GROWING PECAN NUTS .- It is certainly to be regretted that our people cannot more fully appreciate the pecan as a crop to be cultivated. Thousands upon thousands of well-arranged and carefully cultivated groves ought now to be coming on in all parts of the lower Mississippi valley; yet, strange as it may seem, they are just about as few and far between as angels' visits. Why? I cannot tell, unless it is merely another case of the "prophet in his own country," the pecan being "only a wild tree," you know. Possibly we would all have English walnuts, would they grow with us as readily as does the pecan, and yet there is always a demand for the fruit of the pecan, and it is really more profitable than that of the English walnut. We ought to put out pecan trees. Neglecting to do so may be wronging ourselves, and it is undoubtedly wronging the generation to come after us. There can be no doubt of the fact that the man who leaves to his posterity a flourishing grove of pecan trees, leaves them a legacy almost as good as a gold mine. That is what they say concerning the olive groves in the Old World, and a pecan grove, properly cared for, would be worth, all things considered, just about as much as an olive grove of the same size.

The pecan starts readily from seed; most of the nuts offered for sale in the shops will germinate promptly if carefully planted. It likes low, rich, bottom land, not permanently wet, though it will do very well on uplands and in soil of almost any character. In a word, any soil that will sustain an apple or a peach orchard, will do for the pecan; and it is a tree of much wider range than is generally supposed. I have seen as fine pecans growing in the woods along the Mississippi river, one hundred miles above St. Louis, as ever grew in the State of Texas.

PEAR BLIGHT .-- The cause of pear blight and its cure is given by the Gardener's Monthly as follows: "It has been shown by careful microscopic examination in its earliest stages that the disease is caused by a minute fungus which develops in the bark and penetrates inwardly, destroying the cell structure as it proceeds. The fungus is so small that the distinguished investigator, Dr. J. Gibbons Hunt, under a powerful microscope, could not distinguish the species; but this is of no consequence. This being the cause of the disease, the preventive is obvious. Any one who is in a neighborhood liable to blight can have immunity by washing his trees annually with lin, seed oil, suiphur wash or other things that will kill a fungoid spore without injury to the bark. Of course spores may get into a crevice where the washes cannot reach, and hence there may be some cases where, even though the trees be washed, there will be disease. has been so clearly demonstrated and the remedy so patent, that cases of 'fire blight' only prove ignorance or neglect."

Compost heaps may be made of muck or earth for a basis; to this may be added leaves, cotton-seed, ashes, gypsum, night-soil, stable manure, trash from the fields (except weeds in seed), and all the slops from the houses and cabins. Plenty of water should be added, By turning the heap the compost will be fine enough to use in the hill for corn. If desired, bone dust may be added, but fine artificial fertilizers will be bet-

To Tell a Horses Age .- After a horse is nine years old a wrinkle comes to the eyelid, at the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well defined wrinkle for each year of his age over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkleshe is twelve; if four, thirteen. Add the number of wrinkles to nine and you will always get it.

About 250 years ago the Tschuktschi were distinguished as gallant warriors. The discoverers have gathered a valuable assortment of the arms and armor of that period. Many of these implements are preserved among the families, whose habits are no longer aggressive. Very noticeable are curiosities, carefully wrought out of mammoth ivory and fashioned with a re- milk, and season with nutmeg. markable resemblance to the old Roman panoply. Their spears and bows are made of whale-bone, wood and ivory, spliced and bound with the sinews of the reindeer, and showing an advanced perception of artisic ornamentation on the part of the makers. One huner Arcadia so near the North pole. A people without chiefs and without criminals, experiencing no difficulty in the distribution of the product of their joint exertions in fishing and hunting, whose sole sign of pride of wealth or faney is the possession of a boat a little larger than ordinary, may well deserve the respect they have earned from Nordenskjold and his party and prove fitting subjects for further ethnological study.

