WHO CAN VOTE.

The next election in Pennsylvania will be held on Tuesday, November 2, 1880.

Voters must be "assessed two mouths before the election-that is, on or before September 2. The assessors must be at the election house on Wednesday and Thursday, September 1st and 2nd, from 10 o'clock A. M. to 3 o'clock P. M. of each day, for the purpose of correcting the list of voters, by adding names therete or striking them off.

The committee men of the respective election districts should attend at the time the assessor sits to correct the list.

To secure their votes, voters must have paid a state or county tax one month before the election and within the two years immediately preceding the date of one month before the election. The last day for paying tax this year Members of Democratic state, county and city committees should see to it that every :voter of our party has complied with the law.

Failure to pay tax in season deprives the voter of the privilege of voting. An elector can swear in his vote though he be not assessed. But the neglect may cause much trouble.

THE CHANCES.

From the New York Sun, Sept. 5th, 1880.

If the Democrats fail to win the No vember election the fault will be their own. The general drift of public sentiment since 1872 has been against the Republicans. Six years ago they lost the House of Representatives; and the Senate, the stronghold of rings and monopolies, has since pas sed from their control. Two years later Hayes and Wheeler were defeated, and the offices and jobs were saved to the desperate minority only by the most daring frauds. The vote of 1 878 stands as the deliberate and best expression of the will of highest position Americans can confer the whole people. The same relative upon him. vote in 1880 would turn the Republicans out of power. In 1880, too, the verdict of the ballot boxes will be respected. Both Houses of Congress be-

When the war for the Union had sion, slavery a bolished, and the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments adopted, the Republican party seemed to have no proper mission remaining. F alling into the hands of corrupt and a spiring politicians, who were unknown to its early history of trial and struggle, the great leaders who had organized it, and led it to victory without the aid of patronage and power, were fariven from their places. Chase, Seward, Greeley, Sumner, Trumbull, Doolittle, ga ve place to the negans, Camerons, Colfaxes, Gar . fields, and the long list of Christian statesmen and Ring robbers, whose names are common in Republican caucuses and the records of Congressional investigations. Henc eforth it was held together mainly by the cohesive power of publi c plunder. The professed party of the Union, it resisted the restoration of the states, and imperriled the peace and business of the country by embroiling the sections without reason or excuse. For many years together its accord acy was maintained by a denial of the right of self-government to a large portion of the country, and a substitution of the rule of the bayonnet and the carpet-bugger instead. It was only because it thus had its hands upon the throats of three Southern States that it was able to perpetrate the fraud of 1876, and that Hayes is now exercising the office to which Samuel J. Tilden was elected. But the day is past. Grant himself conceded that the public o pinion of the North would no longer tolerate milita. ry elections or military interference with state governments. The party must answer for its long misrule, for its wanton sectionalism, for years of plunder in the South, for its untold corruptions in Congress and in the executive administ ration, for its protection of robber rings, and for its manifold crimes against the ballot box; above all, for the great fraud of 1876. The Chrcago ticket is a weak one. It is safe to say that if the convention were reassembled to-day Garfield could not get twenty votes for the nomination. From this time to the day of the election the Republicans will be fully occupied in vain attempts to explain away his briberies and perjuries, to say nothing of his personal weakness and his political inconsistencies. The Cincinnati ticket, on the other hand, has grown in popular favor from January of each and every year.

15th. That the delegates from the several boroughs and townships be authorized, in conjunction with the chairman of the county committee to appoint the members of the committee for the various boroughs and townships.

hand, has grown in popular lavor from the hour in which it was put into the field. New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut, the so called doubtful states, upon which the result depends, are, upon a fair vote, Democratic. If the Democrats use their advantages with reasonable prudence they can elect Hancock and English.

VERMONT ELECTION.

The Revised Totals of the Full Vote-The Republican Majority. WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt. September 12.-The following are the revised totals of returns received from 240 towns last night and compared with the vote of 1876: Farnham, republican, 47,806; Phelps, democrat, 21,249; Heath, greenback, 3,498; scattering 18. Farnham's plurality over Phelps, 29,557; majority over all, 25,041. The same towns in 1876 gave Fairbanks, republican, 44.706; Bingham, democrat, 21,009; scattering, 72- Fairbanks' plurality over Bingham, 23,697; majority, 23,625. Increase in the republican majority over 1876, 1,416; republican gain over 1876, 3,100; democratic gain over 1876, 240.

What the country wants, what it needs, is a change. A majority of two hundred and fifty thousand in 1876 recorded the demand for it from the people. The same feeling is alive to day and will speak with greater emphasis on the 2d of November. The opposition have been so long in power that the party is honeycombed with corruption; the men in office have fed and fattened so long upon public pap, that such fellows each claim the right to a key to the public treasury. Teach them a lesson, Put Hancock in, Institute new men and new measures. Give us a new era of union, good feeling, good times, and a sound, economical and constitutional government under Hancock .- Clinton Democrat.
