WHOMAN VOTE.

The next election in Pennsylvania will be held on Tuesday, November 2, 1880. Voters must be assessed two months before the election-that is, on or before September 2. The assessors must be at the election house on Wednesday and Thursday, September 1st and 2nd, from 10 o'clock A. M. to 3 o'clock P. M.

of each day, for the purpose of correcting the list of voters, by adding names thereto or striking them off. The committee men of the respective election districts should attend at the time, the assessor sits to correct the list.

To secure their votes, voters must have paid a state or county tax one month before the election and within the two years immediately preceding the date of one month before the election. The last day for paying tax this year is October 12nd.

Members of Democratic state, county and city committees should see to it that every voter of our party has complied with the law. Failure to pay tax in season deprives the voter of the privilege of voting. An elector can swear in his vote though he be not assessed. But the neglect may cause much trouble.

An Honorable Man.

From the New York Express.

W e are informed, on good authority, that last week a number of rich men waited on General Hancock and told him they would raise a quarter of a million dollars toward the llegitimate expenses of his election if he would Messrs. Murray & Gephart permit them to name the secretary of baving received a majority of votes the treasury should he be elected preseast were declared the nominees of ident.

General Hancock was told that while the republicans were raising and spend ing vast sums of money in this campaign, and it was proposed to raise a million dollars by private subscription to insure the election of Garfield, the democratic committee had no funds to speak of, and is obliged to depend upon | ry is won. the spontaneous enthusiasm of the people for contributions. General Hancock listened to their statement with respect, and courteous. ly replied: "Gentlemen, I must decline your offer. If elected to the Presidency I must take the office unpledged."

That was the proper answer for a patriot. It was the decision of an The next order of business being bonest man. Garfield gave bimself the naming of two delegates to the away for $329, and sold the hand that next State Convention, M. L. Rish. held "the purse strings of the nation" el, of Gregg, A. T. GRANT ON THE SPIRIT PER-VADING THE SOUTH.

The Best Witness in the Repub-Hean Party. Going to and returning from Mexico last winter General Grant made a tour of the Southern states. His arrival in Illinois was emphasised by a speech in which he said: "It may be appropriate on this occasion to refer to my trip through the Southern states and to what I have seen while traveling. I have been gratifled at my reception in all the recently rebellious states. I passed from Philadelphia to Florida on my way to Havana, and on my return came via Texas from Mexico, thus passing through ail the rebellious states, and it will be agreeable to all to know that hospitality was tendered me at every city through which I passed, and accepted in nearly all of them by me. The Union flag floated over us everywhere, and the eyes of the people in those states are as familiar with its colors as yours, and look upon it as guaranteeing to them all the rights and privileges of a free peo-ple, without regard to race, color, or previous condition of servitude. In most of the states, upon the reception committees, side by side, were men that wore blue and men that wore gray, and reception addresses were made in part by those who were the blue and those who wore the gray. We have no reason to doubt that those who were the gray

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18th, 1880. Aside from the fact that Washington Democrats are still rejoicing over the result is Maine, and Republicans are trying to find comfort in the fact that their majority in the state is not reduced more than 15000 in four years there is little to say of politics here. As during every week since the happy selection of Hancock and English at Congressional Committee are all that could be desired. There is entire concurrence in those lately acceived in the belief that Main e's great achievement will aid Democrats every where, especially in the October States-Ohio Indiana and West Virginia. There is pressed that Senator Conkling in his last nights opening speech, confined himself entirely to the bloody shirt and sectional ideas. We all know that the best of Radicals politicians, backed by all the mon ey he wanted, has just gone down never to rise a gain, because he run his campaign in a strongly Republican State on the sam e ideas, and no one feels any doubt that Mr. Conkling will damage his party to even a greater extent. In short. Washington Democrats and the Democratic strang er within ber gates are entirely happy at the general outlook. They know that all that is necessary to be done is to go on as has so far been done, demenstrating to the people that now is the time & P. R. R., and at Priftwood with A. when entire peace, harm ony and good a will can be achieved all o ver the county-a result so much more difficult to bring about when the in evitable "bard times" shall come- and that the victo-

Secretary Schurz has returned from his Western trip, but will go forth again soon to take part in the Campaign. So will Secretary Sherman. So will Post master General Maynard. So will Secretary Evarts. So will most of the Bureau officers not already absent. Secretary Thompson and A ttorney General Devans are away. Mr. Hayes as is known, is absent. Nothing like this was ever known before. Nothing like it, it is believed will ever be known . again. The silly attempt of Mr. Haves to reform the civil service measures, which every sensible man knew were impracticable, has done much more immediate harm than good to the service, and its indirect effect, by convincing many that genuine reform is impossible, will be still more disaster. ous. The open violation by himself and his subordinates of all the rules they had made on the subject, is doing much to injure the party he in some sense represents.

There seems to be confidence here that the Conservative difficulties in Virginia will be arranged in some way before Nov. 2nd, though all efforts of the "leaders" have so far failed. CARROLL.
