-Our oyster saloons are in full blast and their illuminated signs throw an inviting light on the passers by. But the poor country editor has to be satisfied with the thought "how good a dish of ovsters would be if he had it," and then he smakes his lips and goes home a-contented man.

Come to the mass meeting next Wednesday and bring as many along as you can.

-Mr John F. Harter, the efficient ader of the Millheim Cornet Band, got a new Silver Pocket Cornet, ne of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral as a cure the old one being entirely worn out. Now Shady, you ought to come out once and let us have some of the very best. It would certainly gratify those, by whose liberality the funds were furnished for the new instrument.

> -Don't fail to be present at the democratic mass meeting in Millheim next Wednesday afternoon to hear the first-class addresses that will be delivered at that occasion.

> CHURCH DEDICATION .- On Nov. 21st, 1880, the newly erected church east of Logansville, Sugar Valley, will be dedicated to the service of the triune God. Bishop T. Bowman, has been engaged and will conduct the services. Preachers and the public are cordially invited to be present on the occasion.

D. P. KLINE,

-J. J. Everett's Bee Hive Dry Goods store in Lock Hayen has opened its immense stock of Dry Goods for the fall trade of 1880. This stock exceeds any former stock ever shown at the Bee Hive or any other store in this section of the state in quality, style and cheapness. J. J. Everett, the proprietor is one of the best business men in the state and employes a first-class set of clerks. Do not neglect to call NOTICE.-Miss M. E. CROWNOV- there when you go to Lock Haven.

> -Next Monday the schools in the borough will commence their winter-3t. term and parents should not neglect to have their children equipped with the necessary books and should see to it, that their attendance is regular and profitable. Especially would we call the attention of the parents to the dangerous consequences of permitting their boys and in many cases their girls from six to fourteen years of age to travel the streets at all hours of the night. Stop it-keep them at home in the family circle and let them employ their spare time usefully. Parents, fathers, mothers use all your influence to break down this fearful evil, that is surely drawing cur boys and girls to certain destruction. Do it and you will find that your boys and girls will be brighter children, better scholars

A GREAT APPLE YEAR.

In 1878, when apples were unusually plentiful, 333,000 barrels full were sent abroad, but it is calculated that this year no less than 500,000 barrels will be shipped to Europe, where the crop is said to be almost an entire failure. This of course gives American shippers an open market, and will result, as has been stated, in the shipment of half a million barrels of fruit. The prices realized in Europe, too, are double what can be obtained here; so that it can readily be understood how important a part the European markets play in the fruit trade. A significant feature of the shipments is the fact that many of them are made from Montreal, where the freight rates are much lower than in New York that money can be saved by sending American apples there to be shipped abroad.

A Duel With Axes.

WELDON, N. C., October 12.-Inforin Northampton county, N. C., a few etc., having perished are constantly redays since. Ransom Harris, aged 14 years, and James Ingram, aged 10 years, both colored, went into the woods together to cut wood. While thus engaged the two boys became involved in a quarrel, during which the younger threw an axe at Harris, but missed his aim. Harris then threw his axe at Ingram, striking him on the head and killing him instantly. Harris was arrested and brought before a Magistrate and sent on for murder.

Joseph Green, an old German, fell from the stone bridge over Limestone creek, in Milton, the other night, and was injured so badly that he died in a short time. The place where he fell over has been considered dangerous for some time, as part of the wall that extends above the roadway is broken down. Before he died Mr. Green detailed how he happened to fall over the wall. He was stopped by a stranger, who inquired the way to the post office.

Joe Magee, a hunter, lives at Stoneham, in the oil region. The other day he went to look for deer. He had killed one, and was strolling along slowly, surprised at hearing something come tearing through the bushes towards him. He had no time to calculate on what was coming, for, before he could See advertisement in another column. raise his gun, a big buck jumped over some bushes and landed not ten feet away from him. The deer then saw the man for the first time, and endeavered to turn his course. In doing so he stumbled and partially fell. Mr. Magee, who is a strong, active man, being too close to the animal to shoot, stabbed the barrel of his gun into his side, just back of his fore legs, and the deer fell dead almost instantly. Magee says he did not expect to kill the animal, and stabbed him with the gun more in self-defense ithan anything more in self-defense than anything else. The rifle barrel, being small, passed through the deer's skin and probably penetrated his heart.

In all towns where a newspaper is published, every person who does a business should advertise in it, even if it is nothing more than a card, stating the name and the business he is fengaged in. It helps to sustain the paper and lets the people at a distance know that the town is full of business people who take a pride in their town, if not in the sentiment of the paper.
