NOTICE.—Any of our subscribers who expect to change their residence this Spring will please inform us of the fact.

The Building and Loan Association meets on Monday evening. Now don't you forget it.

—Job work of all kinds done at the JOURNAL Office at prices as cheap as the cheapest.

—Read the professional card of Deahler & Son, physicians, Aaronsburg, Pa.

—A full line of school books just received and for sale at the JOURNAL BOOK STORE.

—A splendid private residence with the good will of a medical practice for sale. For particulars apply at this office.

—Jacob H. Stover's sale, at Pine Creek, next Saturday afternoon. Hogs will be sold—are you going?

—A splendid line of Family and Pocket Bibles just received at the Journal Book Store, very cheap. Call and see.

—As far as the law is concerned you are allowed to catch trout from this day hence, but you had better get the consent of the trout also, else the law will not do you a bit of good.

—The Central Manufacturing Company, of Lewisburg, made a piece of casting the other week weighing 1700 pounds. It was a "bell-shaped cap for Union Furnace."

—Wm. H. Reifsnnyder offers his services to the public as auctioneer. He only asks to be given a fair chance in his new business and guarantees to give satisfaction.

—The building for the new furniture factory in Lock Haven, is going up. Why can't we have a good manufacturing establishment of some kind in Millheim?

CALVES.—The subscriber gives notice that he in all the time prepared to pay the highest cash price for calves. He will come and fetch them at any place in Penn or Haines township, if notified.

J. Willis Musser, Woodward, Pa.

—The old Mill Hall furnace, which has been dead as a door nail for the last twenty-five years, is to be put in blast again, and Austin Curtin is the man that is going to do it—so the papers say. Washington furnace will also be put in running order, during the summer.

—Just received at the JOURNAL BOOK STORE, a full line of blank books, ledgers, day-books, blotters, pass-books, memoranda, etc., also a new lot of S. S. reward cards.

—The Lewisburg boys got so annoying in jumping on moving trains that several of them had to be socked in jail awhile. The "boys" down there are just as bad as necessary.

—The Lewisburg Chronicle thinks that business on the Lewisburg & Tyrone rail road is increasing. Glad to hear it. Hope both road and business may increase until the former is completed and will have all to carry it.

—The JOURNAL BOOK STORE sells all the school books recently adopted by the school boards of Millheim Boro', Penn, Haines, Miles and Gregg townships.

—F. O. Metzger, a young gentleman, who had been staying on a visit with his relatives in town this winter, has left for Philadelphia, where he expects to enter a machine-shop. Good-bye, Fred, hope you'll do well and come back some time.

A CARD.

The undersigned takes this method of informing the citizens of Millheim that he intends teaching a select school in Millheim, commencing on or about April 14th, next. A share of public patronage is respectfully solicited.

W. H. B. EISENHUTH.

—From the Bellefonte papers we learn that an important change in the management of the Brockerhoff House, is about taking place. Mr. Teller takes entire control of the house, Mr. House-elder retiring. In all other particulars the Brockerhoff will remain the first class hotel that it now is, fully deserving the large patronage it enjoys.

—We learn from a reliable source that Rev. Siegel, of Monroe county, Pa., has accepted the unanimous call given him by the Aaronsburg Reformed church. Mr. Siegel expects to come to his new field about the last of April.

—Rev. W. R. Wicand, of Adamsburg, Snyder county, visited and preached in the Hebersburg charge, last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Wicand seems to take well, both as a man and as a preacher, and received an all but unanimous vote. It is not yet known whether he will accept the "call" or not.

O. Deininger, Secretary; C. W. Hartman, Assistant Secretary; John Long, Treasurer. The members of the lodge are requested to attend next Saturday evening, as business of importance will be transacted.

Katie Smith and Harriett Breen were present every day. I take this method of thanking the patrons of North Street School district for many acts of kindness received during the term, and trust that my work, encouraged by the pupils' parents, was productive of some good.

