DEFEATED.

The essence of the election news up to Thursday noon is that Garfield is elected by a good majority of electors and popular votes. It may yet turn out that the Democrats will have a majority in the next congress but even this is by no means certain.

The following is the Philadelphia Times' estimate of the result, which may be considered reliable:

Table with 2 columns: FOR GARFIELD and FOR HANCOCK. Lists states and their respective counts.

Table with 2 columns: MAJORITIES and PENN. Lists counties and their respective counts.

Table with 2 columns: MILLHEIM BOROUGH. Lists names and their respective counts.

Table with 2 columns: HAINES. Lists names and their respective counts.

Table with 2 columns: MILES. Lists names and their respective counts.

THE COUNTY.

Most nobly did Old Centre do her duty on election day. Hancock's majority will be about 1000 while the majorities on the balance of the ticket range from 600 to 900. We can not give the official vote this week.

TRUE AS GOLD.

Amid the general corruption of the times, the universal demoralization of parties, Penns Valley—grand, noble old Penns Valley—remains true to herself, true to the principles of the Constitution and the Union.

EX-GOV. CURTIN.

It affords us the most unfeigned pleasure to state that Gov. Curtin is triumphantly elected to congress. His majority will be large, although we can not now give even approximate figures.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines to shed prematurely.

A CALIFORNIA JUDGE ON THE LIQUOR BUSINESS.

—Judge Johnson, in passing sentence on a murderer, said: "Nor shall the place be forgotten in which occurred this shedding of blood. It was in one of the thousand ante-chambers of hell, which mar, like plague spots, the fair faces of our State. You need not be told that I mean a tippling shop, the meeting place of Satan's minions, and the foul cesspool by spontaneous generation, breeds and nurtures all that is loathsome and disgusting, in profanity and babbling, in vulgarity and Sabbath breaking. I would not be the owner of a grocery for the price of the globe converted into precious ore.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 30th, 1880. When this administration took charge of the country, Secretaries Everts and Schurz were selected as special guardians of the civil service reform boom which it was proposed to inaugurate.

It is a tradition among newspaper men here that these two statesmen met, took their wine, smoked, winked at each other, and adjourned sine die. As managers of civil service reform they have had no second meeting. The Secretary of State has kept in service the employees he found on duty when he first went into the State Department building, appointing or recommending, now and then, some one person when another person died.

The Secretary of the Interior has done the same, only he has kept up a show of holding "competitive examinations" for places. These examinations, however have had little if any effect on the personnel of the office.

Ability to write German is and has been for nearly four years a passport for a position under the Secretary.

So far as the official duties of Secretary Everts are concerned, I suppose he might as well have lived on his Vermont farm during his term of service as in the city. The country would do just as well without a Secretary of State, and without Foreign Ministers. So the numerous and prolonged absences of the Secretary have done no harm. With the other figure head of reform the case is different. The position of Secretary of the Interior furnishes work for not only one but several men of first class ability. The Interior Department is an aggregation of Departments. The Pension, Patents, and Indiana Bureaus, if their work were to be supervised, would each furnish employment for Mr. Schurz. To say nothing of his own frequent and flagrant absences from his post, his last one, I might say his present one—shows him to be not only an insincere "civil service reformer" but a man regardless of pledges and who cares little for the performance of duties for which he draws pay. It may be that we have escaped war with the Utes, though that is not yet by any means certain, but if we have, our escape is due to the gentlemen performing the duties of Secretary of the Interior lately, and not to the Secretary himself.

Messrs. Everts and Schurz have not been the greatest offenders among the Cabinet officers of Mr. Hayes. I mention them only because they were selected to give the administration a character for "reform." Each of the Secretaries is now consenting to a fraud by which hundreds of government employees are absent from the city, with regular pay, for such indefinite space of time as the employees may think necessary, in the interest of General Garfield. If General Hancock shall be elected on Tuesday next he ought to form two resolutions. First, not to take any professional "reformers" into his Cabinet, and second, to see that the civil service of the government is thoroughly reformed.

AN ENGRAVING EQUALLY APPROPRIATE AND BEAUTIFUL

has been issued by "Peterson's Magazine" for 1881, to reward persons for getting up clubs. The plate is quite large, 24 inches by 20, and would ornament even the most refined parlor; for it is executed in the highest style of art; and is such a mezzotint as is sold, at retail, for five dollars. It is entitled, "GRANDFATHER TELLS OF YORKTOWN." It represents a veteran of '76, in his old age, with his little grand daughter between his knees, to whom he is rehearsing the story of the surrender of Cornwallis. The room is an old-fashioned one, such as elderly people remember fifty years ago, and in the embrasure of the window sits the mother of the little girl, also listening. As 1881 will witness the celebration of the Surrender at Yorktown, the premium, as we have already said, is particularly appropriate. You can get it, gratis, by getting up a club for "Peterson's." Only the enormous circulation of the magazine can explain why the proprietors can afford to give such premiums. "Peterson's" is the best and cheapest of the lady's books, the price being but two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs. Specimens of the Magazine, to assist in getting up clubs, are sent, gratis, if written for. Now is the time to get up clubs for 1881.
