DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET.

GEN. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,

GEORGE A. JENKS, Jefferson Co.
AUDITOR GENERAL,
ROBERT P. DECHERT, Philadelphia.

OHIO AND INDIANA.

Hon. Frank Hurd, member of congress from the Toledo district in Ohio and a candidate for election to congress this fall said at the national democratic headquarters that he has no doubt whatever of his election by a majority of at least 1,500, probably a much larger one.

Hon. William Mack, who was chairman of the Indiana delegation at the Cincinnati convention, said at the national democratic headquarters that he had no doubt whatever of his election by a majority of at least 1,500, probably a much larger one.

other night that he had been both surprised and amused at the stories he had seen in eastern republican papers about democratic disagreements in Indiana. There is not, he said, the least foundation for such report. The whole machinery for the campaign was moving like clock-work under the direction of Hon. William H. English, who had thrown himself with all his energy into the direction of the campaign at the state headquarters, while Governor Hendricks, Senator Voorhees and all the other leaders of the Indiana democracy, were devoting themselves to the campaign with an energy and enthusiasm never before equaled.

"Our Indiana campaign," he said, "is not a still hunt. We are conducting it in our own way. Our leaders know the people and the people know our leaders. All have confidence in the preparations that are made and perfect confidence in the result. Indiana is a democratic state and we will not let the republicans steal it."

FOR THE JOURNAL.

Mr. Editor:
Our side of Penn township will do a big thing for Hancock & English. Our three little villages will give majorities as follows: Greenbriar, 14; Coburn, 13; Georgetown, 7. The Liberty school district has one Garfield man; the Snavely district, one; Elk district, none; Gentzel district, none. The four districts have but two republican voters and will give over a hundred majority for Hancock & English. If any other four adjoining districts in the county can do better let me hear from them.

JACOB SANDERS.

MEETING AT LIBERTY.—Quite a spirited little Democratic meeting was held at Liberty school house on Saturday evening. Several addresses were made but modestly forbids us to say by whom, lest Chairman Mill might be after the speakers to engage them for state service. A club was organized and other action taken to insure a full vote.

REPUBLICAN TESTIMONY TO THE FAIR TREATMENT BY THE DEMOCRATS OF THE VETERANS EMPLOYED BY THE SENATE.

(Special Dispatch to the New York World.)
WASHINGTON, August 17.
Mr. J. J. G. Ball, one of the Senate employees, is out with a card in relation to the contradictions by the republican journals of Senator Wallace's assertions that the Democratic Congress had studiously kept in mind the services of the Union soldiers, regardless of party, in the appointment of officers under its control.

"An editorial statement was recently made by the Cincinnati Gazette to the effect that the Democratic members of the senate, as soon as they got control of that body, held a caucus and decided to make a clean sweep of the disabled soldiers whom they found upon the rolls of Senate employees. That a caucus was held is true, but it is not true that any such order of removal was adopted. Senator Voorhees was right when he said in his speech, June 18, 1873, that all of the wounded soldiers were retained. They were not many in number, but all of them, with one exception, have kept their places under the Democratic rule. These employees were Charles N. Richards, Assistant Keeper of Stationery, Secretary's office; John G. Merritt, M. J. Bunnell, S. L. Wilson and the writer, J. J. G. Ball, all of the Sergeant-at-arms' office, and all of whom remain in the employ of the Senate, excepting Wilson, who was discharged, but for what reason I do not know. It was certainly not on account of his having been a soldier or a Republican, as all of the others retained are soldiers and Republicans and have never been disturbed on account of their antecedents or opinions. I am free to state that I have no sympathy with the Democratic party. I vote as a Republican, I talk as a Republican, I was appointed as a Republican; but I believe in fair play for all that, and I write this communication as an act of justice to the Democratic Senate, which has dealt so squarely and impartially with all the disabled men on its rolls, without regard to their politics. Let the devil have his due and all campaign lies be denounced as they deserve, whether they emanate from Republican or Democratic sources. I would add, further, that when Mr. Wilson was discharged Sergeant-at-Arms Bright gave the position to Senator Don Cameron, whose appointee is filling it at this time and is a good Republican.

