HALF! GENERAL GRANT.

(From the New York Truth (Independent))

General Grant makes a great mistake when he presides at political meetings anywhere. By so doing he indorses James A. Garfield and does himself untold injury.

We have held General Grant up to the public as a paragon of honor and virtue; but he nullifies all the good that we and his real friends can say of him, when he tramps through the country indorsing for President a man totally unfit for that high office.

General Grant must be as well acquainted with the facts as we are that Garfield has been stamped by the Republican party and the Republican party press as a bribe taker and perjurer, and General Grant should at least have common decency enough to abstain from traveling over the country indorsing such a man.

Nor should General Grant lose sight of the fact that the honors that may be conferred on him, as America's greatest soldier, will not carry one vote to James A. Garfield, bribe taker and perjurer.

He places himself in a false position.

INDIANA and WEST VIRGINIA ALL RIGHT!

Democratic Majority in Indiana from 3000 to 4000.

HANCOCK THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

From the Daily Patriot.

The election yesterday resulted in the success of the democrats in Indiana and the republicans in Ohio.

The democrats gain congressmen in Indiana, and in Ohio carry republican districts, owing to the republican gerrymander in the latter state there will be a change in the delegation in favor of the republicans.

The republicans gain in the towns in both Ohio and Indiana where the repeaters got in their work, but in the farming districts the democrats make gains.

The result is gratifying to the democracy and assures the success of Hancock in New York and New Jersey.

West Virginia records her verdict also in favor of the democracy. Good enough for one day.

Special to the Patriot.

New York, October 13—1 A. M.—Hon. W. H. English telegraphs here that Landers (democrat) is elected governor by from 3,000 to 4,000 majority.

WEST VIRGINIA.

WHEELING, W. Va., October 13—West Virginia polled a heavy and increased vote. The democratic majority will be large.

Considerable scratching was done. It will be late before definite returns can be obtained.

In White Sulphur Springs precinct, half the vote was polled, 85 for Jackson, democrat, to 80 for Sturgis, republican, for Governor.

OHIO'S OUTLOOK.

Net Democratic Gains Over Foster's Majority.

Special to the Patriot.

COLUMBUS, O., October 12—12:50 A. M.—Scattering returns have been received at midnight from 600 precincts in all sections of the state, which show a net democratic gain of 1,700 over Foster's majority last year.

The indications are that the republican majority is less than 10,000 in the state. It looks as if the republicans had elected both their congressmen in Hamilton county.

Hurd claims his election in the Toledo district and MacMahon is elected in the Dayton district.

Durbin Ward, democrat will probably be beaten in the Third district by a small majority.

The towns generally show republican gains while the country districts come up strong for the democrats.

ALLEN O'MYERS.

REV. DR. FOWLER, whose hobnobbing with politicians has recently gained him such unenviable notoriety, is the official head of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church.

He seems to have laid aside to a more convenient season the work of sending Christ's Gospel of love to the heathen to engage in retailing men's hate to their fellow-men.

His tale-bearing is no exception to the rule of common tattling, that always expands its communications. In this case the tale so gained in malignity that its author felt compelled, even at the expense of a saintly veracity, to correct the eavesdropper's statement.

Surely a man, much less a minister of the Gospel, so greedily to become a channel of detraction and so ready to add venom to scandal, seems an unfit person to send the heathen a Gospel whose charity thinketh no evil.—Times.

'Rah for Civil Service Reform.

From the Sunday Mirror, Rep.

'Rah! for civil service. Hayes' entire Cabinet are stamping for Garfield. The government machine runs itself. The band will please play "The Sweet 32 and-by."

THE JERSEY CAMPAIGN.

What Leading Democrats Say About It—The Outlook.

