From the study of the drugs' action, the following conclusions are arrived at :- That, as with any other potent drug, there is a proper and improper use of it. That in moderation it is a mild and pleasant stimulant, followed by no harmful reaction. Its continued and immoderate use leads to a very serious group of symptoms, such as headache, vertigo, ringing in the ears, tremulousness, nervousness, exhaustion of mind and body, with disinclination to mental and physical exertion, increased and irregular action of the heart, and dyspepsia. The mental symptoms are not to be attributed to dyspepsia. It diminishes the amount of urine, and retards the metamorphosis of tissue. Many of the symptoms of immoderate tea-drinking are such as might occur without a suspicion of the real cause.

A Medicine Should not be Guaged By the suddenness and violence of its effects Self-evident as this proposition would seem there are many foolish persons who are content only with a remedy which acts abruptly. The pill and other nostrum-vendors who trade upon the credulity of this class, find their best holt," as poor Artemus Ward termed it in the sale of violent purgatives. If instead of such pernicious rubbish, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is used, the results are widely different. The bowels are relieved, but always gently, by this pleasant laxative, which does not weaken but invigorates them, and endows the co-operative organs of digestion and bilious secretion with activity and regularity, strengthens the constitution and physique, and while it is safe in its constituents, is sufficiently prompt in ope-

GATARRH Is a Terrible Disease. Its fearful effects—corruption running down the throat, weak eyes, deafness, loss of voice, loss of smell, disgusting odors, nasal deformities, and finally consumption. From first to last it is ever aggressive. Ordinary treatments are worse than useless. If neglected while a cure is possible, it may rapidly develop into quick consumption. The most therough successful and pleasant treatment is Dr. M. W. CASE'S CARBOLATE of TAR INHALANT It does not re- FOR CATARRH, ASTHMA, stes to demonstrate the value of Carbolate of Tar, the most healing remedial agent known to science. Bessams and Cordials of the most healing and soothing properties are so combined with Pine Tree Tar, that the mere breathing converts them into a dense smoke or vapor. This is inhaled—taken right to the diseased parts. No heat, or vapor. This is inhaled—taken right to the diseased parts. No heat, no hot water, simply inhaling or breathing it, and you feel its healing power at once. This treatment is endorsed by physicians everywhere, and highly commended by firculars, etc., Sent Freethousands, who have used it with perfect satisfaction.
