

Local Department.

In another column we publish the Auditors' Report for the borough of Millheim. Read it.

A splendid private residence with the good will of a medical practice for sale. For particulars apply at this office.

Altoona does not stand loading on the corners; Millheim does, and that's one point of difference between the two towns.

Our friend S. M. Swartz, at Tusseyville, is selling out his stock of store goods preparatory to retiring from business. Failing health is the cause.

The JOURNAL BOOK STORE sells all the school books recently adopted by the school boards of Millheim Boro', Penn., Haines, Miles and Gregg townships.

NOTICE.—All persons having accounts against the Borough of Millheim are hereby notified to present them to the town council for adjustment, on or before the first Monday in May.

Somebody has figured out that there are about three millions of unmarried men in the country, but it should not be forgotten that many of them are not worth having as husbands.

Those freeholders of Millheim, who didn't make their sidewalks yet in front of their properties, would better get it, as the new council intends to push these matters. A word to the wise &c., &c.

Bellefonte is to have a daily morning paper, with the name Morning News. Mr. H. Byxte, foreman of the Republican office of that place, issues the same, and intends to make it a permanent institution.

Our town will be strongly represented at Court in Bellefonte next week. Four parties from Millheim are concerned in suits, and each of them has a little army of witnesses, who will have to appear at court, beside the Jurymen chosen for this session of the court.

It affords us much pleasure to announce that Rev. W. R. Wieand, of Adamsburg, Snyder county, has accepted the call recently extended by the Rebersburg Lutheran charge. Mr. Wieand expects to take charge of his new field in June.

We see in the Phila. Times that the extensive tannery of Kistler Bros., at Lock Haven, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Loss about $100,000; insurance, $75,000. The origin of the fire is unknown. There were fifty-five men and boys employed in the building.

Our young friend Jacob Stover studies mechanics, of Adamsburg, has now finished his term of teaching, at McClure Snyder county. For the present he is engaged at clerking for Mr. J. M. Troxell, at — well our informant does not say where, but we guess it is still within the limits of the United States.

The corner stone for the new reformed church at Madisonburg will be laid with appropriate services, on Sunday, May 2nd next, D. V. Neighboring returned ministers will be present to officiate on the occasion. The Christian public is respectfully invited to attend.

W. M. LANDIS, Pastor.

Don't care an exclamation point (!) what people say about Sammy Faust, he has always been very good and kind to us. Why it was just the other day that Sammy brings us just as nice a basket full of apples as any man could wish. We mean to say that the apples were nice not the basket, but that he took off our hands again. Long live Sammy Faust to do good to the poor—especially to poor printers.

AHEAD OF ALL OTHERS.—Ahead of all others, is the motto of Louis Dull in Bellefonte. Where can you find a better Boot and Shoe store? It is filled with the latest styles of boots and shoes, an immense stock of the same and everything can be bought at low prices. Don't neglect to call there, when you go to Bellefonte, you won't regret it.

The Brockerhoff House, at Bellefonte, is undergoing important alterations and repairs. The room recently occupied by John B. Linn, Esq., as a law office, is being fitted up as a bar-room, while what was the bar room will be changed into a sample room. Fresh paint and kalsomine are also applied.

On Saturday and Sunday, April 24th and 25th, a district local convention of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held at Centre Hall. A rather comprehensive but well arranged programme has been prepared and an interesting and profitable time is expected. Rev. S. A. Faggart, State Secretary, will be present. Come, and bring your bible along.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Lewisburg & Tyrone R. R. Company will be held at the office of the Company, No. 233 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, Pa., on Monday, May 2d, 1880 at 12 o'clock M.

Election for President and Directors same day and place.

JAS. R. McCLEURE, Secretary.

Mr. Cyrus B. Stover and family, left for Pleasant Valley, Lincoln county, Kansas.

The local meeting of the Y. M. C. A., at Centre Hall, next Saturday and Sunday, promises to be a very interesting affair. Are you going?