The following is a short extract from a lengthy article in the Philadelphia Times which lack of space forbids us to give in full:

George C. Ludlow, the Democratic candidate for Governor of New Jersey, Ex-Congressman John T. Bird, Leon Abbott, chairman of the State committee, and Benjamin F. Lee, Clerk of the Supreme Court of that State, left the Girard House on Monday morning for a canvassing trip through the First Congressional district.

They were seen last evening at the Girard House and expressed their views to the campaign cheerfully. The conversation was an entirely chatty and informal one, what one failed to say being supplied by the others.

Linking the various points together, the talk was about as follows:

"As respects the Presidential campaign in New Jersey, it can be safely called a Hancock stampede. All the enthusiasm and zeal seems to be for the General at Governor's Island. His name is cheered a dozen times where Garfield's is applauded once.

Men who go all over the State and are not particularly biased—commercial travelers, for instance—say that the masses are for Hancock and want to work for him."

GEN. WEAVER A TRAITOR TO THE GREENBACK CAUSE AND A DISGUISED REPUBLICAN.

That James B. Weaver, the Greenback candidate for President, is a traitor to the Greenback cause and has been upon the stump in this canvass nothing but a hiring of the Republican National Committee, has long been evident to every man of political intelligence in the country.

No proofs before his public course were needed to establish the fact. Still, the letter of Dr. Lum, the Assistant Secretary of the Greenback National Committee, given in part in our telegraphic columns to day, is interesting. Dr. Lum's evidence and strictures, addressed to the chairman of the committee, Congressman Murch, of Maine, whose defeat Weaver sought to accomplish by his visit to that state before the election there, will open the eyes of such members of the Greenback party as heretofore been deluded by Weaver.

This man Weaver is a native and long time resident of Dayton, O., and a cousin of James A. Garfield. He is a republican disguised as a Greenbacker and nothing else. He has been a Republican officeholder under the state government of Iowa, where he now resides, and was for six years and until the office was abolished Assessor of Internal Revenues for the first district of Iowa under the Republican federal administration.

GARFIELD'S LAMENT.

From the New York World.

This life of mine I'd fain to resign No more to hear 329.

All things combine And still outline My anguish from 329.

If to the brins I do incline The breakers roar 329.

The gentle vine Its leaves entwine In forms that read 329.

Ah! how malign That awful sign Write everywhere, 329.

Woe's me, I pine For Auld-Lang-Syne Before I snatched 329.

This cheek of mine Incarnadine Glows when I hear 329.

Oo! I comrades mine Upon this line I cannot fight 329.

329, 329, Three hundred and still 29.

Nine, brothers, write it nine, Write in on the shutters and write it on the sign.

A great big 3 with a 2 combine, Au a 2 standing straight up before the 9.

A nine behind the 2, and a 3 heads the line.

Nine, brothers, write it nine, Write it on the shutters and write it on the sign.

How Hollow Partisan Issues Have Failed.

From the Springfield Republican, Rep.

Hancock's character came out of the Sherman correspondence untouched; he dismissed the rebel claims with a short letter; Grant's absurd charge that Hancock's official conduct was biased by Presidential ambition is killed by the very source from which it comes.

The alleged falsification of the census proves to have been without basis; the charge that the rebel brigades are hostile to pensions is met by the record of the enormous vote of pension arrears.

AND STILL THEY COME.

The following article we clip from the "Progress" published by John W. Forney, which shows plainly the strong disposition of many of the foremo-

Republicans to rally around Hancock and give him their hearty support in November: More Hancock Republicans.

Among other Hancock republicans I note late arrivals: William A. Reed, chairman of the republican central committee, Sullivan county, New York; Judge Mosser, Shelbyville, Illinois, republican representative in congress from Illinois in 1864, president of the board of education of Illinois, head of the bureau of education in the District of Columbia; Colonel D. W. Magraw, of the One hundred and sixteenth regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers; Hon. E. D. Seldoumridge, Terre Haute, Indiana, secretary of the republican county committee of 1876; Ephram Rodgers, a prominent farmer of Keokuk, Iowa, recent chairman of the republican county committee of Lee county; C. C. Gilman, of Eldora, a leading citizen of northern Iowa, and a life long republican; Judge Alexander White, of Texas, whose Hayes wanted to appoint a federal judge a year or two ago.

