Wm. and Frank Weiser had a sort of a "show" on Tuesday evening with a large rattlesnake which they killed and brought from the mountain. Ugh! We saw the critter too and can assure our readers that it wasn't the least bit nice. It was very big and had six or sixteen or twenty-six rattles. Anyhow the last figure was a 6.

Monday morning Mr. W. H. Miller was overcome by a spell of weakness as he crossed the street from shop to house. When he reached the house he sank into a chair and fainted away. He was speechless for a short time but soon recovered again and seems all right again.

A toll gate near Greenburg, Ind., is guarded night and day by ten armed men, at an expense of $175 a week, while the receipts are only $10. The residents have repeatedly destroyed it, and the company have resolved to defend it at any cost.

KFEÉ CÖÖL.—It is very essential to heat and happiness this warm weather to keep cool. Don't get excited. Don't allow anything to ruffle your temper. MINOR IMPROVEMENTS.—The painters have just put the last touches on Pierce Musser's mansion. A splendid new fence has also been built around the house.

J. W. Snook and Jacob Gephart have built good plank walks along their premises on North street. Mr. Gephart also planted a very fine row of shade trees. These add so much to the beauty and comfort of a home or a town that our council should encourage their planting by a premium in the shape of an abatement of tax for every tree planted that grows. What say you, gentlemen, to our suggestion.

A man who firmly believes that a second flood will come next November to cover the whole face of the earth is building an ark at Helera, Texas. The craft will hold fifty persons, with food for forty days and forty nights, and he will take passengers at $500 each. All other vessels, he explains, will be wrecked.

Jacob Brownwell, an eccentric character, came near killing himself near Meyerstown the other day. He had stabbed his legs and face with a knife until, when found on the roadside, he was very weak from loss of blood. He explained that a great number of devils had attacked him, and in fighting the devils away he had inflicted the wounds.

COL. CHARLES KLECKNER, the showman that passed through here with a circus, several years ago, but recently a clerk in the Philadelphia post office was lately convicted, of abstracting money from letters. He was sentenced the other day by Judge Butler of the U. S. Court, to a fine of $250 and imprisonment for one year.

The Huntingdon News says a small worm is destroying much of the growing wheat in Oneida township, that county. The insect is found in the joint just below the head, and before being discovered kills the grain while it is ripening. A farmer informs us that one of every eight stalks in his field has been destroyed by the insect. The worm, which bears resemblance to the wire worm, was never known to attack the grain before, and where it comes from is a mystery.

Last Sunday a terrific storm came up between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, which did considerable damage. There was not much rain but the wind was a hurricane. A large number of trees were blown down or limbs broken from them. A large portion of the northeast corner of the roof of the Presbyterian church in this place was blown off and the top part of the church spire was bent. Throughout the northern and northwestern part of our county there was much damage done. We learn also that a number of buildings in process of erection at Milton were blown down and much injury done in other parts of Northumberland county.—Lewisburg Chronicle.

Ye ancient borough of Northumberland promises to be a live town after all, and perhaps at no very distant day, for the ladies are taking a hand at further public enterprises. Four of them have succeeded in raising money enough to buy a hook and ladder apparatus. When this much was done the gentlemen gallantly stepped in and relieved them from further responsibility, and perhaps embarrassment, by organizing a company to run the machine.—Democrat.

There now, that's it. Let the ladies of Millheim do likewise. Let them take the projected Hook & Ladder company in hand and something may come out of it. At least we fear that nothing practical will result from the effort here made as long as men have charge of it.

SENSIBLE ORDINANCE.—Recently the town council of Lewisburg passed the following reasonable ordinance. All boroughs should take similar action. No good reason can be assigned why an entire town should be endangered to indulge careless of a few persons.

"On motion, unanimously resolved by the Burgess and Town Council of the borough of Lewisburg, that the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department be authorized and empowered to examine all flues and stove pipes in the borough and to compel the correction where in his opinion dangerous; and that he be authorized to order the discontinuance of all open fires that in his estimation are dangerous; and that said Chief Engineer be empowered to have all the buildings of said borough opened and cleared of all obstructions and kept in good repair."

THANKS! It would be an act of injustice on our part if we failed to acknowledge the rare treat of which Aasonsburg was so recently the recipient. Just as the sun was passing from view last Saturday evening the quiet of our burg was pleasantly broken by sounds of sweet music.

Which distinguished them as coming from the Millheim Cornet Band which in itself sent a thrill through every one and heralded, a delightful time. Nature seemed in sympathy with our anxious hearts, and the majestic tread of "Old Sol" towards the western horizon, the moon slowly rounding into sight and the evening song of the birds formed excellent accompaniments to the sweet strains that were wafted to our ears. The visits of this band to our town are so few that we hail each one of them with delight. The band is at present under the efficient leadership of Dr. John F. Harter, and the manner in which they rendered their music last Saturday evening is a compliment to him as a leader and a great credit to the band, generally. The band, we are proud to state, is entirely free from debt and they are starting now on a new band. The object of their late visit was partly, to raise money for purchasing new music, as they intend hereafter to buy printed music. We hope they will be careful in selecting their new music and endeavor to get something of a high order, for they have given ample proof of their competency to render the best music to the full satisfaction of the sincerest lovers and critics of the "Art Divine." We are not prepared to say how they succeeded here financially, but we wish them well in their laudable efforts and shall look forward with pleasure to many more visits from them.