W. H. B. EISENHUTH, Teacher. March 30, 1880.

Our band has been serenading several of the fitting parties in Millheim in the last couple of evenings.

March took its leave with beautiful weather. The town and its people are beginning to get livelier and the sport seekers are getting out their velocipedes, quills, &c., &c.

Rev. J. Benson Akers, the new Methodist minister, preached his first sermon here on Sunday evening, and it is well spoken of.

—To-day many people will be engaged in receiving and paying out money. Hope many of them will pay a dollar a side to pay the printer, when they come to town again.

—Gephart & Musser, our enterprising flour merchants and dealers in grain, coal, plaster and salt, are branching out. The other day they bought Smith & Co's large and convenient grain elevator, at Coburn Station, including rail road siding and other conveniences. This gives them new and increased facilities for their large and growing business.

—Every citizen of this community should feel an interest in the condition of our Cemetery. It will be the final resting-place for many of us—it is where many of our loved ones are now sleeping their last sleep. Why then do we suffer our "city of the dead" to fall into such general dilapidation and decay? Who can give a satisfactory answer? We confess that we are unable to do so. Let us arouse, unite, and put our grave-yard into a condition that will reflect some credit on us as a community. Come, friends, we have neglected this matter year after year, let us now redeem ourselves and do justice to our better natures in this matter.

It is now about the time of the regular annual meeting and election, and is therefore a fit season to agitate this matter. Let those who were the last trustees—for the cemetery has hardly a single officer now—consult together, call a meeting, and use their personal efforts to insure a good turnout. Let a general interest be awakened before the meeting, and then there will be a prospect that something practical, something substantial will be done.

SPRING MILLS ITEMS.

Rev. J. B. Akers preached to a large congregation last Sabbath morning.

Rev. McDonald preached in the evening, but the inclement weather prevented many from attending services.

Matters are much on the move just now—J. F. Glass moves to Sugar Valley, G. H. Homan on Mr. Wolf's farm at Sprucecreek, J. H. Hazell to Altoona, and Mr. Erhard from Old Fort to this place. The Spring Mills Academy, under the management of Rev. D. M. Wolf, promises to become quite an institution. A teacher of vocal and instrumental music has been engaged, and this will add much to the character of the school. Here is a rare chance parents, right in your midst, to give your children a good education at a trifling cost. Our town is of easy access being situated on the Lewisburg & Tyrone Railroad. There is no more healthy place in the state, and there is no reason to doubt that Spring Mills Academy will soon rank among the first of its kind in the state.

Another old mother—Mrs. Isaac Hettinger—left these mortal shores for the eternal world. Who is next, and next, and next?

The Auditor General's and State Treasurer's Reports for 1869 present some very interesting figures, among which are the sums which the several counties pay into, and what they receive from the state treasury. The following statement shows that Centre county pays $12,394.00, and that county officials and institutions in the county receive $20,049.91 and that consequently the county is "short" nearly $8,000. Who would have thought that Centre is a "pauper" county, and that other parts of the state must pay a good part of her running expenses.

Smith Makes a Confession.—George Smith, confined in the county jail at Williamsport, on the charge of killing Andrew Miller, learning that Mrs. Miller and her children had made statements charging him with the murder, made a full confession of his guilt on Wednesday. He states that having deceived the old man to the barn by making a noise, he laid in wait with a piece of hard wood edged, five feet in length, and struck him a powerful blow on the back of his head, which felled him to the ground. The old man only exclaimed: "Oh!" a few times, when he struck him again and he was dead. He then went to the house, got a clothes line from Mrs. Miller, which she had laid ready for him, and returned and swung Miller up in the barn all alone. He then went to the house and told the woman all about it. She cautioned the children to say nothing about their father's murder. They have both confessed, however, and their statements agree with that of Smith, so that the story of the atrocious crime is complete. Smith claims that the woman insisted that he should murder her husband, suggested the plan to decoy him out of the house, and proposed hanging him up with the clothes line to allay suspicion and fixed upon that night for the commission of the crime.