J. J. G. BALL.

Gen. Garfield is growing in popularity every day, just as Gen. Beaver said he would in that speech on the bank steps on his return from the Chicago Convention. The General is a true prophet sometimes.—Bellefonte Morning News.

FORNEY'S REASONS.

(From Forney's Philadelphia Progress.)
Garfield was better than the office-holding and office hunting politicians who, after hunting down the hon. expected to drink his blood, to feel upon his fame. But I did not know General Garfield's record. Till his nomination for President the country was almost as ignorant as myself. What it is all men know now; and if I revolted from it it was because I found it different from what I honestly believed it to be. General Garfield's accusers were not Democrats. He was brought to the bar by his own party, by the Republican press and the Republicans of his own county, by the Republican Committee of his own Congressional district, by the Republican Congress of which he was a member, and by a Republican court of justice. Had this record been known at Chicago General Garfield could not have been nominated.

Just as the few forgotten facts of his record came out, the Democratic National Convention met at Cincinnati and nominated Winfield S. Hancock for President. When I saw his name a light broke around me—a light and a voice—the light of a great republic rescued from sectional hate and the voice of peace and brotherhood. At that instant I believe that hundreds of thousands of Republicans felt the same conviction. The revelation made a revolution. The boom grew into a blessing. The panic of the plunderers, who had defeated Grant became a stampede, the stampede will become a route will be oblivious to the new civil war, projected by pigmies who try to wear the armor and to wield the scepter of the magnificent Republican leaders who forgave the confederates, as Washington forgave Pennsylvania rebels, in 1794, when they attempted to break the laws of our infant colonies. The Republican masses were restive under Garfield's nomination, and thrilled to the heart by the keen memory of their pledges of gratitude to Hancock.

the prophecy regarding Garfield's growing popularity does much better the "superb" Hancock might as well go to work one of these days when not too busy and select his cabinet.

Ex-Senator Peale, of Lock Haven, makes a very fine how to his political friends and retires from the congressional contest. Mr. Peale has many warm friends throughout the valleys.

MIFFLIN DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS: Congress, Hon. A. Reed; State Senate, Colonel John B. Selheimer; Assembly, John M. Ball; Prothonotary, Henry A. Lantz; Register and Recorder, Joseph E. Williams, District Attorney, H. J. Walters; Director of Poor, Robert M. Taylor; Coroner, W. W. Trout; Surveyor, Jno. Swartzell.

One of the most urgent demands of our times is a system of education which shall train the young to apply their school learning. At the Pennsylvania State College practical instruction in Agriculture, Horticulture, Botany, Zoology, etc., is given. Chemistry, etc. is given, and thus theory in the classroom is applied and enforced by experience in the field and laboratory. Spring session opens April 9th. For catalogue and full information address the Business Manager, State College, Centre Co., Pa.

The Democrats of Connecticut nominated a ticket on the 18th that will prove invincible at the polls. Hon. James E. English, for Governor, and Hon. C. M. Pond, for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. English was already twice elected Governor and he will have a very large majority this time. Connecticut is all right.

Messrs. Editors: For the Journal

We are now on the eve of one of the most important elections, both state and national, that has ever occurred since we have an existence as a free nation. The nominations of Hancock and English have not only brought peace and harmony, but great enthusiasm to the Democratic party, and it is our duty now to back up our high prestige ground by good congressional legislation and local nominations. The Democrats of the 20th Congressional district have plain duty before them—the nomination and election of Ex-Gov. Curtin to congress. His great experience and ability as a statesman, his invaluable services to the state and nation, and the great wrong he has suffered in being defrauded from a seat to which he was fairly elected, all combine to make his vindication at the hands of the Democrats of the 20th district a matter of honor and imperative duty. The nomination of the great war-Governor would be peculiarly fitting at this juncture. No two men have done more for their native state than Hancock and Curtin—none stand higher in the estimation of their fellow citizens of all classes than they. Pennsylvania has much reason to be proud of her noble sons. Let the Democracy of the 20th district at least show that they appreciate such a man as Ex-Gov. Curtin. Let him be nominated without opposition and his triumphant election will follow.