The preparations for the campaign in New York open well. Upwards of 72,000 votes were registered in New York on Tuesday, the first day for registration, or 16,000 more than on the first day in 1876.

The democracy of New York are more thoroughly united than in any former year. More democratic clubs are organized than ever before, and the management of the campaign is admirable in all its details.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 9th 1880.

Most Democrats regret now, I think, that either General Hancock or his friends have denied or explained any falsehood the Republicans have invented against him.

Not but what the answer has in every case been complete, but because the record has so promptly furnished a satisfactory answer every time. I know of nothing like the certainty and promptness with which every charge against General Hancock has been met with a record which contradicts it.

In the case of the Sherman correspondence in which our candidate was said by Republicans to have uttered disloyal sentiments in 1876-7, that publication of the correspondence itself was printed and it showed him to be a man not only devoted to his country but one who had clearer ideas of the question then before than the most prominent public man.

So thoroughly honorable were the Generals letters, and so much were they calculated to raise him in public esteem that even the Republican papers which clamored for their publication refused to give them to the public.

So with the last slander, alleged to have been uttered by General Grant, in relation to the Louisiana and Texas command of General Hancock. The record shows that the story is based on events which never occurred.

In this campaign the Republicans have tried to falsify their own record to injure Hancock and English, and have been compelled to do the same thing to defend Garfield and Arthur. Intelligent people will understand what that necessarily means.

Besides the negroes shipped through this city, and the government employes given leave and pay to go, some of the extremely rough classes of Washington Radicals are in Indiana or on their way. Some of the city policemen, also paid by the government, are there.

In short, all that the Federal Capitol through its Radical authorities, can do to make Indiana and Ohio Republican States on Tuesday is being done.

So much interest has been and is still felt in Indiana and Ohio, that comparatively little attention has been paid to other States. The Democracy of New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Maine and other States, however, make regular reports to the Committee here, and uniformly of a favorable character.

Secretary Evarts is here, or was, this morning—but only for a respite from campaign work. No other Cabinet officer is in the city.

CARROLL.

WHO CAN VOTE.

The next election in Pennsylvania will be held on Tuesday, November 2, 1880.

Voters must be assessed two months before the election—that is, on or before September 2.

The assessors must be at the election house on Wednesday and Thursday, September 1st and 2nd, from 10 o'clock A. M. to 3 o'clock P. M. of each day, for the purpose of correcting the list of voters, by adding names thereto or striking them off.

The committee men of the respective election districts should attend at the time the assessor sits to correct the list.

To secure their votes, voters must have paid a state or county tax one month before the election and within the one month immediately preceding the date of one month before the election. The last day for paying tax this year is October 2nd.

Members of Democratic state, county and city committees should see to it that every voter of our party has complied with the law.

Failure to pay tax in season deprives the voter of the privilege of voting. An elector can swear in his vote though he be not assessed. But the neglect may cause much trouble.

STRAY BULL.—Came to the residence of a Henry Bower, near Aaronsburg, on or about September 21st, last, a stray bull, about one year old, black, brown streak on back, white on underpart of body. The owner is requested to pay costs and take the same away, otherwise he will be disposed of as the law directs. JOHN C. MUSSER, Town Clerk, Sept. 30th, 1880.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.—Letters of administration on the estate of Samuel H. Meyer, late of Millheim, deceased, having been granted to the subscriber, all persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate are hereby notified to make immediate payment, and those having claims against the same to present them duly authenticated for settlement.

All persons having unsettled accounts with said decedent are hereby requested to call for settlement at his late residence on Friday, October 22nd next, at 1 o'clock P. M. THOMAS HORTSMAN, Adm'r.