THE BAND. [The people of Aasonsburg received and treated us very kindly and gave us some material assistance as well, for all which they have the sincere thanks of QUICK WORK.—David Keller's barn, at Boalsburg, which had been destroyed by fire last winter or spring, is being rebuilt. Mr. H. K. Luse, of Millheim, is the boss carpenter. It is 100 by 50 feet in size, with buggy shed attached and is now ready for the reception of hay and grain and the stabling of horses—all of which was done in 18 days by 6 hands—equivalent to 108 single days. The barn was raised, June 10th in 3 1/2 hours—a shorter time than we ever heard of a barn being raised in. Mr. Irvin Leech was present to help. It is the 98th building he has helped to raise and after he has helped to raise two more making 100 in all, he expects to quit the business, and well he may. Brate Bile.

Lock Haven has started a new insurance company under the name of the Central Mutual Aid Association and has already secured applications for the entire $200,000 required to lift the charter. That looks like business.

NEWS FROM BRUSH.

Mrs. Thomas Wolfe and Miss Maggie Walker have returned home after spending a few months in the west visiting friends.

Rev. W. R. Wience, the pastor elect of the Rebersburg Lutheran charge, preached a series of excellent sermons to his congregations on Sunday.

Rumor has it that we are to have a new doctor again ere long.

Miles township has a population of between 1500 & 1600—about the same it was in 1870. Now who dares to say that we are going backwards.

Soon will the voice of the tur—oh the reaper, be heard throughout the land. Almost I became poetical—beg pardon, Mr. editor.

Our band is doing exceedingly well under the instructions of Prof. Feehrer. Am inclined to think that we have the best band in the county.

It is estimated that nearly a million and a half feet of lumber have been taken out of our valley within a year.

Mr. Smith and wife, formerly a Miss Beechtol, together with Miss Annie, a sister to Mrs. Smith, have been here a few days ago doing the village. Mr. Smith resides in Harrisburg at present.

REBUILDING MILTON.—A Milton correspondent of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin says, "the process of rebuilding will be slow and tedious, on account of so much time being required to remove the debris, restore the foundations and get new material on the ground. Temporary light frame buildings are springing up all around on the ruins for shops and places of business, until better ones can be built. The sound of the saw, the hammer and the trowel are heard on every hand, giving evidence of the pluck and enterprise of the people, and it is predicted that in a few years Milton will be entirely rebuilt and handsomer than before."

The correspondent adds that 640 buildings of all descriptions were destroyed and that a majority of the owners had no insurance. Many people lost all, including clothing, provisions and household goods. Many of the insurance companies are paying up manfully and justly but some are holding back disgracefully. The grim ruins of the churches are still standing untouched. The Methodists hold their meeting in a huge canvass tent. The other congregations have obtained temporary quarters in portions of the town not destroyed. The total amount of voluntary cash contributions it is supposed will reach to $75,000. The amount of contributions in clothing and provisions is not as yet known. The people are represented to be profoundly grateful for the assistance they have received.

THE MILLER MURDERERS, George Smith and Catharine Miller, now in the Williamsport jail, were sentenced to be hung by Judge Cummin on Friday last. Last Week's Sun publishes an interview with Smith and Mrs. Miller on the 4th inst. in which occurs the following: "When asked to tell the truth and the whole truth as to what part the colored man, John Brown, took in the murder of Miller, Smith said that Brown was present and helped to kill and hang Miller. This, he added, 'is God's truth.' And then by the way of explanation, he said that he had been told that it would make it all the worse for him and Mrs. Miller by having the negro mixed up in the murder, and that was what induced him to refrain from implicating Brown further than he did. * * Mrs. Miller said she thought Brown was present the night of the murder and helped to kill Miller, although she didn't see him; that she didn't see him for a long time before, but that Brown had often wanted to kill Miller and said that he intended to do so some time."

The Rebersburg Select School reopens Tuesday, July 20th, next, and continues ten weeks. One of its principal features is to prepare teachers professionally. Tuition from $2.50 to $600. Board at $1.00 to $2.25 per week. For further information apply to C. L. GRAMLEY, Teacher.

RAISING WHEAT.—A correspondent writes from York, Pa., to the Harrisburg Patriot the following interesting account of a successful wheat grower, and how he goes about it: Near this borough is the farm of Mr. J. M. Heiges, one of the most successful wheat growers on this continent. On one piece of land he has raised wheat seven years in succession, including the present growing crop, which, competent judges say, will yield sixty bushels to the acre. Your correspondent took a look at the wheat Wednesday afternoon and must confess it is the best he has ever seen. Mr. Heiges has several different varieties growing, and all that he would part with was disposed of to United States Commissioner of Agriculture, I. e. Duc, on the occasion of his visit here this week. The price of wheat in this market this week is about $1.18 per bushel, but Mr. H. averaged more than double that for all he sold. His success in wheat raising is accounted for by the fact that he manures liberally with a compound of potash, plaster and salt (400 pounds to the acre); that he thoroughly pulverizes his soil; that he seeds in the ground about one-half an inch deep, in rows about twelve inches wide, and spaces of ten or eleven inches between for cultivation with horse and cultivator. I counted the product of one grain by this process, and found forty-eight stalks, with a developed head on each stalk, growing from it. The largest crop of wheat Mr. Heiges has ever raised from one acre of ground was something over seventy-one bushels. The two principal varieties he is growing this year are the Mold and the Heiges Prolific. The latter was ripe enough to cut, and one of his neighbors, a Mr. Hoke, had his crop of the same variety already cut and in sheaves. I think any farmer who wants to learn something of great practical value about wheat raising can pick up more on this farm in one day than he could in any other way in a month.

"Yes, that is the name. It sounds down the valleys and up the plains."

"Do you see away down that street yonder, where that great crowd of people is congregated?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, that is the place. It is unnecessary for me to enumerate the goods they have there. Only go ahead, you will not be disappointed, either in quality or price.