At the regular annual meeting of the Millheim Town Hall Company, held on Monday evening, Thomas Frank, Samuel Otto and Elias Lose were elected trustees—Hope they will be efficient officers.

The other Friday night the barn of Mr. David Wetzel, about 3 miles south west of New Berlin, was totally destroyed by fire. Nearly everything in the barn, including nine head of cattle, was consumed.

Hip, hip, hee—o! Up, up, hoh! hah! These and similar ones were the ejaculations when they raised P. P. Leitzell's house, on Monday. Wish they would raise about a dozen more including some enterprising manufacturing establishment. But why don't they?

Mr. John Musser, well known to the people of Centre county, is now engaged as agent for the firm of Gordon and Landis, Bellefonte, dealers in all kinds of machinery, engines, mill furnishing goods, agricultural implements, &c. Mr. Musser also sells the celebrated Advance Reaper and mower, and the Empire Separator, manufactured at Hagerstown, Md.

Mr. George M. Thomas, a gentleman of sterling integrity and first class business qualifications, has opened up a grocery on the corner of Allegheny and Bishop streets, Bellefonte. Mr. Thomas expects to keep anything belonging to a first class grocery and a full stock of all kinds of leather besides. Our citizens going to Bellefonte can nowhere do better in the leather line than with Mr. Thomas.

Harris' Standard Store, 235 Market Street, Lewisburg, is again up to time—not only in having received a large and full assortment of goods but in advertising as well. Harris is none of the fellows that whine a complaint of hard times; he is too busy to do that. He keeps a full line of goods, sells low and advertises. These are the conditions of success and Harris knows it just as well as anybody. Read his advertisement and give him a call when you get to Lewisburg.

Peterson's Ladies National Magazine came to us last week, and so crowded with good things, that we didn't look at anything else for the next couple of hours. Full of splendid engravings and fashion plates, the choicest stories, a fine pattern of a summer jacket, and a lot of interesting literature. We recommend this magazine to every lady, who is fond of reading and willing to take sound advice in household and fancy work.

We haven't stopped at a hotel this long time that we liked better than the Ircia House, Lock Haven, of which Mr. S. Woods Caldwell is the efficient and gentlemanly proprietor. The house is complete in its arrangements, cleanliness and order prevail throughout, and Mr. Caldwell has that pleasant, fascinating way of making a fellow feel at home, that only a "dyed in the wool" gentleman can have. Yes, we like the Ircia House.

Last week we had the pleasure to make the acquaintance of the new conductor on our rail road—Mr. Simon Seids. We were very favorably impressed with Mr. Seids, and consider him every inch a gentleman, which is saying a good deal, for there are a great many cubic inches in him.

From the manner in which Mr. Seids conducts the train we take him to be an old hand at the business. Altogether we like the new conductor right well and shall endeavor to patronize his train as much as we are able.

It is with much pleasure that we to-day lay before our readers the regular spring advertisement of that well known and popular institution, Everett's Bee Hive Store, of Lock Haven. Read it, examine it carefully, and then when you go to Lock Haven go there, and you will find that every word that Mr. Everett says and promises is strictly true. Persons that go there on a trial, will go again and are very apt to become regular customers. The vast and varied assortment of goods the really low prices, and the fair and polite treatment one gets all combine to make the Bee Hive the best institution of the West Branch Valley.

ACCIDENT NEAR NITTANY HALL. A sad accident befell the family of Ma Joseph McCaleb, residing near Nittany Hall, one day last week. As we are informed, Mr. McCaleb went out to cut up a large tree that had been blown down by the storm of a few days previous. After being at work for some time, he discovered that he had been followed by two of his little children, aged respectively five and three years.