News Miscellaneous. AN EAGLE CARRIES OFF A CHILD.—Milton, N. C., March 22. In person county yesterday morning, as the little three year old child of Mr. William Murray was sitting on a stile feeding chickens, a large eagle swooped down on the chickens scattering them in all directions. As the child was moving off the eagle made a second swoop catching the child in its talons and with its prey rose in the air; but the child was too heavy and the eagle managed to flutter a short distance to the limb of a decayed oak. Its talons were so entangled in the clothing of the child, that it could not get loose and the weight soon made it come down to the ground. The frightened father of the child came up and killed the eagle. The child save some deep scratches, was uninjured.

A BOY'S LATAL KICK.—An eight year old boy named Bennett, living in Lower Yoder township, Cambria Co., was kicked in the abdomen by a playmate a few days ago and died from the injury.

The writer of a letter published in the Bradford (Pa.) Era says that in a short walk through that rapidly developed oil centre he noted the following signs in the order given: "Saloon," "Lager Beer," "Lunch Counter," "Saloon," "Wholesale and Retail Liquor Store," "Gun-Shop-Lee, Chinese Laundry," "Saloon," "Dressmaking," "Saloon," "Lunch," "Saloon," "Plain and Fancy Sewing," "Saloon," "Lunch," "Cloakmaking," a barbet pole, "Saloon," "Laundry," "Rochester Lager," "Cigars, Tobacco," "Saloon," "Lunch," and so on street after street.

On the Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburg, during 1879, no less than 1,070,451 pieces of baggage were handled, not one of which was lost, while the entire payments for old claims and damaged baggage amounted to only $413.31.

Judge Shope, of Fulton county, Ill., sentenced Frank Barrett, a tramp, to 7 1/2 years in the penitentiary for burglary. After sentence the tramp pulled up a quart ink bottle and threw it with all his might at the Judge's head, but missed it and hit him on the shoulder. He said he'd rather be hanged than go so long to the penitentiary.

The Rev. Mr. Aldrich, of Hornellsville, N. Y., has sued ex-Sheriff Stephen N. Bennett for services in preaching the funeral sermons of Bennett's father and mother and Carrie Gilbert, a ward of the family. Bennett is executor of the estate, which is worth $50,000 or more. Aldrich had to travel about thirty miles to attend the funerals.

John Nevil, aged 20 years, ate four mince pies in four and a half minutes, on a bet in Connellsville, and died next day, the physicians being unable to relieve him.

An important decision was given by Judge Cummin in Locomotion Sessions last Saturday in regard to the opening of drinking place on election days. He construed the law to mean from 12 o'clock to 12 o'clock.

DIPHTHERIA'S TERRIBLE WORK.—James B. Anthony, residing at the northwestern corner of Bell township, Clearfield Co., has, within a week, lost six children by diphtheria—two at a time—burying six children in three graves.

"How can I ever repay you?" said Miss Stevens of Seven Mile, Ohio, to Mr. Benson, who had lately saved her from drowning. "By marrying me," he promptly replied. She consented.

The Jersey Shore Tragedy.

George Smith, confined in the county jail at Williamsport, on the charge of killing Andrew Miller, learning that Mrs. Miller and her children had made statements charging him with the murder, made a full confession of his guilt on Wednesday. He states that having deceived the old man to the barn by making a noise, he laid in wait with a piece of hard wood edged, five feet in length, and struck him a powerful blow on the back of his head, which felled him to the ground. He then went to the house and told the woman all about it. She cautioned the children to say nothing about their father's murder. They have both confessed, however, and their statements agree with that of Smith, so that the story of the atrocious crime is complete. Smith claims that the woman insisted that he should murder her husband, suggested the plan to decoy him out of the house, and proposed hanging him up with the clothes line to allay suspicion and fixed upon that night for the commission of the crime.
