NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BUREAU. To Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Adger-tising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. New York, the press and the public are indebted for most of the statistics of American Newspapers. When this firm commenced business in 1865, there was not accessible to the public anything which ap-proximated a complete Newspaper List. It was the custom of the advertising agencies to keep their s secret, believing that they thereby made it necessary for advertisers to consult them. In 1869, Messrs, Geo. P. Rowell & Co. issued the first American Newspaper Directory. In the preface of that work occurred this paragraph: "We have always believed, and labored in the belief, that, as Advertising Agents, it was and should be in our power to be of material service to both advertiser and publisher, and we know of no better way to convine them of the value of our services than by issuing L is book, thus enabling them to communicate without our aid; this we do in the belief that we shall thereby the sooner persuade them of the utility of em-ploying and encouraging our Agency." The result showed the position to be well ta-ken. Within twelve mouths their firm was in receipt of a patronage larger than had ever be-fore here accented the a devertiser and the perform the sense the starts for a service. this week, as money and news. ency of Judge Orvis teach them a les-The service at the M.