Not wishing to have them so near him while using his axe, he directed them to go away, which they did. It seems, however, that instead of going far away they went, without being noticed by their father, into the excavation made by the uprooted tree upon which he was at work, where they remained. After the fallen trunk of the tree had been cut off, the uprooted stump immediately flew back into its upright position, and Mr. McCaleb discovered to his horror that his little ones were buried beneath it. When taken out the youngest one was found to be dead, and the other one insensible and seriously injured. The dead child was buried on last Friday, at which time our informant told us the other child was still living.

We learn by the Millburg Telegraph that Mr. Thomas Harter, editor of the Nevada Enterprise, is visiting friends in Union county at present.

Last Thursday evening our town council had another special meeting for the purpose of appointing the following standing committees:

Finance: A. C. Musser, D. L. Zerby and Geo. Royer. Streets and Alleys: R. A. Bumiller, F. Catherman and A. C. Musser. Nuisance: D. L. Zerby, F. Catherman and Geo. Royer.

Court of Centre county will begin on Monday of next week.

It is with pleasure that we inform many inquiring friends that neighbor John D. Foote, whose limb was amputated a few weeks ago, is getting along very well, fully as well as could possibly be expected. For the past few days he has been able to sit up in a chair.

Mr. Henry Wagner, a young man working at Billinger's saw mill, near Fowler's, had the misfortune to get his left hand into the circular saw while in full motion on Monday afternoon. The first and second fingers were entirely cut off, and the thumb and third finger nearly so. The attending physician thinks that the thumb and third finger may be saved.

Ex-Sheriff Musser has taken an agency for the Southern Pennsylvania Mutual Relief Association, a company operated much upon the plan of the U. S. Aid Society. We know nothing of our own personal knowledge of this company, but the sheriff assures us that it is one of the solid institutions of the land. He is ready to impart any desired information to those who wish a cheap and safe life insurance.

That thoroughly good fellow, grocer, auctioneer, fish-dealer and ex-editor, Geo. W. Foote, Esq., of Millburg, will please accept the best thanks of the editor and his family, the assistant and his family, as well as several other good friends, for a whopper of a ashad which on last Saturday in the goodness of his heart he made us a present of. How kind, how thoughtful, the good man—how seasonable the present. All spring we had an almost unaccountable longing for a shad, but alas for the gulf between a poor country editor and a fine big shad. George knows exactly how it all is. He was a poor editor himself.

The Cemetery Association held its annual meeting and election on last Friday evening, and elected E. C. Campbell, H. M. Swartz and A. O. DeJullinger, trustees, respectively for three, two and one years. An adjourned meeting was also held on Monday evening, at which measures were adopted looking toward the enlargement of the cemetery. It seemed to us as if something of the right spirit prevailed at the meeting on Monday evening, and we trust good may result from it. Let the new board of trustees take hold of the matter in earnest and rescue our "city of the dead" from the general dilapidation and decay into which it is fast sinking.

A BIG ESTABLISHMENT.—The store of Bauland & Newman, in Bellefonte, or to state the matter more precisely, their combination of stores, is now a thing of vast proportions. They have recently rented the large store room lately occupied by D. M. Wagner & Son which adjoins their own, and into this latter they have just removed their vast stock of dry goods, while the room formerly occupied by Mr. Bauland's Bee Hive store, is now a merchant tailoring and get's furnishing establishment, where clothing are made to order in the very best and handsomest style.

In the dry goods and notion store they have a full and complete stock in every department, one of which has its own special salesman. A system of order prevails that strikes one very favorably upon entering. Everything is complete and convenient as can be made, and we doubt not that the new combination will secure a largely increased business. If you go to Bellefonte to buy your supplies, don't miss the Bee Hive. You will find it entirely worthy of your confidence and patronage.

AAARONSBURG CRUMBS.

Mr. T. Hull is hurrying his house to completion. Expects to occupy it some time in June.

Miss Mary Musser received as a birthday present a handsome gold watch and chain. Mary is the happiest little girl in Aaronsburg.