SOME SWEET SAUCES .- I rather think pudding sauces are English rather such as I have seen, rarely go in for a mistake to make a pudding sauce too for a sauce good for puddings: 1. Grate an ounce and a half of white sugar and two tablespoonsfuls of water, and let it simmer for ten minutes; take an ounce fresh water, changing the water twice; mix that with not more than a half teaspoonful of flour (more flour than that spoils it); stir that into the sugar and longer time than two minutes; when it is cooling put in a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a wineglassful of Medeira. 1 think the same quantity of good, sound red wine is just as good. Warm it all gently once more. If you boil it after wine is put in the flavor of the wine goes off. This is for fancy, delicate puddings. Sauce No. 2 for dumplings -This is a rough-and-tumble kind of sauce and goes with duff or almost any thing. Equal parts of brown sugar and butter well mixed up, into which you have put the yolk of an egg. Put it over a light fire and keep stirring it all the time, letting it simmer but not allowing it to boil. Just before serving it add a pinch of cinnamon to it and a iittle grated nutmeg. No. 3, hard sauce -One ounce of butter and a quarter of a pound of brown sugar (white sugar is not good), beat it up to a cream and add a tablespoonful of brandy and some nutmeg.

EXCELLENT GLYCERINE OINTMENT.-A very good perparation of glycerine to have always on hand, can be readily prepared by any apothecary or druggist: In two ounces of Sweet Oil of Alof White Wax. Then add one ounce of knew him when his father was a boy.' good Glycerine stirring until cold. When cold, scent it by stirring in well a little Oil of Roses. Keep in small jars or small wide-necked bottles. In hot weather keep closely corked, as it sometimes gets a little rancid if long exposed to warmth. Half or a fourth of the above quantities may be used. Every drug store should keep a jar of it, and recommend its use. It is excellent for softening the skin, for most injured skin surfaces that are not open sores; for chafed places, for moistening corns or callused feet or toes, and especially for chapped face, lips, or hands. When the hands are chapped or cracked, or ronghened by cold, wash them clean with soap, and rup them well with this glycerine ointment, wiping it off enough to prevent soiling clothing. If this is done at night, the hands will be sost and in good condition is the morning, except when deeply cracked. It is very good to apply to the hands after "washing-day." This is an excellent preparation to use by those afflicted with the distressing trouble known as hæmorrhoids or piles.

TRUTH AND HONOR .- Query :- What is the best family medicine in the world to regulate the bowels, purify the blood. remove costiveness and biliousness, aid digestion and tone up the whole system? A LEARNED doctor of Germany has discovered a means of dyeing human eyes any color he likes. He calls it Ocular Transmutation. He can not only give fair ladies eyes as black as night or as blue as the azure, heavens, but he can change them to the hue of silver or of gold with advantage to the sight. Ladies can now have eyes to match their red-we mean auburn hair. The doctor's terms for coloring a pair of eyes are not stated; but if a man wants his optics changed to a black and blue hue, he will probably find it cheaper to call a man bigger than himself a liar. The ocular transmutation process, however, doesn't improve the sight. Rather otherwise.

J. E. Ditson & Co.

Four years ago Messrs. J. E. Ditson & Co., the Philadelphia branch of the universally known house of Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston, the most extensive music publishers in the United States, purchased and succeeded to the business of Messrs. Lee & Walker, at that time the largest publishers south of New York, Messrs. J. E. Ditson & Co., have continued at the same location (No. 922 Chestnut street), and so rapid has been the growth of their business that they have recently augmented their stock by the purchase of the catalogue of G. Andre & Co. (which alone comprises 4800 music plates), and whose old place of business, No. 1228 Chestnut street, will be, January 1st, the base of operations of Messrs. Ditson & Co. Alterations to meet the requirements of their vast business are now in progress, and all the indications point to its becoming one of the most attractive stores on Chestnut street. To briefly outline the scope of the alterations, we will state that the first floor will be devoted to their retail trade; the basement, to book stock; the secand story, to the piano department (where their present gratifyingly steady business in selling and renting new and second-hand planos will doubtless be amplified); the third story, to their surplus stock. The whole business will be conducted in the rear half of the basement and first floor. The simple presentation of the fact that Messrs. Ditson & Co. are the publishers of 80,000 pieces of sheet music and upwards of 2000 music books, the agents for Novello, Ewer & Co.'s English pubfications, and dealers in foreign and American music and musical merchanlise generally, carries with it an obvious significance.

