Thirty-third Annual Session of the Centre County Teachers' Institute convened in the Court House at Bellefonte, on Tuesday morning, Dec. 23, 1879, and continued four days. Two sessions were held each day during which all questions pertaining to the science of teaching were exhaustively treated. Eminent instructors from several state normal schools were present, and no pains were spared to render the Institute of as much practical benefit to the schools of our county as its most sanguine friends could desire. One hundred and sixty two active teachers were in attendance. These together with the number not actively engaged, were near two hundred and twenty.

Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, Prin. Keystone State Normal School was present each day and much of the success of the Institute is attributed to his untiring efforts in that direction. His labors were principally devoted to a clear exposition of matters bearing directly on the science of Pedagogics, and his many talks and lectures proved his fitness for the exalted position he occupies. He is a pleasant gentleman and an entertaining speaker. Misses Delia T. Smith and J. Ettie Crans, of the Shippensburg Normal School, had charge, respectively, of the English Grammar, Composition &c., and Vocal Music departments. Miss Smith is a gifted speaker—never hesitating a moment for the proper word and never mistaking the application of any one she may choose to use. She made sad havoc of some of our established principles and proved conclusively that the study of Grammar and kindred branches can be rendered easy and pleasant. Miss Crans exploded the theories advanced by many of our teachers in regard to teaching Vocal Music in our common schools. She illustrated her method by means of classes and ample blackboard exercises. She advocates the adoption by our teachers of the rote system and gave to Vocal Music in Centre county an impetus that will long be appreciated. As a musician she has few equals and as a teacher no superiors. Her playing and singing invariably "brought down the house."

The event of the week was the lecture of Dr. G. P. Hayes on "Character and Manners," on Wednesday evening. The dissertation was one calculated to be the means of doing much good. He held his audience spell bound for more than an hour and when he closed each listener appeared loth to retire. Each and all felt themselves wiser and happier by hearing the talented and cultured President of one of our most valued educational institutions. On Thursday evening Rev. D. K. Nesbit, of Pittsburg, delivered his lecture on "Shoddy" to a large and appreciative audience. The lecturer held up to public gaze all manner of deception in social circles, and the style in which he exposed the various ways of assuming and maintaining false appearances elicited from his hearers prolonged and not-to-be-mistaken applause. We also desire to notice some of our own talent—Prof. W. A. Krise, of Gregg, on "Methods of Instruction." A series of able and beneficial short lectures. Prof. C. L. Granly, of Rebersburg, read an ably prepared paper in defence of Mental Arithmetic. The Prof. has, apparently, no patience with those who would desire to see this important branch stricken off the list of studies. Dr. C. C. Zeigler, of Penn. in his talk on "American Literature" gave the Institute to understand that he had an extensive knowledge of all our writers. Gen. Beaver, W. C. Heinle, Esq., Prof. A. N. Raub, of Lock Haven, J. H. Rankin, Esq., Supt. Magee, of Clinton Co. and others spoke with telling effect at different times.

The utmost good feeling prevailed throughout the entire session and there can be no doubt that all were benefited. An effort was made to have the time of holding the Institute changed, the time proposed was before the term opened, the suggestion was received with disgust by the majority of the members. In closing we have only to say that they who were unable to attend lost more educationally than they could have gained financially. The Institute is intended for the teachers—all of them, and it is worthy their united support.

THE NEW YEAR.

Another year with its toils and cares, its joys and sorrows, its opportunities—whether improved or neglected—has closed upon us, and it is fitting that while standing on the threshold of the young year we should seriously consider how we have spent the one just closed, and what are our prospects, our objects and aims, for the near future. The question is not so much whether we have increased in material wealth—whether we have added another house or farm to those already in possession. The higher grade of comforts, although very convenient, are not absolutely necessary to our happiness either here or hereafter; and it is therefore of much more consequence that we cultivate and improve the mind and heart, the immortal parts of our being, than merely to accumulate wealth.

Many people live, or exist through a long succession of years a sort of routine life that knows little or no variation. The idea never enters their uncultured minds that we were created for higher and nobler purposes than to gather a little of this world's dross. We have people in our mind's eye who for twenty years and more have not made a single advancing step either in mental or moral improvement—who in all but age and wealth occupy the precise spot they did then. What a thought! to live a life-time without growing one iota wiser or better! To have all our years—God-given, so full of golden opportunities for good, pass by as one blended, bleak, dreary moral waste, as destitute of good works as the Sahara Desert is of vegetation.

Reader, have you made up your mind how you will begin and how you will live the new year? Act like an intelligent, reasonable moral being, who is responsible to God for a proper use of time, years and opportunities mercifully given.

AARONSBURG CRUMBS.

Snow came just a little too late to be of any use on Christmas, and just a little too small in quantity to be of much use, at any time.

The public schools had a few days vacation last week. Will have one or two days again this week.

Mr. & Mrs. Noah Leitzell took a holiday trip to Elk County, to visit friends.

Mr. J. C. Meyer, Messrs J. W. Bright and C. S. Musser, Miss Ella Musser and Miss Emma Desher, have all come home to spend the Christmas vacation.