Mrs. W. B. Bitner spent a few days in town, last week, but he ried home for fear the Spring work would not wait for her return.

Among the many who intended to teach during the summer, there remains but one, Miss Bella Crommiller. She ought to have a school so large that she must employ an assistant.

Mr. E. G. Shafer, of Maple Grove, Lyeoning Co., came to town on Monday and left next day, taking with him his wife.

Miss Lizzie Shafer has returned. She spent the winter in Bellefonte, with her uncle, C. M. Bower, Esq.

It is said that Bellefonte offers rare attractions to single preachers in our vicinity. They find themselves irresistibly drawn there, once in a while, and the oft-near they go the oftener they want to go. "The old old story—old as Eden yet, yet forever beautiful and new." X. Y.

Our townsman John G. Musser has commenced butchering last Monday, and intends to follow that business through the coming summer, as in former years. He always buys the nicest and fattest beaves in the country, and for that reason he is able to furnish the people with first-class meat.

NEWS FROM BRUSH.

Prof. H. Meyer is off to Harrisburg, attending a convention of County Superintendents.

Our old friend W. R. B'ely, Esq., of Williamsport, was here a few days ago shaking hands with many friends in his native valley. Will is one of the ablest lawyers at the Williamsport bar.

It is rumored that Rev. Wickard, of Adamsburg, has accepted the call given him by the Lutheran church in this valley.

A club of some kind has recently been organized in our village, but what its name and object are, we do not exactly know. It is however principally supported by pedagogical talent—its officers are H. Meyer, President, C. C. Zeigler, Secy., and C. L. Gramley, Treasurer.

Our enterprising townsman, J. A. Miller, has just received a 17 horse power engine, which he purposes to use in his tannery.

The collections in the Rebersburg Union S. S. last year amounted to $57.50 instead of $56.00, as reported last week; also the name of W. S. Miller as Treasurer elect was omitted. Our informant may do better hereafter.

Quiz? An Ohio man, who thought he might have some business in Chicago about convention time and wrote to one of the hotels to secure "a couple of small rooms, not particular on what floor, but with a communicating door if possible," during the sessions of the Republican National Convention, was informed in reply that the cost of such accommodations would be $50 a day. As a general thing Ohio men have a good streak of luck under the present administration, but they have about concluded that it is better to be a hotel-keeper in Chicago than an office-holder under the Federal Government.

A Terrible Disaster.

Many Lives Lost in a Hurricane.

St. Louis, April 19.—Passengers who passed through Marsfield, on the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, at 8:30 last night, gave a few facts concerning a terrible disaster. A man who came to the depot, at the edge of the town, while the train was there, reported that at 6:30 o'clock a furious hurricane struck the place and leveled all that part of the town lying west of the Centre Square flat to the ground. The debris immediately took fire in several places, and the flames could be seen at some half dozen points by the passengers on the train. Forty dead bodies had been taken out and many more were supposed to be buried in the runs or burned up. There were also many living, still imprisoned in the debris of the fallen buildings. All the physicians of the town were killed excepting two, and there was great need of doctors to attend to the wounded, of whom it was said there were some 200. A relief train with twenty physicians and nurses and full of supplies left Springfield, Mo., this morning, and probably other trains will arrive during the day. The storm was general in Southwestern Missouri, and other places probably suffered damage, but as the telegraph wires are all prostrated no advices have been received. A violent hail and rain accompanied the wind.

MARRIED.

On the 7th inst., by Rev. J. D. Reardon, assisted by Rev. Charles Schure, Dr. H. W. Rhoads and Miss Clara W. Seibold, both of Hartleton.

DIED.

On the 10th inst., in Millburg, Sarah, wife of John Gast, aged 69 years and 10 months. On the 11th inst., in Potter township, Mr. Joseph Shirk, aged 74 years and 11 days. On the 8th inst., in Georges Valley, Mrs. Catharine Young, widow, aged 86 years and 5 months.