Oatmeal.

Gatmeal is a food of great strength and nutrition, having claims to be better known and more widely used than it is at present. Of much service as a brain food, it contains phosphorus enough to keep a man doing an ordinary amount of brain work in good health and vigor. All medical authorities unite in the opinion that eateu with milk, it is a perfect food, and, having all the requisites for the proper development of the system, it is a preeminently useful tood for growing children and the young generally. Oatmeal requires much cooking to effectually burst its starch cells, but when it is well cooked it will thicken liquid much more than equal its weight in wheaten flour. The oats of this country are superior to those grown on the Continent and the southern parts of England, but certainly inferior to the Scotch, where considerable pains is taken to cultivate them, and it is needless to point out that the Scotch are an example of a strong and thoroughly robust nation, which result is justly set down as being derived from the plentiful use of oatmeal. Dr. Guthrie has asserted that his countrymen have the largest heads of any nation in the world -not even the English have such large heads-which he attributes to the universal use of oatmeal; as universal it in moving so near the camera? To three pints of boiling water add a level teaspoonful of salt and a pint of coarse meal, stirring while it is being slowly poured in; continue stirring until the meal is diffused through the water-about eight or ten minutes. Cover it closely then, and place it where it will simmer for an hour; avoid stirring during the whole of that time. Serve hot, with as little messing as possible, accompanied with milk, maple syrup or sugar and cream. To make eatmeal cake, place in a bowl a quart of meal, add to it as much cold water as will form it into a soft, light dough, cover it with a cloth fifteen minutes to allow it to swell, then dust the pasteboard with meal, turn out the dough and give it a vigorous kneading, Cover it with the cloth a few minutes, and proceed at once to roll it out to the eighth of an inch in thickness; cut it in five pieces and partly cook them on a griddle, then finish them by toasting them in front of the Chronic Skin Diseases, Caries of the Bone, Humors in the Blood, Scrofulous Dise ses. Bad or unnatural Habit of Body, Syphilis and Venereal, Fever Sores, Chronic or Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Rickets, White Swelling, Scal : Head, Uterine Affections, Cankers, Glandular Swellings, Nodes, Wasting and Decay of the Body, Pimples and Blotches. Tumors, Dyspepsia, Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Chronic Rh umatism and Gout, Consumption, Gravel and Calculous Deposits, and varieties of the above complaints to which sometimes are given specious names. We assert that there is no known remedy that possesses the curative power over these dispossesses the curative power over these dis-eases the t RADWAY'S RESOLVENT furnishes. It cures, step by step, surely, from the founda-tion, and restores the injured parts to their sound condition. The wastes of the body are stopped and healthy blood is sup plied to the system, from which new ma-terial is formed. This is the first corrective power of RADWAY'S RESOLVENT. In cases where he system has been salivated and Mercury Quicksilver, Corrosive Sublimate have accumulated and become deposited in the bones, joints, etc., causing garies of the bones, rickets, Spinal curvatures, contortions, white swellings, varicose veins, etc., the Sarsaparillian will resolve cose veins, etc., the SARSAPARILIAN will resolve away those deposits an i exterminate the virus of the disease from the system.

If those who are taking these medicines for the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous or Syphilitic diseases, however slow may be the cure, "teel better," and find their general health improving, their fiesh and weight increasing, or even keeping its own, is a sure sign that the cure is progressing. In these diseases the patient either gets better or worse—the virus of the disease is not inactive; if not arrested and driven from the blood; it will spread and continue to undermine the constitution. As soon as the SARSA mine the constitution. As soon as the Sarsa-PAR "LLIAN makes the patient "feel better," every hour you will grow better and increase in health, strength and flesh.