Rev. Tomlinson is suffering from a cold, so severe that he had not been able to attend to all his customary work.

Col. & Mrs. J. P. Coburn took their Christmas dinner at Dr. Huston's in Nittany Valley.

Coasting is indulged in, to a limited extent, not only by the children. Some people accomplish it involuntarily, and without the use of a sled.

Plenty of presents, and some nice ones, given and received.

ECHOES FROM COBURN.

Could you bet. Business is booming. Coburn will not give Grant a reception.

Wesley Whitman and lady are off to Harrisburg on a wedding trip. May their wedded life be always as auspicious as its beginning.

Four young gentlemen, living along Penns Creek, recently declared that the state of "single blessedness" was a farce and a delusion; and immediately went and hung themselves—each to a handsome young lady.

The Elk Creek Union S. S. had a festival on Christmas night. It was their first attempt, and we must say it was a perfect success.

They had a "tree" of course, well laden with good things for the girls and boys. The house was artistically decorated for the occasion. In spite of the snow which was falling thick and fast, the people poured in from all sides filling the house to its utmost capacity; so that one had to put himself into the least space possible. In fact it was feared by some that they would never regain their former dimensions, as you know, solids long compressed lose their elasticity.

The exercises were opened with a Christmas song, Miss Cora E. Ard at the organ, after which came the distribution of gifts. Every man, woman and child in the house received a present, and all were apparently happy. Among the countless variety of articles which adorned the tree there was a fine bottle of brandy presented to a middle aged gentleman, a member of the school. The generous recipient opened his heart and his bottle to the officers of the school, and in full view of the audience, these functionaries, each in his turn, drank to the health of the giver. We do not know whether this little scene had any moral effect on the audience or not; but we do know that it had a decided physical effect on some persons—it made them awfully thirsty. XENAGORAS.

Some valuable property is advertised in this week's JOURNAL at public sale. W. H. Corman, Assignee, will offer the entire real and personal property of John W. Scholl, of Miles township, at public sale, on Monday a d Tuesday, January 19th and 20th. J. H. Reifsnnyder, Administrator, will offer at public sale, Saturday, January 17th, the undivided one half of the property occupied by John F. Chambers—being the estate of the late Samuel Sivels, deceased.

The Musical Convention at Madisonburg was fully organized on Saturday evening, and is moving along nicely. The unusually large attendance is an evidence that the citizens of the Burg are laboring to make the convention a success. A short drill on the rudiments of music will be given at each morning session.

The convention will close Saturday evening, Jan. 3rd, 1880, with a grand concert, the exercises to consist of Solos, Duets, Quartets, Choruses, and Select Reading.

The committee extends a cordial invitation to singers from a distance, and quarters will be provided for all such free of charge. "Come and see us."

VOLUME FIFTY FOUR.—This number begins the 5th volume of the JOURNAL and its predecessor, the old Centre Berichter. We certainly haven't much to boast of, neither have we any just cause of complaint. Thankful to our friends and patrons for past favors we enter the new year hopefully.

The Radicals down in Maine are kicking up considerable of a fuss because the result of the election as constitutionally and legally ascertained, does not suit them. It will all end in blood, however; and Jim Blaine, the chief blatherskite, will distinguish himself a little in the Maine rebellion as he did in the war for the Union.

THE CONCERT.—The concert on Saturday evening by the Juvenile Quartette Club of Millinburg, was simply excellent, in the fullest sense of the word. It was the best enjoyed occasion of the kind we had here for years, and the dear little children composing the club have not only won the admiration of our people by their beautiful singing, but every body seems to have fallen in love with them.

The singing was of a high order, and proves that their teacher, Miss Kate Shriner, must have spent a prodigious amount of labor in their training; nor need she fear to go anywhere with her lovely little pets, to give concerts. We wish them God's blessing and much success. Hope they will "call again."

News Miscellaneous.

Dr. Wm. H. Clark of Albion, Indiana, was convicted at Indianapolis, Dec. 3, for making false affidavits to pension papers. This was his second trial for the same offense. He was fined $1,500 and sent two years to the penitentiary. This pension business may turn out yet to be a dear speculation for some fellows, as this Dr. Clark found it to be.

We have the inconvenience of having a good many places near hereabouts that have two or four names. There is Georgetown—its postoffice Mt. Pleasant Mills; Centreville—its postoffice Pentus Creek; Adamsburg—its postoffice Beaver Springs; Banfer—postoffice Paxtonville; Smithgrove—postoffice Kremer; and now we have Meiser postoffice changed to Globe Mills.—Schinsgrove Times.

JUST AS THEY DO HERE.—There was a double wedding in Kelley township last Thursday evening. The two daughters of Mr. Christian Stolzfus were married by Rev. E. Ritell according to the ceremonies of the Onish Mennonite church. After the wedding a banquet was served up. The affair was made doubly pleasant by a serenade of a calathumpian band of over one hundred persons, which made the most unearthly music heard in that section for many a year.
